- (1) The occulting light every ten seconds established in an iron framework tower, 68 feet high, erected on the head of a coral pier on the northern side of the entrance to the harbour, situated at a distance of 410 yards S. 63° E. from the White tomb, shows the following sectors:—red from the bearing of S. 8° W., through west, to N. 85° W. over Wingate reef, white in the fairway from N. 85° W. to N. 55° W., and red over Towartit reef from N. 55° W., through north, to N. 82° E.

Vessels are recommended to pass to the eastward of it where a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms will be found.

Approximate position, Dong tranh light, lat. $10^{\circ} 23'$ N., long. $106^{\circ} 52\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

CAPE ST. JAMES. A survey of Ramis bank shows that the least depth over it is $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, but it extends to the westward as far as the line of the Cocoanut bay leading lights on which there is a depth of $5\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms.

A shoal, with a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it at low-water, is situated at a distance of $8\frac{1}{10}$ miles S. 47° W. from cape St. James light-house, but the $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms patch shown on the chart 2 cables to the westward of this position does not exist. This shoal extends to the westward as far as the line of the Cocoanut leading lights, there being a depth of $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms on that line at a distance of $8\frac{1}{10}$ miles from the pier head light.

Depths of 2 fathoms and $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms exist at distances of $8\frac{1}{10}$ miles S. 53° W. and $9\frac{1}{2}$ miles S. 69° W., respectively, from cape St. James light-house, these depths respectively are on the south-eastern and north-western extremities of the shoal shown on the chart. There is a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms at $7\frac{1}{2}$ cables to the westward of the 2 fathoms head on the south-eastern extremity of this shoal. On this shoal the least depth is $1\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms situated at a distance of 9 miles S. 66° W. from cape St. James light-house. There is also another head on this shoal of $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms situated at a distance of $8\frac{1}{10}$ miles S. 61° W. from the light-house.

GANH RAI BAY. In Kua Kangio, northward of Kangio red light, in the fairway between it and the village, the depth has shoaled to 4 fathoms at low water. Vessels of heavy draught should not therefore attempt this passage at low water.

CAPE ST. JAMES TO CAPE TI WAN. The least depth on Formosa bank is $1\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms at low-water springs, situated on the western edge of the bank, at a distance of $11\frac{1}{10}$ cables S. 48° E. from cape St. James light-house.

The least depth on the $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms patch shown on the chart about $5\frac{1}{2}$ miles south-eastward from cape St. James is $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, which is situated at a distance of $5\frac{1}{10}$ miles S. 72° E. from cape St. James light-house. This shoal, as delineated by the 5 fathoms contour, extends about 4 cables in an easterly direction, and 11 cables in a N. 76° W. direction from the $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms patch, and is about 2 cables broad.

PERNAMBUCO ROCK. This rock was found and is correctly placed on the charts, but a shoal, with a least depth of $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it, exists at a distance of $6\frac{1}{2}$ cables N. 62° W. from the rock. This shoal extends in an easterly and westerly direction.

Approximate position, cape St. James light-house, lat. $10^{\circ} 19\frac{1}{2}'$ N., long. $107^{\circ} 5'$ E.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain was general almost all over the Province. The fall was light in Birbhum, Hooghly, Nadia and Saran, and heavy in Bankura, Midnapore, Gaya, Shahabad, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Cuttack, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Manbhumi and Cooch Bihar. In other districts it was moderate. The recent rain has been very beneficial to standing crops in Bihar. Rain is still wanted in several districts for the transplantation of winter paddy, which is reported to have suffered in parts of Burdwan and Murshidabad. The cutting and steeping of jute still continue. The harvesting of other bhaderi crops has commenced in some districts. Damage has been caused by floods and excessive rain in Midnapore, the 24-Parganas, Shahabad, Monghyr, Cuttack, Ranchi and Palamau. High floods are also reported from Balasore and Puri. The extent of damage done in these two districts is not yet known. Sugarcane is doing well. Relief operations in Darbhanga have been stopped from the 31st August last. Cattle-disease exists in eight districts. The supply of fodder and water is sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in five and fallen in eleven districts.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

MAGRAHAT DRAINAGE SCHEME.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked :—

(a) When was the work in connection with the Magrahat Drainage Scheme started in the sub-division of Diamond Harbour? Is there any time specified for the completion of the work?

(b) What progress has been made in the work?

(c) Having regard to the importance of the work, both from agricultural and sanitary point of view, does not the Government think that the work should be expedited and completed as soon as possible and practicable?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied :—

“(a) The work in connection with the Magrahat Drainage Scheme was commenced in November, 1904. The answer to the second part of the question is in the negative.

“(b) About one-third of the work has been completed to end of June, 1907.

“(c) The Government recognize the importance of the work, which is being pushed on as quickly as practicable. Pending its completion, satisfactory arrangements have been made to utilize the portion of the work already constructed.”

HIGH PRICE OF RICE.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked :—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the alarmingly high price of rice prevailing in the country? How long, in the opinion of the Government, is the present high price likely to continue?

(b) What damage has been done by the last cyclone and consequent flood to the agricultural outturn of the country, both as regards the jute and paddy cultivation, in each district under the Local Government?

If there is a likelihood of a further rise in the price of rice, as is apprehended, does not the Government consider it necessary to take timely steps so that the poor may not die of starvation?

(c) Is the stock of rice and paddy in the province sufficient to meet the demand till the next harvest is reaped? If not, what steps does the Government intend to take to fill up the deficit in the supply?

(d) Having regard to the high price of rice and its tendency to increase, and to the distress it has already entailed upon the salaried Bhadra lok class, will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of raising the rate of grain compensation allowance now paid to the poorly-paid Government servants, and to extend it to all Government servants drawing Rs. 50 or less per mensem?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied :—

“(a) The Hon'ble Member's attention is invited to the answer to a question on the same subject given by the Hon'ble Mr. Carlyle at the Council Meeting held on the 23rd March, 1907; and to the discussions which took place in connection with the Financial Statement for 1907-08. Further inquiries have since been made regarding the high prices prevailing, and a report has been received from the Director of Agriculture, a copy of which is laid upon the table. It is difficult to say how long the present high prices are likely to continue. There are already some signs of their weakening; and if the season continues to be favourable, it is hoped that a considerable decline will soon occur.

“(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Weekly Weather and Crop Reports which are published in the Calcutta Gazette. Comparatively little damage was caused by the cyclone and consequent flood mentioned in the question. The present agricultural prospects are generally favourable, but somewhat serious floods have just been reported from Cuttack.

“(c) The reports received from District Officers go to show that stocks are sufficient to last till the next harvest.

“(d) It is not considered desirable at present either to raise the rate of the grain compensation allowances or to extend the concession to all Government servants drawing Rs. 50 or less a month.”

NOTE ON THE PRESENT HIGH PRICES OF FOOD-GRAINS AND POSSIBLE CAUSES THEREFOR.

THE annexed Statement I shows the average price, in seers per rupee, of common rice, wheat and maize in this Province during the past seven years.

2. Statement II shows the average price of the same food-grains on the 15th of last month as compared with the prices reckoned hitherto as normal for the Province, showing in each case the percentage of increase over the normal price.

3. It will be observed from Statement I that while the average prices varied little from the normal during the six years 1900 to 1905 (inclusive), they suddenly rose in 1906 in a very remarkable manner, this rise becoming accentuated during the current year, till on the 15th of last month the average price of rice (taking this Province as a whole) was 58 per cent. above the previous normal, the price of wheat 26 per cent., and the price of maize 70 per cent. above that normal.

4. This extraordinary rise in the prices of food-grains cannot be ascribed to any single cause. It has not been confined to this Province. Prices have risen all over India; and the rapidity of the rise has attracted attention in other Provinces as well as this. While, then certain reasons may be suggested as having tended to raise prices in this Province, other causes may have operated in other Provinces leading to a similar rise; and with the present facilities of intercommunication between all parts of the country, a general rise of prices in other Provinces must inevitably lead to a corresponding rise in this Province. In this note I propose to discuss the conditions obtaining in this Province that have probably helped towards bringing about this marked increase in the prices of food-grains.

5. The annexed Statement III gives for this Province the normal area cultivated with rice, wheat and maize, the normal rate of yield hitherto adopted, the normal yield, and the area cultivated, percentage of outturn and estimated yield in each of the years 1904-05, 1905-06 and 1906-07. Taking this Province alone, during the three years 1904-05, 1905-06 and 1906-07 there has been a total deficit of 188,148,100 cwt., or 25,60,90,469 maunds in respect of the three crops referred to, or nearly two-thirds of a normal year's produce of the three crops together. It will be observed also from this statement that rice is by far the most important food-crop in this Province. The area under rice, moreover, in the Province forms a large part of the total area under this crop in India. In the case of wheat, the area cultivated in this Province is comparatively small, and the price of wheat over India generally is, therefore, little affected by the conditions in Bengal. Maize also is of very minor importance in this Province. It is chiefly grown in the Bihar districts, where it has during the last two years suffered to an abnormal extent from floods, the produce of the two years 1905-06 and 1906-07 together being estimated as less than the normal produce of a single year. In these districts maize is an important food-staple for several months of the year, and the extraordinary shortage of supply and rise in price would naturally affect the price of rice also. This is evidenced by the large increase in the imports of rice into the Bihar "block." But the great food-staple of this Province is rice, and it may be said to be the only food-staple in respect of which a review of the conditions in this Province alone can be expected to lead to any conclusions of importance. In the case of other food-staples, it would be necessary, before any reliable conclusions could be drawn, to know the conditions that have prevailed in other Provinces, and to collect statistics and information from all parts of India, which it is not possible for me to do. My remarks will necessarily, therefore, be confined chiefly to rice.

6. Statement IV shows the outturn of total rice (autumn, winter and summer) in the two Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam in 1905 and in 1906, as compared with the normal outturn. This statement shows a deficit for the two years of 27,07,04,040 maunds as compared with the normal outturn. In considering all these figures, however, it must be clearly understood that they were merely estimates: and frequently such estimates are very inaccurate. In order to realize better how very difficult it is to make an accurate estimate of the outturn of crops where the greater portion thereof is consumed by the people themselves locally, and there is no means of checking the estimate by comparison with trade figures (as there is, for instance, in the case of indigo and jute), I would mention that in 1908 a memorandum was drawn up in the Department of Land Records on the subject of the production and consumption of food-grains in Bengal. The result of the elaborate calculations then made was that the total outturn of all food-grains and pulses in the old Province of Bengal amounted to about 21,377,000 tons, or 58,19,29,444 maunds. The figures for the normal produce of all kinds of rice hitherto accepted show an outturn of 57,57,49,864 maunds for the two Provinces, leaving only 61,79,580 maunds for all other food-grains and pulses. Comparing these figures, it is evident that either the normal outturn of all food-grains and pulses has been under-estimated, or that the normal outturn of rice has been over-estimated. Again, taking the ten years, 1895-96 to 1904-05, I find on adding up the figures for outturn of rice (including paddy converted into rice at the rate of 25 seers of rice to 1 maund of paddy) that the average estimated actual outturn of rice per annum in the two Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam comes to 44,44,95,314 maunds, as compared with 57,57,49,864 maunds, the figure accepted hitherto as the normal outturn per annum for the two Provinces combined. If the latter figure be adopted as the normal outturn of rice, we would get a gross normal outturn in ten years of 5,75,74,98,640 maunds. Taking the figures of actual outturn as estimated each year, we get a gross actual outturn during the ten years of 4,44,49,53,140 maunds. That is to say, these figures would indicate that during the period of ten years (1895-96 to 1904-05) there was a gross total deficit (as compared with the normal) of 1,31,25,45,500 maunds of rice. This latter figure is more than 2½ times the estimated normal outturn of all food-grains in the old Province! In the same memorandum referred to above, the total ordinary consumption of food-grains in the old Province of Bengal was estimated to be 54,70,30,555 maunds. Thus the total deficit in the outturn of rice during the ten year period quoted ~~amounted to nearly 2½~~ amount to nearly 2½ times the total ordinary annual consumption of food-grains and pulses in the old Province. I may mention that the estimate of consumption included the consumption for human food, for seed and for cattle food, with a large allowance for wastage. Manifestly these figures are unreliable. However, the figures showing the estimated outturn, year by year, are, at all events, of some comparative value, and it will be seen that they indicate a very large deficiency in the outturn of rice during the past two years.

7. Resorting next to the figures of import and export, so far as they are available, I find that the average total annual imports of rice (and paddy converted into rice) for the ten year period 1895-96 to 1904-05, inclusive, amounted to 13,645,989 cwts.; and that the average annual total exports amounted to 22,888,433 cwts. The excess of exports over the imports of rice thus amounted on the average to 9,242,444 cwts, or 1,25,79,993 maunds per annum. These figures are for the old Province of Bengal before partition and also for the Calcutta port. They include the traffic by rail, by river, coast-wise and foreign.

8. In 1906-07 the imports of rice (including paddy converted into rice) by rail and river into Calcutta amounted to 1,19,28,679 maunds; the imports into the rest of this Province amounted to 41,69,710 maunds. During the same period, the exports from Calcutta by rail and river of rice (including paddy converted into rice) amounted to 79,61,838 maunds, and the exports from the rest of this Province amounted to 1,29,36,967 maunds. Thus, so far as rail and river-borne traffic is concerned, the exports slightly exceeded the imports. Prima facie these figures would seem to indicate that the stock of rice in this Province was more than sufficient for the consumption of the people; but, on the other hand, it must be remembered that the very high prices obtainable for rice may have induced the people to export it and purchase cheaper food-grains.

9. Looking to the Maritime Trade of the Province, I find that during the year 1906-07, 4,040,935 cwts. of rice were exported, as compared with 8,185,155 cwts. in 1905-06 and an average of 6,206,844 cwts. during the five years 1900 to 1905. On the other hand, about 6½ million cwts. of rice were imported in 1906-07, most of which appears to have come from Burma. The total exports of rice (including paddy converted into rice) from this Province to the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam by rail and river during 1906-07, as far as figures can be obtained, seem to have been 70,57,911 maunds; while the total imports of rice into this Province from Eastern Bengal and Assam would seem to have been 15,17,452 maunds, showing an excess of 55,40,459 maunds in favour of exports. Adding to these the figures for sea-borne trade, the excess of exports of rice from this Province to Eastern Bengal and Assam over imports from Eastern Bengal and Assam into this Province during 1906-07 was 55,54,846 maunds.

10. It has been asked more than once whether the prevailing high prices are due in any way to excessive exports of food-grains. I find from the most recent returns of the Maritime Trade of this Province that while the total exports of food-grains and flour have decreased from an average annual value of 534 lakhs of rupees during the five years 1900 to 1905 to 313 lakhs of rupees in 1906-07, the value of the imports of grain and pulse by coasting trade only rose from 32 lakhs of rupees in 1905-06 to 341 lakhs of rupees in 1906-07. This very remarkable increase in imports in 1906-07 is due almost wholly to imports of rice from Burma.

11. Taking the figures for the whole of India recently published by the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, it will be seen that the total exports of rice abroad during the year 1906-07 amounted to 38,704,000 cwts. as compared with 43,037,000 cwts. in 1905-06 and an average of 47,324,000 cwts. during the three years 1902-03 to 1904-05. Not only did the exports of rice from the whole of India decrease, but the exports of wheat, of food-grains other than rice and wheat and of provisions also fell considerably in 1906-07. These facts show conclusively that the rise in prices is not due to increased exports.

12. Another set of figures which I have been able to obtain from the office of the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence shows that the total imports of rice and paddy (converted into rice) into the Calcutta block by all routes during the year 1906-07 was 2,01,85,819 maunds as compared with 1,78,07,359 maunds in 1905-06, and 1,53,34,225, maunds in 1904-05, while the exports amounted to 1,50,01,855 maunds in 1906-07 as compared with 1,53,17,323 maunds in 1905-06 and 1,28,91,041 maunds in 1904-05 (vide Statement V appended).

13. Statement VI appended shows the imports of all food-grains into the old Province of Bengal as it stood before partition by all routes during the years 1901-02 to 1905-06 and the imports into the present Province of Bengal during the year 1906-07. Unfortunately the figures in respect of Eastern Bengal and Assam for the latter year are not yet available.

14. The figures showing the imports of rice from Burma into Bengal and into Eastern Bengal and Assam during the year 1906-07 are, however, available. They show that 5,530,816 cwts. were imported during 1906-07 into Bengal, as compared with 273,299 cwts. in 1905-06, and 4,780,119 cwts. were imported into Eastern Bengal and Assam in 1906-07, as compared with 531,097 in 1905-06; or a total of 10,310,935 cwts. were imported into the two Provinces as compared with 804,396 cwts. in the previous year. The trade statistics show that most of the rice imported into this Province from Burma was re-exported to Eastern Bengal and Assam, i.e., merely passed through Calcutta. The increased imports from Burma amounted in quantity to 9,506,539 cwts., and in value to Rs. 4,41,69,858.

15. Statement VIII shows the trade in rice between the different trade-blocks of the Province during the past five years: the figures up to 1905-06 refer to the old Province (before partition); the figures for 1906-07 refer to the present Province of Bengal. It will be observed from this statement that considerable change in the movements of rice has taken place during the past two years, more especially in 1906-07, the most marked feature being the sudden increase in exports from the Western Bengal and Orissa "blocks" and the large increase in imports last year into the Eastern Bengal and Bihar "blocks." The figures corroborate generally the local estimates of the outturn of the paddy crops. It will be noticed that while Chota Nagpur generally imports rice, in 1906-07 it exported much more than it imported. Local enquiries show that where exports exceeded imports, the rice was sent either to Calcutta, or to Eastern Bengal and Assam districts by more direct routes. Owing to a succession of bad harvests, Bihar had to import rice from Bengal as well as other food-grains from the United Provinces and the Panjab.

16. It has also been asserted in certain quarters that the rise in prices is due to the reduction in the area cultivated with rice, in consequence of the increase in the area cultivated with jute. The figures in Statement VII appended will show how little foundation there is for this assertion. Although the total area under jute in the two Provinces has increased during the past six years by more than one million acres, there has been no corresponding decrease in the area under rice. In fact, the tendency during the same six years has on the whole, so far as the returns show, been for the area under rice to increase. The figures for rice for the last year of the period were somewhat exceptional, and were due to an unfavourable season, to want of rain at sowing time and to floods later on. There is, moreover, I may mention, evidence to show that the practice of growing winter paddy after jute on the same land is slowly gaining ground.

17. There is one matter, however, in connection with the cultivation of jute that calls for special attention, that is the remarkable rise in the prices paid for the produce of last year's crop as compared with the prices paid in previous years. Statement IX shows for the last three years the estimated area under jute, the estimated outturn, the estimated average wholesale price at Calcutta and the estimated value of the produce according to these rates. The figures of value must of course be regarded as only approximately correct. They would go to show that the total value at Calcutta of the produce of jute cultivation rose from Rs. 20,09,38,412 in 1904-05 to Rs. 26,88,07,770 in 1905-06 and to Rs. 41,31,35,843 in 1906-07. The Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, in his review of the Trade of India in 1906-07, makes the following remarks in this connection:—

"A careful estimate of the sums paid to cultivators for jute in the different districts shows the total farm value to have been some forty crores of rupees, of which about fifteen and-a-half crores were clear profit. And a marked rise in the selling price of one form of produce induces a rise in the prices of all crops for which it can be readily substituted. Whereas Bengal, together with Eastern Bengal and Assam, imported rice to a value exceeding that of the previous year by Rs. 441.7 lakhs, they together exported raw jute exceeding the previous year's record by Rs. 968.9 lakhs."

18. These figures alone are, in my opinion, sufficient to account in a very large measure for a general rise in the prices of food-grains so far as this Province and the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam are concerned. The unusual access of ready cash must have enabled all connected with the cultivation of jute to raise their standard of living, to purchase more food and to pay higher prices for it. The area under jute in this Province last year was only about 23 per cent. of the total area under jute in the two Provinces. All the most important jute-growing districts have been transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam. It would be very interesting to see whether the principal jute-growing districts in that Province had taken the largest part of the imports of rice, as might be expected from the ready money at the disposal of the cultivators therein; but the figures of imports and exports for each district of that Province are not available to me. I have drawn up a statement showing the imports and exports of food-grains in respect of the chief jute-growing districts in this Province. No very definite conclusions can be drawn from the figures therein, but it will be noticed that, with the exception of the district of Murshidabad, in all the districts in which more than 20,000 acres were under jute last year, the imports of food-grains were largely in excess of the exports (vide Statement X).

19. The Director of Agriculture, Eastern Bengal and Assam, in a note of which he has sent me a copy, suggests that the principal causes that have affected the price of rice in 1906 and the current year in that Province may be placed in order of importance as follows:—

- (1) The partial failure of the winter rice crop of 1905-06 which reduced the total outturn to about two-thirds of the normal, equivalent to a deficiency of $5\frac{1}{2}$ crores of maunds, which was followed by
- (2) a similar partial failure of the autumn crop of 1906, equivalent to a further deficiency of $1\frac{1}{4}$ th crores of maunds (estimating $9\frac{1}{2}$ maunds of rice as the normal outturn per acre).
- (3) The large profits obtained by the cultivators from jute.
- (4) The dislike for Burma rice.

20. I have consulted all the District Officers in this Province on the subject. The consensus of opinion thus obtained indicates that the following causes have combined to raise prices in this Province:—

- (1) The short outturn of the harvests of the past two years.
- (2) Large exports to Eastern Bengal and Assam direct and to Calcutta.
- (3) The large profits made by the cultivation of jute.
- (4) A general rise in the standard of living among the people.

21. It has been suggested that the result has to some extent been brought about by a spread of combination among the grain dealers all over the country. Of this it is, as will be readily understood, difficult to obtain any direct evidence. But many District Officers suspect that such combination has influenced the market to some extent. In this connection a reference is invited to the figures in Statement V, which show that a much larger quantity of rice has been held up in Calcutta during the past year, as compared with previous years. There can be little doubt, I think, that the greatly increased facilities in communication by rail enable the big dealers and merchants to control a larger proportion of the grain trade of the country. My own experience in the mufassal has been that much of the grain trade that used to be carried on locally between the actual cultivators, middlemen and the grain dealers in the local mufassal bazars, and used not to go beyond these parties, has now come under the control of large capitalists at more important centres. Instances have come to my notice of agents of such capitalists and of Calcutta firms penetrating into rural tracts where they were unheard of ten or twenty years ago, and buying up surplus stocks of grain before even the dealers in the nearest towns could make a bid. The influence, moreover, of large transactions in grain must necessarily now spread further and more rapidly than before. Modern conditions, in fact, tend more and more to form a world-wide market to expose the grain markets of this country to international influences; and this phase of the economic development of this country has no doubt largely contributed to a general rise in the prices of food-grains. These considerations seem to lead to the conclusion that the rise must to some degree be permanent. Other causes may be more or less temporary in their operation.

22. Conclusions.—So far as this Province is concerned, I am of opinion that the following causes have tended, or are tending, to raise the price of food-grains:—

- (1) The poor outturn of the harvests of food-grains during the last three years, more especially of the rice harvests; and in particular the very large deficit in the produce of rice in the districts of Eastern Bengal and Assam in 1905-06 and in 1906-07. The result of this deficiency in the staple food-grain of the people, combined with the fact that the buying power of a large proportion of that people had enormously increased for the reason stated under head (2) below, was that an unprecedented demand arose for rice, that prices went up accordingly, and that large quantities of rice were exported from this Province to Eastern Bengal and Assam. The exceptionally high prices, further, induced those who had stores of rice in this Province to sell whatever they could, keeping only the minimum required to carry them on till the next harvest.
- (2) The rapid rise in the price of jute of late years, especially the extraordinarily high prices paid for the crop of 1906. It has been estimated that at least 40 crores of rupees were paid for jute into the two Provinces, of which 15½ crores were clear profit. I believe it to be possible that the profits were even larger than this estimate. The consequences of this access of ready cash must have been felt in more directions than one. It must have enabled all who shared it to raise their standard of living, to purchase more of the food they relished most, (e.g. rice and fish), and to pay more for such food. It must also have enabled them to retain stocks of rice that would otherwise have come on to the open market, and this withholding of stocks would also tend to keep up prices. These conclusions are in my opinion strongly corroborated by the fact shown in the note by the Director of Agriculture, Eastern Bengal and Assam, already referred to, that the demand in that Province was chiefly for rice of better quality, and that a "dislike for Burma rice" was manifested. Throughout the price for Burma rice continued to be low, and yet it is believed that a fairly large proportion of the stock imported remained in the hands of the dealers. In fact, Mr. Hart writes:—"Had it not been for the profits from jute cultivation there would have been an overwhelming demand for the cheapest kind of rice, and the country would have been flooded with Burma grain."
- (3) A general rise in the standard of living all over the Province, of which there is abundant evidence in many directions, for instance, in dress, in the adoption of what would in the case of the ordinary peasant in former days have been called luxuries, such as smoking, the general use of umbrellas and of shoes, travelling short distances by rail instead of walking, etc., etc. There is also evidence to show that the habit of eating rice instead of coarser grains is also extending. In many rural tracts of Bihar and Chota Nagpur the lowest classes seldom had a meal of rice, but what with migration to the tea districts and the mills in Lower Bengal, and with the advent of railways and the spread of intercommunication between all parts of the Province, even these classes are known to be taking to eating rice. No doubt, the operation of this cause has been more gradual, extending over many years.

- (4) The wider influence of the large grain merchants, and the opening up of the rural markets of this country to the world's market, in consequence of rapidly increasing facilities of communication. It is possible that the same cause had led to greater combination among the big grain dealers.
- (5) Contemporary conditions in other Provinces that have helped to bring about a general rise in the prices of food-grains all over India.
- (6) It is possible, too, that the result may, in the case of the New Province, be due in some degree to the consequence of the so-called Swadeshi movement and the political agitation being carried on. I think, however, that this cause has not operated to any appreciable extent in this Province.

23. Whether over-minting of coinage has in any way contributed to the present state of prices I am not in a position to offer an opinion.

CASE OF GOBIND RUTH.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

Is it a fact that one Gobind Ruth of the Banki Government Estate in Orissa memorialized Government in November last accusing the tahsildar of that estate of bribery, as Judicial and Executive Officer, and various other acts of alleged oppression?

Is it a fact that the said Gobind Ruth submitted a petition to Government in May last in which he makes the following allegations:—

(a) that all documentary evidence bearing on the charges against the tahsildar was forcibly seized and removed from his (the petitioner's) house by the Collector's Sheristadar before any inquiry was held;

(b) that the witnesses who deposed against the tahsildar were maltreated by the Police and oppressed by the tahsildar, being made to walk through villages with their faces painted black and white, dunce caps over their heads and tom-tom playing before them;

(c) that the petitioner, when he went to the Collector, was arrested and kept in hajat for three days, although the bail demanded from him was forthwith offered;

(d) that the prosecutions under section 182, Indian Penal Code, were instituted against him at the instance of the Collector, both of which were quashed by the Hon'ble High Court?

Is it a fact that, subsequent to the High Court's order, another prosecution under section 182, Indian Penal Code, has been instituted against him on the same facts?

Has Government made, or does it propose to make, any inquiries into the allegations against the Tahsildar and the conduct of the Collector, as complained of? If inquiries have been made, will the Government kindly state what is the result of the inquiries?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"It will be convenient if I answer together the four questions of the Hon'ble Member, regarding Gobind Ruth's case. Gobind Ruth submitted a memorial accusing the tahsildar of the Banki Government Estate of bribery. The memorial was sent to the Commissioner for investigation. A judicial inquiry was held by the District Magistrate, who found the allegations to be false and directed Gobind Ruth to be prosecuted under section 182, Indian Penal Code. The High Court were moved, with the result that the proceedings were quashed, on the ground that that section was not applicable. The tahsildar has now obtained permission to prosecute Gobind Ruth for libel. A second petition has been received from Gobind Ruth and sent to the Commissioner for inquiry."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

Is the Collector the same officer who was removed from Puri in connection with certain highhanded proceedings against the Raja of Puri?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"The Collector was Mr. Garrett, who was Collector of Puri at the time of the incident referred to."

JUDGMENTS IN CERTAIN MUNICIPAL CASES.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked :—

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the judgments of the Criminal Revisional Bench of the High Court in—

(a) Chuni Lal Dutt versus Corporation of Calcutta (reported in the Calcutta Weekly Notes, Vol. XI, Nos. 1 and 2), in which the Municipal Magistrate, after having imposed a fine of Rs. 40, passed an order for the demolition of a room in a building for "having slightly altered the position of a wall in the construction of the room" on a mere "arbitrary exercise of discretion," as observed by their Lordships (Mitra and Holmwood, J.J.), who, in setting aside the order, also said :— "There is nothing in the decision of the Magistrate to indicate that he judicially considered any grounds for the exercise of the discretion vested in him by the law," and "we have no hesitation in pronouncing that the order is erroneous."

(b) Abinash Ch. Ganguly versus Corporation of Calcutta, in which the Magistrate inflicted a daily fine upon the owner of the bustee land in 82 and 83, Ripon Street, for failure to make certain bustee improvements in the said premises though the land had ceased to be a bustee land at the time of the conviction, as held by their Lordships (Mitra and Fletcher, J.J.), who set aside the sentence.

Do not the judgments tend to show that for more satisfactory administration of justice in Municipal cases and to secure the confidence of the public in it, the Municipal Magistrate should be appointed on a higher salary from the class of trained lawyers, who are better fitted to discharge the duties of a judicial officer than the members of the Executive Service, much of whose time is spent in Executive work and most of whose experience is confined to the Mufassal; and will the Government be pleased to give this important matter its best consideration?

The Hon'ble Mr. STREATFIELD replied :—

"The Government has noticed the two cases referred to in the first question, and they have not produced the impression indicated in the second question of the Hon'ble Member."

SALARIES OF MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked :—

In regard to the salaries of ministerial officers, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to observe at the last Budget debate that the Government was awaiting the reply of the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court, whom it had consulted on the report of the Committee; will the Government kindly state whether the opinion of the Hon'ble High Court has been received on the subject? If not, when does the Government expect to receive it, and when will the final order on the subject be issued?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied :—

"The opinion of the High Court has been received and has been submitted to the Government of India with the recommendations of this Government."

SUPPLY OF FILTERED WATER IN GAYA.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHARJI asked :—

Considering the frequent recurrence of plague of a virulent type and of other epidemics in the town of Gaya, which is an important centre of Hindu pilgrimage, will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken for the supply of pure water to the town? Is any scheme for the supply of filtered or pure water to the town under consideration? If so, when is it likely to be given effect to? Is any sum raised by public subscription for the above purpose now in deposit? If so, what is the amount so held?

Does the Government consider the present system of road-watering and cleaning the town adequate? If not, what steps have the local authorities taken, or are taking, for providing a better drainage and conservancy for the town and for watering its roads?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied:—

"(a) A scheme of water-supply has been approved by Government. A copy of the Government order is laid on the table for the information of the Hon'ble Member..

"(b) Government has no special information about the system of road-watering and conservancy. But it is understood that a drainage scheme is about to be prepared."

UNDETECTED MURDER IN PANDOO.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHARJI asked:—

Is the Government aware that the murder last year of a Kainya in Pandoo, in the district of Palamau, has remained undetected, and that this year also four persons were found dead in the jungles of that place with gunshot wounds on their bodies? Will the Government be pleased to state what has been done by the local authorities to detect the murderers? Has Government any information as to how these four murders this year were caused? Will the Government be pleased to place early on the table all the information it has on the subject?

The Hon'ble Mr. GART replied:—

"The local officers have received no report either of the murder of a Kainya in Pandoo last year or of the four gunshot murders alleged to have occurred there this year. It is almost certain that information would have been received had the murders really occurred, but further inquiries will be made if the Hon'ble Member will give us the source of his information."

MEMORIAL FOR TRANSFERRING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL BUSINESS OF PALAMAU.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHARJI asked:—

Is the Government aware that since 1902 certain memorialists of Palamau and Gaya districts, headed by Babu Prakash Chandra Sarkar, Zamindar of Gaya and Talukdar of Palamau, have been memorializing the Government and the Lord Chief Justice of Bengal for placing the Civil and Criminal business of the district of Palamau under Gaya district and under the Divisional Commissioner of Patna, on the ground of convenience to the public and saving of expenditure to the Government, as shown in the memorials, which were also noticed by the local papers of Calcutta and Patna? In view of a proposal to constitute two Commissionerships in the Patna Division as it exists at present, will the Government be pleased to take into consideration the recommendations of the Acting Chief Justice of Bengal and of Mr. R. R. Pope, the late Judicial Commissioner of Ranchi, in that respect, as also to consider on general grounds the advisability of placing the Civil and Criminal business of the district of Palamau under the District and Sessions Judge of Gaya?

Will the Government be pleased to state what has been done in the above matter since 1903, when Government was questioned on the subject by the Hon'ble Dr. Ashutosh Mukherjee?

The Hon'ble Mr. STREATFIELD replied:—

"The Government has from time to time received memorials from Babu Prakash Chandra Sarkar and others in favour of placing the Civil and Criminal business of the Palamau district under the Judge of Gaya instead of the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur. The Lieutenant-Governor has considered this proposal in all its bearings, and has come to the conclusion that the change suggested would not on the whole be for the benefit of the people of the Palamau district.

"The circumstances are practically unaltered since Government replied to a question on the subject in 1903 by the Hon'ble Dr. Ashutosh Mukherjee."

SALARY COMMISSION'S REPORT.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to say whether the opinion of the High Court on the Salary Commission's Report has been received and whether it is now in a position to pass final orders on the matter?

[The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said :—"This question has already been answered."]

PENSION RULES OF PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Has the Government come to any final decision about the relaxing of the Pension Rules of the Provincial Judicial Service to which its attention was drawn by questions asked in this Council before?

The Hon'ble Mr. STREATFEILD replied :—

"The question referred to is still under the consideration of the Government of India."

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the great and beneficent measure which will have far-reaching results announced in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th August last of instituting technical degrees in mechanical engineering, electrical engineering and mining, on the lines of European Universities, is incomplete without degrees in industrial chemistry, including tinctural chemistry, which was included in the scheme framed by the Committee appointed by the Government for the purpose of preparing a scheme for technical education? Will the Government be pleased to mention the reason of the omission?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to say whether it is prepared to confirm what was stated by the Director of Public Instruction in his letter to me, dated the 6th of April, 1907, which was published in the newspapers with his permission that the instruction for the degrees mentioned above in the classes of the Sibpur Engineering College would be, so far as the conditions of this country admit, on a par with instruction imparted in similar classes in Europe?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to say whether it intends to take any measures for the teaching of ceramics?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to say what steps it intends to take about the teaching of the rearing of silk-worms, and reeling, weaving and dyeing of silk?

The Hon'ble Mr. STREATFEILD replied :—

"(a) A scheme has been submitted to the Government of India for the opening of classes at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, in technological chemistry and in dyeing and the chemistry of dyeing, and is still under consideration.

"(b) It is proposed that the instruction imparted in these classes shall be on a par with that imparted in Europe as far as local conditions permit.

"(c) On the teaching of ceramics, Government is not yet prepared to make a pronouncement.

"(d) The question of rearing of silk-worms and reeling, weaving and dyeing of silk is under the consideration of the Director of Agriculture."

SILTING UP OF THE RIVER GORAI.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Has the Government received an application from the inhabitants of the sub-division of Kushtia proposing certain measures about preventing the silting up of the river Gorai, and will the Government be pleased to make an inquiry into their feasibility?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"Applications have been received from the inhabitants of Kushtia sub-division asking that some steps may be taken to improve the channel of the Gorai river at its offtake from the Ganges. The matter has been carefully inquired into, and the petitioners have been informed that it is not practicable to do anything to improve the present conditions."

DREDGING OF THE ATHARABANKA.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

With reference to a question put by me on 12th January last in the Council, the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal informed me, by a letter dated the 4th of April, 1907, that when the channel through the Madaripur bil had been dredged, it would probably be necessary to do some dredging also in the Atharabanka. Will the Government be pleased to say what has been done in the matter and by what time the work may be taken up?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"The dredger which is to be used for deepening the channel through the Madaripur bil has not yet been completed. It is expected that she will commence dredging in November next. Efforts will be made to preserve the same depth of water in the Atharabanka as in the channel through the bil, and the dredger will be used there when necessary. The Atharabanka does not at present need dredging, as very little silt was deposited last year."

DRAINAGE SCHEME OF JESSORE.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to say what progress has been made about making the scheme for the drainage of the district of Jessore, which, I was informed in answer to a question put by me on a previous occasion, was in course of preparation by a Committee appointed for the purpose? By what time any decision on the matter may be expected and when it is probable action may be taken?

The Hon'ble MR. McINTOSH replied:—

"Notifications were issued last May under the Sanitary Drainage Act appointing Drainage Commissioners. The Commissioners have not submitted their preliminary scheme and estimate yet. They will be asked to expedite it."

PROPOSED TRANSFER OF KALIGANJ THANA.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Has the Government received a representation by some of the inhabitants of thana Kaliganj protesting against the transfer of that thana from the Sadar sub-division of Jessore to the sub-division of Jhenida? Will the Government be pleased to consider the reasons given by the petitioners against the change?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"The representation referred to by the Hon'ble Member has been received. The reasons urged by the petitioners against the change were considered by Government before the orders for the transfer of the thana were passed.

"The orders were passed after consulting the Commissioner and Collector and the Inspector-General of Police as to executive work and the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court as to judicial work, and after considering all the opinions available."

DARJEELING MURDER CASE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

The Government was pleased in answer to a question put by the Hon'ble Mr. J. Chaudhuri at the meeting of the Council held on the 18th August, 1906, to state that its attention had been drawn to the judgment of the High Court in the Darjeeling murder case and the comments therein on the conduct of the Police in connection with the case, and that full consideration would be given to the matter with a view to the issue of such orders as might appear to be advisable :—

- (i) Will the Government be pleased to state what action has been taken by the Government in the matter ?
- (ii) Has the Government noticed (a) that the confession of Gumandhoz, wood-cutter, acquitted by the Sessions Judge, was taken at 2 A.M. at the house of the District Superintendent of Police, the man being handcuffed and held by two constables with a rope round his waist ; (b) that Bhim Doyal, the police officer, was described both by the Sessions Judge and the High Court as "unscrupulous ;" (c) that prosecution witnesses were kept either in hajat or in jail ?
- (iii) Has the Government been able to find out under whose orders the blood-stained articles were destroyed before the investigation was made over to the unscrupulous Bhim Doyal ?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"1. A careful inquiry was made into all the circumstances of the case and a full report was submitted to the Government of India.

"2. (a) After the finding of the kukri in Gumandhoz's house, he and Pancho were taken to Darjeeling. A statement made by Pancho was recorded by the Deputy Commissioner at the District Superintendent's house at about 1 A.M. on the 20th, and subsequently a statement made by Gumandhoz was recorded. Gumandhoz was held by two constables while he made his statement. He seems to have been handcuffed and to have had a rope round his waist, but the District Superintendent and Inspector Bhim Doyal were not present at the time. Mr. Garrett, in his evidence before the committing Magistrate, said that he considered that the confession of Gumandhoz had been voluntarily made, and that Gumandhoz showed no signs of speaking otherwise than voluntarily. On this point the evidence of Ulfat Hussain, Mr. Garrett's peshkar, may also be referred to. It may be that Mr. Garrett would have been better advised if he had waited till the morning before recording these statements and had dispensed with the presence of the constables in charge of Gumandhoz. On the other hand, any delay would have involved the two men being longer in the custody of the police before their statements were recorded, and as regards Gumandhoz being guarded by constables, it must be remembered he was under suspicion of having committed a violent crime.

"(b) The Sessions Judge used the expression 'injudicious' in regard to certain proceedings of Inspector Bhim Doyal. He did not call him unscrupulous, and nowhere in his judgment did he arrive at the conclusion that the police had in fact been guilty of malpractices. On the other hand, he said he did not believe the allegation that Gurmandhoz was maltreated. The High Court described Bhim Doyal as unscrupulous; but it must be remembered that he was not on his trial, and that he had no opportunity of rebutting the accusations made against him by the Counsel for the accused. There is nothing on the record which would justify a positive finding that the police were guilty of discreditable action. The case was a very serious one, and the Inspector acted throughout under the close personal supervision of the Deputy Commissioner and the Superintendent of Police, with whose full knowledge and approval every step in the inquiry which he conducted appears to have been taken. In the opinion of Government, after careful inquiry, the Inspector is free from all blame.

"(c) The detention of one witness (Panche) in custody was due to an order of the Deputy Commissioner. According to his own statement he was almost, if not quite, an accomplice. He made no complaint of ill-usage or of being forced to say anything which he did not wish to say. The arrest of another witness (Manilal) was due to the fact that having been an occupant of Dharam Singh's house on the night of the murder, he was at first regarded as a possible abettor. The Deputy Commissioner himself was responsible for his detention. A third witness (Jangi) says he was detained at the thana for eight days, but this is denied by the police and the statement is uncorroborated.

"3. It was under the Deputy Commissioner's orders that the druggets and other blood-stained articles in Mr. Goss's bed-room were burned. He passed this order on his arrival at the scene of the murder on the 19th February, 1906, because they smelled. This was an unfortunate and ill-advised step, but no suspicion can attach to it."

BLOCK OF PROMOTION IN PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Is it not the fact that owing to the policy followed since the partition of retaining in the Provincial Executive Service of Bengal a large proportion of European and Eurasian officers, and of native officers of the province, nearly one-third the number of such officers from their relative places in the grades have been transferred from each grade to Eastern Bengal and Assam, and there has consequently been a depreciation in the reasonable expectations of promotion amongst officers remaining in Bengal? If so, will the Government please consider the propriety of bettering their prospects of promotion, similarly as the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam are doing with respect to the Assistant District Superintendents of Police serving in that province?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"The principle followed at the Partition was to transfer to Eastern Bengal and Assam a proportionate number of appointments in each grade of the Provincial Service. In practice, however, it was not found possible in all cases to transfer from each grade a number of officers equal to the number of appointments transferred. Officers preferred to remain in this province even though they lost promotion by so doing. The result, at the separation of the cadres in February, 1906, was a slight temporary dislocation of promotion and a certain inequality in favour of officers in Eastern Bengal and Assam. But, when the increase in the cadre of Deputy Collectors was sanctioned, with effect from April, 1906, a large number of promotions was made which more than compensated for any loss caused by the separation of the cadres."

ADDITIONS TO CADRE OF PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Was it not the removal of the existing block in promotion one of the objects in making additions to the cadre of the Provincial Executive Service, and will the Government please make a statement showing how far the appointments, since made, have served to remove the block in promotion, especially in the first four grades?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"The Hon'ble Member's attention is drawn to the Hon'ble Mr. Carlyle's reply of 12th January, 1907, to a question by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose. It was not one of the objects of Government in making additions to the cadre of the Provincial Executive Service in 1906 to remove the alleged block in promotion. The extra appointments were distributed amongst the various grades according to the scale adopted in 1901."

PROMOTIONS IN PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

(a) With reference to the Press communiqué made by the Government on the 30th January last relating to promotions in the Provincial Executive Service, notified in the Calcutta Gazette of that date, will the Government be pleased to make public its reasons for selecting officers for promotion to the vacancies caused by the increase in the cadre in the first four grades, "by a more rigorous method of selection than is usually made"?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is aware that this system of promotion differs from that adopted by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in filling up such vacancies in these grades of their service?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"(a) As stated in the Press communiqué, no member of the service had a right to be promoted to vacancies caused by the increase in the cadre. It was thus possible to reward officers of special merit without interfering with the legitimate expectations of promotion entertained by other members of the service.

"(b) The answer is in the negative."

APPOINTMENT OF EUROPEAN AND EURASIAN OFFICERS IN PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

With reference to the Hon'ble Mr. Carlyle's reply to the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose's question in this Council meeting of the 12th of January last and of his reply to the question put by myself on the same subject in this Council meeting of the 23rd March last, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the appointments recently made (1) of European and (2) of Eurasian officers in each of the several grades of the Provincial Executive Service, on the grounds respectively of (a) "exceptional merit" and (b) of "special qualifications" required in strengthening the service, first in filling up the existing vacancies and secondly in filling vacancies caused by additions to the cadre?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"Excluding probationers, seven Europeans and Eurasians were appointed last year to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service, vis., five European officers to the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, respectively, and two Eurasian officers to the seventh and eighth grades respectively.

"The officers appointed in the fourth to the seventh grades were selected on the ground of special qualifications. They already held appointments carrying a rate of pay which made it necessary to place them in the grades mentioned above. The officers appointed in the eighth grade were promoted from Sub-Deputy Collectorships on the ground of exceptional merit.

"All these appointments were made to fill vacancies caused by the increase of the cadre."

PROMOTION BY SPECIAL SELECTION OF MERIT.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

Is the Government aware that the rules of 1893 (subsequently extended to apply to all branches of the Provincial Civil Service) relative to promotion to grades above Rs. 400 in the Provincial Executive Service, by special selection of merit without regard to seniority alone, were not made to apply retrospectively, and therefore ought not to apply to officers appointed before 1893, especially to such as entered under the existing rules of competition?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"It was the recognized practice even before 1893 to appoint to the higher grades only officers 'of special merit and ability.' The rules of 1893 were intended to apply to all officers then in the service."

APPOINTMENT TO HIGHER GRADES IN PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state how the appointment of European and Eurasian officers from outside directly to the higher grades of the Provincial Executive Service is likely to strengthen the service; and will it lay on the table a statement showing the number of such officers employed during the last 20 years in (1) the Judicial branch of the Provincial Service and (2) in the difficult Executive and Revenue branches of the Executive Service, namely, the Excise, the Income-tax, the Batwara, the Treasury, the Settlements, Land Acquisition, Khas-mahals and Wards?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"The appointment of several Europeans and Eurasians from outside directly to the higher grades of the Provincial Executive Service strengthened the service because the persons appointed had already shown their capacity for work in other responsible appointments. As explained in reply to another question, it was necessary to offer them a higher salary than that of the lowest grade in order to induce them to join the service. The collection of the information asked for in the second part of the question would require an expenditure of time and trouble for which the results obtained would apparently not compensate; and Government does not consider it necessary to collect it."

RESTRICTIONS TO EMPLOYMENT IN PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

Will the Government, in conformity with its declared policy, take steps to restrict in future the more extended employment in the Provincial Executive Service of Europeans and Eurasians, especially those who are not domiciled in this country?

The Hon'ble Mr. GAIT replied :—

"Government has no intention of increasing the proportion of Europeans and Eurasians employed in the Provincial Service. As far as possible, new appointments of Europeans will be made from amongst those who are domiciled in India."

FLOGGING OF SUSIL KUMAR SEN.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

(a) Has the attention of Government been called to the order of Mr. Kingsford, the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta, sentencing Susil Kumar Sen, a boy of respectable parentage of the age of 15 years, for having assaulted a European policeman?

(b) Has the attention of Government been called to the circumstance that the Pleader for the accused applied to the Magistrate to direct that the sentence should be carried out in Court in the way of school discipline, and that the Magistrate refused to do so, and ordered the boy to be whipped in jail, where whipping is administered on the bare buttocks by placing the accused on the triangle?

(c) Has the attention of Government been called to the fact that the Pleader for the accused wanted to place the Circular of the High Court before the Magistrate if he would give him a minute's time, and that the Magistrate refused to grant this time, and left the Court.

(d) Has the attention of Government been called to the fact that the Circular was immediately after taken by the Pleader to the Magistrate's chambers and shown to him, but the Magistrate refused to be guided by the Circular or to comply therewith?

(e) Is the Government aware that the order passed by the Chief Presidency Magistrate and the mode of its execution have created a deep and widespread feeling of resentment?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to consider the effect on the public mind of such a sentence inflicted upon a young lad of respectable parentage, having regard to the present state of feeling in the country and to issue instructions as to the mode in which a sentence of whipping is to be administered to young lads of respectable parentage?

The Hon'ble Mr. STREATFIELD replied:—

"The attention of Government was called to the newspaper reports of this case on which the Hon'ble Member seems to have based his question. Inquiry has shown that these reports are inaccurate in several important details which are included in the question.

"The order of the Magistrate was passed in his judicial capacity in the exercise of a discretion which he has under the rules, and on his exercise of which in individual cases it is undesirable that the Executive Government should express an opinion.

"There is no necessity for the issue of any general instructions; as the orders of Government included by the High Court in its Rules on the subject, are quite clear and adequate."

THE CALCUTTA PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1907.

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE moved that the Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, be taken into consideration by the Council. He said:—

"It is needless, I think, to make any remarks on the details of the Bill, as they are given fully in the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 2.

The Hon'ble Mr. SLACKE also moved that after clause 2 of the Bill the following be inserted:—

"3. For sub-section (1) of section 20 of the said Act, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

'20. (1) All debentures which are issued under the authority of this Act shall be in such form as the Commissioners, with the previous consent of the Governor General in Council, shall from time to time determine.

Form and transferability of debentures.

(2) The holder of any debenture in any form duly authorized under this section may obtain in exchange therefor, upon such terms as the Commissioners shall from time to time determine, a debenture in any other form so authorized.

(3) Every debenture issued by the Commissioners shall be transferable in such manner as shall be therein expressed."

"and the existing sub-section (2) shall be re-numbered sub-section (4)."

He said :—"My reason for asking that this amendment may be inserted in the Bill is that the necessity exists of enabling the Port Trust to demand other markets than the local markets, the present form of Debenture not being suitable for the home market. The provisions of the proposed new sub-section are the same as those contained in the Bombay Port Trust Act of 1879, with this difference that the sanction here to be obtained is that of the Governor General in Council; whereas in the Bombay Port Trust Act it is the Local Government. I trust this proposal may commend itself to Hon'ble Members of this Council."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 5.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that after the present clause 5 of the Bill, the following clause be inserted :—

"In sub-section (1) of section 91 of the said Act, for the word 'Third' the word 'Second' shall be substituted."

He said :—"This is merely a consequential amendment following what has already been approved by the Council."

The motion was put and agreed to.

Clause 8.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that for clause 8 of the Bill the following be substituted :—

"The Second Schedule to the said Act is hereby repealed, and the existing 'Third Schedule' shall be re-numbered 'Second Schedule.'"

He said :—"This is also a mere consequential amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the numbering of the clauses of the Bill be altered in accordance with the foregoing changes.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE also moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1907:

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Calcutta and Suburban Police Acts of 1866.

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT moved that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration. He said :—

"Your Honour—The object of the Bill was explained by me at the time of its introduction, and it is unnecessary to repeat what I then said. As regards the general principle, there has been no dissentient voice. It has been approved of by all sections and classes. The only adverse criticisms which were received regarding the actual provisions of the Bill refer to matters of detail, and chiefly to the powers which it is proposed to confer on the Commissioner of Police and his subordinates. These criticisms were carefully considered by the Select Committee; and several clauses of the Bill have been modified accordingly. I need not take up the time of Council by explaining these modifications, as the reasons for them have been given in the Select Committee's Report."

"Most of our critics, however, take their stand on the ground that the Bill does not go far enough. It has been urged, for instance, that solicitation should be made a cognizable offence. Section 68B of the Calcutta Police Act, and section 41A of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, which were inserted by the Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Act, 1895, make the offence punishable on complaint of the person solicited or of two or more inhabitants or passers by. A reference to the Proceedings of the Council held on the 23rd March, 1895, at which those sections were considered and passed, will show that the question whether the offence of solicitation should be made cognizable was most carefully considered; and it was decided that it would not be safe to entrust to the Police the power of making arrests of their own motion. It was pointed out that section 253 of the British Public Health Act, 1878, only allowed arrest on the complaint of the person aggrieved, and that the same principle is the recognized law of other countries also. The Select Committee have adhered to the opinion then expressed that it would be most unwise to give the Police the power to arrest otherwise than on complaint.

"It was proposed by more than one public body that provisions should be inserted in the Act to enable the Commissioner of Police to deal with the White Slave Traffic and the rescue and protection of children. The Select Committee considered, however, that these subjects were foreign to the scope of the Bill. Moreover, they could not be dealt with in it without a fresh reference to the Government of India and the Secretary of State. This would have caused a most undesirable delay in passing the Bill into law.

"Since the Report of the Select Committee was drawn up memorials have been received by the Lieutenant-Governor from the Society for the Protection of Children in India, from the Calcutta Missionary Conference and from the Women's Temperance Union, urging the absolute necessity of taking steps to provide for the rescue of children of tender age from brothels and houses of ill-fame. These memorials will receive the full and sympathetic consideration from this Government which they demand. The memorialists may rest assured that they will not be neglected. The subject with which they deal cannot, however, be taken up in connection with this Bill.

"With regard to the drafting of the Bill, it will be seen that, in clause 2, the new sections to be inserted have no numbers. The reason of this is, that the numbering will be different in the two Acts in which the sections are to be inserted. After this Bill is passed, the new sections will be numbered 43, 43A, 43B, etc., in the edition to be published of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, showing the changes made by the present measure, and 17, 17A, 17B, etc., in the like edition of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

Section 2.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE moved that in section 2, sub-clause A, for the words "that the order should have been passed against some person other than himself" the words "the order should not have been passed against him" be substituted. He said:—

"I am conscious of the fact that the provisions of the Bill are, on the whole, beneficent, and for them we ought to be thankful to the Government. But when strict laws are made, there ought to be some safeguards against oppression. The power of adjudicating houses to be disorderly houses is not vested in the Police in England, but in the Magistrate, for the reason that it would place a bad but poor and weak and helpless class of persons at the mercy of the Police. In Calcutta, we are going to give the Police that power. I would not object to that, though it is going further than England. But what I propose is, that the person against whom the order is made shall have the right of showing that the order of the Police was wrong, taking the burden of proof on himself or herself.

"The Bengal Chamber of Commerce have submitted the following considerations on the matter to the Council. They say:—'The new section 43B vests a Magistrate with power to punish persons who have not complied with the orders passed by the Commissioner of Police under sections 43 and 43A. If this provision be allowed to stand as it is drafted, a person cannot escape punishment by a Magistrate for disobedience of an order passed by the Commissioner of Police unless he can satisfactorily prove that the order in question ought to have been made against some person other than himself. That is to say, he cannot prove himself to be innocent, except he can prove some one else to be guilty. The evils with which the Bill proposes to deal are of such a peculiar character as to call for a drastic and summary remedy. But nevertheless, it seems to be quite possible that the Commissioner of Police might make a mistake in passing a particular order at all, and not merely in passing it against a particular person. The Committee acknowledge that such mistakes are unlikely, having regard to the class of cases in question. But all the same they may occur and the Committee think they should be so provided against that it should be open to a person charged with the breach of an order not only to show that the orders should not have been made against him, but that it should, in effect, never have been made at all either against him or any other person.'

"The Calcutta Trades Association say:—'It is not considered desirable to require a person charged under the law as it will be amended when the Bill is passed to establish the guilt of a third person in order that he may avoid punishment. It is submitted that in this direction the amended law would not afford adequate protection to a perfectly respectable woman living by herself, if she happened to be falsely or by mistake charged with keeping a house for use as a place of assignation. It would be most inequitable to require such a person to prove the guilt of a third party in order to obtain for herself the protection to which the law should entitle her.'

"The British Indian Association oppose it altogether.

"I have quoted the opinion of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association as embodying the most important of the reasons against the proposed law. The Select Committee have made no substantial alteration. It is practically as it was before. It may be said that when the order has been made you may show that the house is not used in the manner complained of. But the section says that the person proceeded against must show that the order should have been passed against another. I know of no provision of any law in the Indian or the English Statute Book in which such an absurd proposition is laid down that a person must prove the guilt of another before he can establish his innocence. It is against all principles of law, and should, in any case, be omitted."

"I have already mentioned to you why I agree with the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, and most of the Public bodies consulted on the matter that the person against whom an order is made by the Police should have at least the right to show before a Magistrate that it was wrongly made. I certainly do not wish to give any opportunities to the class of persons against whom the provisions of the law are directed, to escape punishment. But weak, poor, helpless women should not be placed entirely at the mercy of the Police. It is said that it would be sufficient if the non-user of a house for immoral purposes be established. But what protection is there to a respectable woman living alone as the Trades Association points out, being branded as a public woman or a procuress by an order which can never be shown to be wrong? Protect the morals of the people. But before you cast out helpless women, and allow them to be stoned, you should allow them a judicial trial at least."

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHARJI said:—"I should like, with Your Honour's permission, to offer a few remarks in connection with this section. I was not a Member of the Select Committee, but I have tried to go through very carefully the wording of this section. It will be for Hon'ble Members to consider whether what was intended by the Select Committee has been carried out by the words used in this section. It was admitted by the Select Committee that the plaintiff or complainant must prove his case, and in order to shorten the procedure, it was laid down that that order should not be questioned. To my mind, I think, without any detriment to public safety or convenience, we may take it to be an Executive order, but when we come to the next question of punishment for disobedience or contempt, then it has been stated in the Report of the Select Committee that the plaintiff or complainant must prove his case, and the ordinary procedure in the trial of a criminal case should be followed; but it seems to me that the use of certain words has confused that idea to some extent.

"If we allow that if any person, against whom any order has been passed by the Commissioner of Police, under sub-section (2) of the preceding section uses the house, room, etc., in a manner which contravenes such order after the period stated therein, it implies that two things have to be proved: first, that a certain person has been doing certain things, and in the second place that a house or room or a place has been used in a certain manner which is condemned by the preceding section. If we say that the complainant must prove all these things, what is the use of saying that unless he is able to prove to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the order should have been passed against some person other than himself? That conveys a complete idea that the prosecution has established their case and he or she must be punished. We will introduce a very serious confusion by introducing the words 'unless he is able to prove to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the order should have been passed against some person other than himself.' How it will be interpreted by the Courts trying cases it is difficult for us to foresee, but at any rate we can say that the Reports of Select Committees have been held by the Calcutta High Court not to be considered in interpreting a section. Other High Courts have differently held, but so far as our High Court is concerned, that is the interpretation so far as I know. So that I think it will be best for all concerned, if there is an authoritative decision given by the Council on this point, that is to say, that the ordinary procedure laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure is to be adopted in such cases.

"As I have said the difficulty has been introduced by the words 'unless he is able to prove to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the order should have been passed against some person other than himself.' For the above reasons, I beg to support my hon'ble friend's amendment, but in a qualified form and for the reason that these words would mitigate the severity of its operation; but I still think it will not go far enough so long as the words are retained at all, and if they are struck out as the second amendment proposes, I think the difficulty might be removed. The two things appear to me to militate against each other: either it means that the prosecution has been relieved of its duty of proving a case, or it means something which is very difficult to understand. Then again it means that he has to prove that the offence was committed by somebody else and not by him. It seems to me that the wording of this section is not clear.

"With Your Honour's permission I would suggest that for the word 'uses' the words 'proved to have used' might remove or mitigate to some extent the difficulty. The difficulty to my mind is intensified by the fact that the whole tenor of this Bill is to shorten the procedure as it has been laid down in the present Police Acts, and Magistrates working under that impression might think it means something extraordinary that the ordinary procedure laid is not to be followed, inasmuch as we find that when the Commissioner of Police receives information that 'any house,' etc., he is entitled to proceed on mere information. A Magistrate may think that the mere statement of the fact that he has used the house in a particular way is quite enough to start proceedings against him, and the best way to exculpate himself is by proving that somebody else is responsible and not he; so that it seems to me to be an altogether undesirable state of things, and of the two amendments standing in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose, the second amendment appeals to me more strongly than the first amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT said:—"I am prepared to accept the second amendment, except that the omission should start from the words 'unless he is able,' etc., but I cannot accept the hon'ble member's first amendment. Before a person can be convicted under sub-clause A, as it stands in the Bill, it will be necessary to prove that he has used the house as a brothel after the issue of an order that it should not be so used.

"If this is proved, I can see no reason why the accused should be allowed to take shelter behind the plea that, although the house has been used as a brothel since the order was passed, the order ought not to have been passed because it had not been so used previously. I think it is quite sufficient that the house has been used as a brothel after the date of the order."

The motion was put and lost.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE also moved that if the above amendment be lost, in section 2, sub-clause A, the words "that the order should have been passed against some person other than himself" be omitted.

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT said he accepted the amendment, if the words "unless he is able to prove to the satisfaction of the Magistrate" were added to the words proposed to be omitted.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE agreed.

The motion was put in the form proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Gait and carried.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE also moved that section 2, sub-clause C, be omitted. He said:—

"The power to prohibit music and singing which is proposed to be given to the Police may lead to unnecessary oppression and annoyance. It will do no good to anybody. We have lived so long in comfort with all the disturbances which are proposed to be removed, and the urgency of the necessity of legislation certainly does not exist. Calcutta is less noisy now as regards music and singing than it was 20 years ago. There have, however, arisen another class of noises of which we had no idea before. The noise of the tramcars is certainly a greater disturbance to the residents of a street through which they pass than the sound of any occasional music or singing. Why then legislate against the latter?"

"There is another and more serious consideration. During the last 3 or 4 months we have read reports of three cases in three districts of official highhandedness in prohibiting the sound, I believe, of conch shell, sankirtan and gramophone. Only two or three days ago we read that an order, under section 144, was made against the scion of a noble and ancient house because the sound of his gramophone was disagreeable to his neighbour, a Civil Surgeon. I cannot shut my eyes to the fact that there are many Anglo-Indians, some of them very good men too, who do not find it easy to treat with ordinary courtesy and forbearance, Indians however high-born or learned they may be. All Indian music is a nuisance to European ears, even English musical instruments played by Indian neighbours, I find are invariably regarded as nuisances."

"In Calcutta town, in the European quarter of Chowringhee, to my knowledge there have been several cases of disagreement on this score between Europeans and their Indian neighbours. Now I am afraid Indian gentlemen and noblemen if they reside in the neighbourhood of Europeans, may be unnecessarily annoyed and hauled up before the Police, and swell the ranks of the disaffected."

"I cannot support a measure which will be a cause of annoyance to the people, and add to the disaffection in the country for no earthly good. The Police in England do not possess the power which they are going to have in India. In India, all experimental legislation is allowable. But this measure, I am afraid, will lead to very undesirable results. I cannot, therefore, support it."

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT said:—"I cannot accept this amendment on behalf of Government. The matter was fully considered in the Select Committee, and we agreed then that the provision was a desirable one. As a matter of fact, it has been inserted very largely in order to help the people of the northern part of the town, where the inconvenience is the greatest on account of the noise which is made at night by coolies and other low castes who live in that neighbourhood."

The motion was put and lost.

The Hon'ble MR. GAIR said:—Your Honour:—"Before making the last motion which stands against my name in the List of Business, with your permission, I beg leave to move a further amendment of the two Acts affected by this Bill.

"The Commissioner of Police has represented that, as the law at present stands, a police-officer is not allowed to arrest a drunk and disorderly person if the latter's name is known to him or can be ascertained. I would refer the hon'ble members to the wording of section 72 of the Calcutta Act and of section 43 of the Suburban Act. The offence of being drunk and disorderly is committed most often by habitual drunkards or bad characters, whose names are well known to the Police. Unless persons of this class can be arrested when they are drunk and disorderly, it is impossible to keep order in the public streets. I regret that my attention was called to this defect in the Acts too late to allow of the amendment I now propose being considered by the Select Committee or circulated in the List of Business; but I am sure that this Council will agree with me that it is very desirable and will support me."

"I beg with your permission, Sir, to move that in section 72 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, after the words "in his view" the words "an offence described in section 68; and may so arrest any person committing in his view," be inserted, and that a similar amendment be made in section 43 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, the figures '41' being substituted for the figures '68.'

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHARJI said:—"I have not had time to consider the effect of the amendment, but reading the letter of the Commissioner of Police, it seems to me that what is wanted is that this Council should legislate that a drunken and disorderly person should be taken into custody under certain circumstances, but section 68 refers to other matters as well, so that if the whole was included, perhaps we might be going beyond what was contemplated by the Commissioner of Police. I would ask hon'ble members to consider whether it would not be better to confine ourselves to what the Commissioner of Police actually wants, and in the drafting introduce only those words, that is to say, which are in the letter itself 'found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself.' If that suggestion commends itself to hon'ble members, I think it would be better than adopting words of which we cannot arrive at any definite conception at the present moment."

The Hon'ble MR. GAIR said:—"I am unable to accept the suggestion of the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukharji. The Commissioner in the wished to omit the last clause altogether, but we objected. The impression might think that the thing should not be done without full ordinary procedure laid is not to the proposal was narrowed down to the one now put. The Commissioner of Police offences described under section 68 are offences which the Police proceed on able to deal with summarily. The Police in the mufassal have wider powers of arrest, and the Police here will have the same powers under the amendment now proposed."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"We have had very short notice of the amendment, and I think some confusion may arise in interpreting it; but in view of the explanation given by the Hon'ble Mr. Gair, I will not press my objection."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"I understand from the Secretary that the amendment is intended to apply in the case of persons who are known as old offenders, and whose names and whereabouts are known to the Police. These old offenders, under this section as it at present stands, cannot be arrested, because their whereabouts are known, but in the case of a first offender, he may be arrested; so that the amendment practically removes what at present is an anomaly in the Act and, therefore, I think it may be accepted."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT moved ~~that~~ the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

A narrow sandy shoal upon which there are depths of from 3 to 3½ fathoms at low-water springs has formed in the entrance to the Soirap river; it is situated between the bearings of N. 2° W., through north, and N. 27° E. of Dong tranh light-house. Vessels are recommended to pass to the eastward of it where a depth of 3½ fathoms will be found.

Approximate position, Dong tranh light, lat. 10° 23' N., long. 106° 52½' E.

CAPE ST. JAMES. A survey of Ranza bank shows that the least depth over it is 4½ fathoms, but it extends to the westward as far as the line of the Coccoanut bay leading lights on which there is a depth of 5½ fathoms.

A shoal, with a depth of 3½ fathoms over it at low-water, is situated at a distance of 3½ miles S. 47° W. from cape St. James light-house, but the 2½ fathoms patch shown on the chart 2 cables to the westward of this position does not exist. This shoal extends to the westward as far as the line of the Coccoanut leading lights, there being a depth of 4½ fathoms on that line at a distance of 3½ miles from the pier head light.

Depths of 2 fathoms and 2½ fathoms exist at distances of 8½ miles S. 53° W. and 9½ miles S. 69° W., respectively, from cape St. James light-house, these depths respectively are on the south-eastern and north-western extremities of the shoal shown on the chart. There is a depth of 2½ fathoms at 7½ cables to the westward of the 2 fathoms head on the south-eastern extremity of this shoal. On this shoal the least depth is 1½ fathoms situated at a distance of 9 miles S. 66° W. from cape St. James light-house. There is also another head on this shoal of 2½ fathoms situated at a distance of 8½ miles S. 61° W. from the light-house.

GANH RAI BAY. In Kua Kangio, northward of Kangio red light, in the fairway between it and the village, the depth has shoaled to 4 fathoms at low water. Vessels of heavy draught should not therefore attempt this passage at low water.

CAPE ST. JAMES TO CAPE TI WAN. The least depth on Formosa bank is 1½ fathoms at low-water springs, situated on the western edge of the bank, at a distance of 11½ cables S. 48° E. from cape St. James light-house.

The least depth on the 4½ fathoms patch shown on the chart about 5½ miles south-eastward from cape St. James is 4½ fathoms, which is situated at a distance of 5½ miles S. 72° E. from cape St. James light-house. This shoal, as delineated by the 5 fathoms contour, extends about 4 cables in an easterly direction, and 11 cables in a N. 75° W. direction from the 4½ fathoms patch, and is about 2 cables broad.

PERNAMBUCO ROCK. This rock was found and is correctly placed on the charts, but a shoal, with a least depth of 4½ fathoms over it, exists at a distance of 6½ cables N. 62° W. from the rock. This shoal extends in an easterly and westerly direction.

Approximate position, cape St. James light-house, lat. 10° 19½' N., long. 107° 5' E.

REA —

Letter No. 3473, dated the 31st July 1907, from the Port Officer, Calcutta, submitting the Annual Report of his Department for the year 1906-07.

At the close of the year there were 50 qualified Pilots on the strength, being one more than the number in the previous year. Two casualties occurred during the year under review—one in the Covenanted and the other in the Licensed Pilot Service. Three qualified Leadsman Apprentices were promoted to the grade of Mate Pilot. No Leadsman Apprentice was brought out from England, nor was any appointed locally during the year.

The sanctioned strength of the service is 58. This can only be worked up to as the Leadsmen qualify. At the close of the year there were 15 Leadsmen in training as against 18 in the previous year. Arrangements were made for bringing out four Leadsman Apprentices from England and for the appointment of one locally selected candidate to meet present requirements and also to ensure that the sanctioned number may be attained within a reasonable time.

The number of arrivals at the port during the year was 1,614, and of departures 1,626. The total number of arrivals and departures was 3,240, or 108 more than that of the previous year. These figures represent a gross tonnage of 6,205,092 inwards and 6,256,731 outwards. The average tonnage of steam and sailing vessels inwards and outwards was 3,846, against 3,722 in the previous year.

The pilotage receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 14,21,189, against Rs. 13,62,785 in the previous year.

The number of steamers drawing over 21 feet piloted inwards increased and those piloted outwards decreased. During the year, no sailing ships drawing over 21 feet were piloted inwards and outwards. Altogether 27 vessels—21 inward and 6 outward—were neaped for want of sufficient depth of water over the bars, against 19 vessels in the previous year. The number of vessels detained at the Sandheads for want of Pilots during the year was 13, the shortest detention being 6 hours 25 minutes, the longest 21 hours, the average detention being 15 hours 44 minutes.

There were 9 collisions and 30 groundings during the year, against 7 collisions and 22 groundings in the previous year. In one case of collision the Pilot concerned was held to blame for error of judgment and in another case for negligence. In regard to the groundings the Pilots were in fault only in four instances.

Sixty preliminary enquiries were held by the Port Officer, of which four were referred to Departmental Courts of Enquiry and nine to Special Courts of Enquiry. In seven cases the Pilots were held to blame and they were dealt with by this Government. No Marine Court under Act XII of 1859 was held during the year.

One hundred and three candidates appeared at the examination for Colonial and Home Trade certificates of competency, of whom 57 passed. Three hundred and twenty-six candidates also appeared at the different examinations for certificates of competency as Masters, Serangs, Engineers and Engine-drivers under Act VI of 1884, but only 141 passed.

Mr. G. Robertson was the First Engineer and Shipwright-Surveyor throughout the year. Mr. F. Olford, R.I.M., was the Second Engineer and Shipwright-Surveyor up to the 25th October 1906, when he reverted to the Royal Indian Marine on being relieved by Mr. E. G. Venn, R.I.M.

Commander E. J. Beaumont, R.I.M., presided over the Department up to the 22nd May 1906, when he reverted to the Royal Indian Marine, making over charge of the Port and Shipping Offices to Lieutenant A. S. Balfour, R.I.M., who held charge till 7th July 1906, when Commander St. L. S. Warden, R.I.M., relieved him, and Lieutenant Balfour reverted to his position as Assistant Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT CALCUTTA AND AT THE PORTS OF ORISSA FOR THE YEAR 1906-1907.

No. 2441 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 9th September 1907.

RESOLUTION.

Annual Report on the working of the Shipping Offices at Calcutta and at the Ports of Orissa for the year 1906-1907.

READ—

Letter from the Shipping Master, Calcutta, No. S.—295, dated the 15th May 1907.

Letter from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, No. 124^{P.T.}_C, dated the 15th June 1907.

The receipts of the Calcutta Shipping Office during the year 1906-1907 amounted to Rs. 84,380, against Rs. 83,617 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 763, which is mainly due to a larger amount of overtime fees being realised during the year.

2. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 42,214 as compared with Rs. 41,180 in the past year. The increase in expenditure is due to larger sums of money drawn during the year by officers performing overtime work afloat, and to the grant of grain compensation allowance to clerks and menials.

3. Four Trust Funds are administered by the Calcutta Shipping Office. The total receipts under the Funds during the year under report amounted to Rs. 82,705. This together with the closing balance at the credit of the Funds for 1905-1906 made an aggregate of Rs. 96,124, against Rs. 90,887 in the previous year. Payments made during the year amounted to Rs. 83,794, a sum of Rs. 2,472 lapsing to the State. The balance at the credit of the Funds at the close of the year stood at Rs. 9,858.

4. The number of seamen shipped and discharged were :—

Shipped	41,533
Discharged	37,653

Contrary to the tendency displayed in recent years, there was an increase in shipments and discharges under European articles, while those under Indian articles show a decrease. The actual figures are as follow :—

	Shipments.		Increase.	Decrease.	Discharges.		Increase.	Decrease.
	1905-1906.	1906-1907.			1905-1906.	1906-1907.
European Articles ...	899	946	47	Nil.	933	1,132	199	Nil.
Indian Articles ...	40,630	40,587	Nil.	43	36,871	36,521	Nil.	350

The decrease under Indian articles is attributed partly to a greater number of vessels of the British India Steam Navigation Company being placed on the coasting trade, and partly to the recent amendment of the law relating to foreign running agreements effected by Act VI of 1906, under which the agreements are to remain in force for six months from the date of execution instead of expiring on the last day of June and December, irrespective of the date on which they were entered into, as was previously the case, thereby making the occasions for shipment less frequent and consequently lowering the number of seamen shipped

5. Besides the above, 73 seamen were shipped and 101 discharged by foreign Consuls.

6. Thirty-five distressed seamen were assisted with passages to the United Kingdom during the year, against 71 in the previous year. Of these, 21 were invalids, one insane, and 13 were released prisoners who were absolutely destitute.

7. Remittances by money-orders by European seamen amounted to Rs. 7,305-5, compared with Rs. 9,497 in the preceding year.

8. A complaint was received from the Harbour Master, Georgetown, that certain unqualified persons were shipped as able-bodied seamen on board the sailing ship Elbe when carrying Government emigrants from this port. Care is now taken to ascertain that, as far as possible, competent seamen are shipped before the certificate required to be given by the Shipping Master of Calcutta under the rules issued under the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, is granted. Owing, however, to the paucity of sailing ships now afloat, qualified able-bodied seamen have become very few in the Port, and consequently irregularities of the nature are not likely to be altogether avoided. As a remedial measure, the Shipping Master suggests that native emigrants might, in future, be carried in steam-vessels only. The matter will receive the consideration of the Government. A fireman bhandary of the S.S. Barmfels complained that a serang of the vessel habitually ill-treated him during the voyage with a view to obtain money and ship's provisions from him. The Shipping Master was satisfied of the general truth of the complaint; so the serang was dismissed, and particulars of his misconduct circulated among the principal Indian ports, and his name posted in the defaulter's list. The deck serangs of the Clan Macfarlane, Clan Macdonald and City of Calcutta were found to have extorted various sums of money from their crews. The amounts were recovered from their wages, and the offenders dealt with in the same way as in the case of the fireman bhandary. A ghat serang was accused of taking a bribe from a butler for having secured him a berth on board the S.S. Shirley. Action in the matter had to be abandoned for the insufficiency of evidence against him. A charge of assault brought by an invalid coal-trimmer of the S.S. Purley against the Chief Engineer of the vessel was proved to be absolutely groundless.

9. No seamen were shipped and discharged at False Point during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

T. BUTLER,

Officiating Secretary.

REPORT ON THE ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS OPERATIONS
OF THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR THE YEAR 1906-1907.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 584 R.P.—The 9th September 1907.—The following extracts from the Report of the Board of Revenue on the Road and Public Works Cess Operations in Bengal for the year 1906-1907 are published for general information.

H. J. McINTOSH,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3585A., dated Calcutta, the 27th August 1907.

From—S. L. MADDIX, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I AM directed to submit the Board's Report on the Administration of the Road and Public Works Cesses for the year 1906-1907.
THE HON'BLE MR. F. A. SLAOKER, I.C.S.

3. Both cesses were levied at the maximum rate of one anna in the rupee in the 30 districts in which the Act is in force. The Act is being gradually introduced into the Sonthal Parganas, and is not in force in Angul and the Khondmals or in Sambalpur. The current demand of land revenue of the 30 districts was Rs. 2,83,70,062 and the valuation, or gross rental, amounted to Rs. 12,67,31,262.

4. * * * In the following table the demand, collections, balances, and remissions of the year are compared with the two preceding years:—
Demands, collections, balances, and remissions.

Year.	DEMAND.			Collections.	Percentage of total collections on current demand.	Balance.	Percentage of the balance on the total demand.	Remissions.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.		Rs.
1904-1905 ...	69,49,811	14,12,573	83,62,384	70,06,476	100·8	19,54,082	16·1	57,183
1905-1906 ...	69,65,858	13,50,895	83,06,751	70,59,858	101·4	12,06,104	15·2	69,916
1906-1907 ...	70,11,936	12,70,766	82,82,702	69,56,766	99·2	13,48,585	16·2	1,12,743

The increase of Rs. 56,080 in the current demand, as compared with the previous year, was mainly due to revaluation in various districts, of which Hooghly contributed Rs. 15,256, Manbhum Rs. 13,364, Champaran Rs. 12,158, Midnapore Rs. 8,547, and Burdwan Rs. 6,360. The percentage of collections on the current demand was 99·2 as against 101·4 in 1905-1906. The balances were less than in 1904-1905, but more than in 1905-1906. The percentage of balance on the total demand was 16·2 as against 15·2 in the previous year. The remissions and reductions, which amounted to Rs. 1,12,743, as against Rs. 69,916 in 1905-1906, chiefly occurred in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Muzaffarpur, Gaya, Hazaribagh, Khulna, Bhagalpur, and Bankura, and were due to revaluations under section 13 of the Cess Act, revision of annual assessment of coal-mines, reduction of demand on objections in appeals, erroneous and double assessment and dilution.

7. The total number of certificates filed for the realisation of cess arrears was 78,609 as against 85,919 in the previous year. The decrease was shared by the Burdwan, Bhagalpur, and Orissa Divisions. The increase (632) in Birbhum was chiefly due to the filing of a large number of certificates for the realization of three years' arrear cesses imposed on rent-free holders for the first time under section 70 of the Cess Act at the recent revaluation. It was also partly due to certificates filed to avoid limitation in the case of potty arrears, and the same cause accounts for the increase in Khulna, Puri, and Manbhum. The increase in Saran (2,420), Muzaffarpur (2,337), and Darbhanga (590) is attributed to the prompter issue of certificates at the end of each kist, and in Purnea (144) to the filing of certificates for arrears due from rent-free lands recently assessed. The disposals exceeded the institutions in the Burdwan, Presidency, and Orissa Divisions, and, on the whole, the total disposals were in excess of institutions by 1,681. The total number of certificates for the whole province pending at the close of the year was less than in the previous year, the percentage on the total number for disposal being 21·7 as against 22·9.

8. The total number of objections filed and disposed of was 6,096 and 5,998 as against 6,052 and 5,890, respectively, in the previous year. The largest number of objections disposed of was in the districts of Shahabad (1,121), Saran (1,103), Burdwan (801), and Gaya (571). In 770 cases, as against 532 in the preceding year, the certificates were cancelled on account of the death or desertion of judgment-debtors, the exemption of lands lying within Municipal limits, double assessments, non-registration of names of holders of rent-free lands, errors in the Land Registration registers, and wrong entries in the ledgers. The number of cases in which reductions were made in the claim was 175 as against 144 in 1905-1906.

9. In 19,306 cases as against 22,110 in 1905-1906 arrears were recovered on the mere issue of notices in 34,169 as against 33,930 on the issue of notices for sale of defaulters' moveable properties, and in 15,185 as against 14,122 on the issue of notices for the sale of the defaulters' immovable properties. Of the total number of sales (2,169 as against 2,535 in 1905-1906), 1,160 as against 927 in 1905-1906 were set aside under sections 20 and 21 of the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, I of 1895, as amended by Bengal Act I of 1897. The largest number of sales set aside was in the districts of Patna (209), Darbhanga (208), Monghyr (130), Muzaffarpur (123), Saran (109), Shahabad (89) and Gaya (78).

10. * * * Valuations or revaluations, partial or complete, are going on in 17 out of the 30 districts to which the Act applies.

11. During the year the revaluation of the district of Birbhum was completed. The operations have resulted in an increase of Rs. 8,090 over the former cess demand. The general revaluations of Bankura and Palamau are approaching completion.

14. * * * The present gross rental shows a net increase of Rs. 3,76,94,619 over the original valuation, and of Rs. 2,74,133 over that of the preceding year, the latter increase being due entirely to valuations and revaluations.

16. The Cess Act has been found defective in certain respects. The most serious are the absence of any provision enabling Collectors to reject or revise incorrect Cess returns filed by proprietors of estates under Part II, except under section 22 after a conviction obtained on prosecution under section 94 of the Act, and the absence of any provisions for carrying out revaluation for cess purposes simultaneously with settlement work. To remedy these and other defects the Board have, since the close of the year, submitted to Government a report on the subject of the amendment of the Cess Act, together with a draft Bill.

PROSPECTUS.

INTRODUCTORY.

1. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore having sanctioned the holding annually in the Mysore City, during Dasara season, of an Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, and a Cattle and Sheep Show, and having appointed a Committee of the afore-said gentlemen for giving effect to the orders of Government, the Committee have authorised the issue of the following prospectus.

2. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary object of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition a purely educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the ryait, the artisan and the manufacturer, by actual demonstration. Consequently the Committee's main aim is not a mere promotion of sales of commodities and they are not therefore in favour of admitting in large numbers articles of merchandise intended purely for sale. They have no objection to the sale of samples exhibited and to their removal by purchasers after the Exhibition is over.

3. Gradual Development of the Exhibition.—As the Exhibition is to be a permanent institution and to be held every year it is proposed to develop it from small beginnings.

4. Scope of the Exhibition.—The scope of the Exhibition and the number of articles admitted may vary from year to year in the light of actual experience, and will, in future, be announced before the end of May, though during the present year, owing to the time taken in the settlement of preliminaries, the interval between the issue of the prospectus and the actual date of opening the Exhibition is very short.

5. Lectures and Demonstrations.—Arrangements will also be made for lectures being delivered by competent persons in English and Kanarese on subjects connected with Industry and Agriculture, the value of agricultural and industrial machines and implements, their cost, construction and repair. If possible, arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in ploughing and weaving.

6. Donations.—The Committee would thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or Associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of Agriculture or Industry.

7. Classification of Exhibits.—The Exhibition of 1907 will be confined to the main group and sub-heads indicated in the prize list subjoined to this prospectus.

8. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the districts in the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various Agricultural Departments and Associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

9. Opening of the Exhibition.—As a rule every year the Exhibition will be opened a few days before the commencement of Dasara and it will last for about four weeks. This year it is resolved to open the Exhibition on Saturday, 5th October, at 8 a.m., and to close it on Thursday, 31st October, at 5 p.m. The Cattle and Sheep Show will be usually commenced soon after the Vijaya Dasami (i.e., 10th day of the Moon) and be kept open for four days. This year the show will begin on Thursday, 17th October, and close on Monday, 21st October.

10. Date of lecture, etc.—Lectures and demonstrations will be arranged this year between Monday, 14th October, and Thursday, 24th October, and the exact time and place will be announced later on by hand-bills and notices.

11. Judges.—The Committee invite the co-operation of leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen in judging the exhibits and awarding prizes.

12. Place of Exhibition.—The Exhibition will be held in the Mysore City in the buildings known as the Police Reserve Lines which will be adapted for the purpose. A shed of galvanized corrugated-iron sheets, 150—30, will also be put up outside the lines for the exhibition of implements and machinery.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Noxious Articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars re Exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up in Form A, appended to this prospectus. Printed forms may be obtained from the District, Divisional and Taluk Officers or from the Secretary to the Committee; plain paper of foolscap size may also be used, provided all the headings in the Form are properly copied and filled up.

3. Applications from Exhibitors.—Applications in Form A should reach the Secretary to the Committee not later than the 5th September 1907. Each application should contain a post-card, on which the address and post town of the exhibitor are legibly written.

4. Lists from Taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Subdivisional Officers and Amildars of Taluks are requested to convene as early as possible a meeting of the leading artisans, raiyats and merchants, residing within their respective charges, to explain to them fully the object and scope of the Exhibition and to distribute to them forms of application, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors and to forward them to the Secretary to the Committee. This will give the Committee an idea of the total space required by each Taluk and enable the exhibitors to make a good choice of the exhibits by preventing a number of them from sending exhibits of the same quality and description.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The classified list of prizes will show the nature of articles which will be accepted by the Committee. Articles not specifically enumerated in the prize lists may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for Exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or registration of exhibits or for the space allowed for them.

7. Acceptance of Exhibits.—The Committee, however, reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance and rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space, covered or uncovered.

8. Delivery of Exhibits.—Articles intended for the Exhibition may be brought by the exhibitor or his agent or servant and delivered at the Exhibition grounds or sent by post or railway.

9. Payment of Freight and Transport Charges.—No exhibits, in respect of which the necessary freight or transport charges have not been paid by the exhibitor, will be accepted by the Committee.

10. List of Particulars.—All packages received or delivered and all implements and machinery intended for the Exhibition must bear a label specifying the name and number of exhibits and must be addressed to the Secretary. They must contain a list in duplicate showing the name or description of the article, its price, the place and date of its production or manufacture, name of the manufacturer or exhibitor, and in the case of articles purchased from others, the place and date of purchase.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes or medals in the Mysore Exhibition of 1906 are precluded from competing for prizes, though, if they are of educative value, there is no objection to their being accepted as exhibits.

12. Date of delivery of Exhibits.—All exhibits should be sent to the address of the Secretary so as to reach the Mysore City between 10th and 25th September 1907.

13. Belated Exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed in the preceding rule may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to 25th September, but they shall not be eligible to compete for prizes.

14. Perishable Articles.—Vegetables, fruits, dairy produce, and other perishable articles may, however, be delivered at the Exhibition Hall till 7 p.m. on 4th October 1907.

15. Admission of Exhibits.—No exhibits will be admitted without a pass signed by the Secretary or Members of the Committee on duty at the Exhibition Hall.

16. Responsibility of Exhibitors.—Exhibitors will have to pay every expense of transit, delivery, fixing and removing their exhibits, and they must either personally or by their agents or servants superintend their reception and removal, in default of which the Committee reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the exhibitor.

17. Committee accepts no responsibility.—Free passes will be given to men in charge of the exhibits, and every care will be taken of them while in the Show-room; but no responsibility will be accepted by the Committee as to any damage or loss howsoever occurring.

18. Special Facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any processes of manufacture or the working of any implements or machinery, and if so to describe briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require.

19. Special arrangement to be made at Exhibitor's expense.—If the Exhibitors require any special arrangements to be made (or have to mount their machinery) they must carry them out at their own expense, but the Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the Exhibitor's expense.

20. Valuable Exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must be forwarded under the charge of an attendant.

21. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or to send their agents in charge of exhibits may make special arrangement with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment in advance in full of the estimated expense.

22. Articles on sale.—Articles on sale or articles sold should in every case have cards attached to them notifying the same.

23. Removal of Exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a week after the close of the Exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit.

24. No exhibit will be allowed to be removed before the termination of the Show.

25. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owners or purchasers twenty-four hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

26. Exhibits on loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received from gentlemen willing to lend them, and all arrangements for the display of such exhibits, for their safe custody and return will be made by the Committee at their own expense.

27. Gentlemen desirous of sending exhibits on loan are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary or Members of the Committee who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the Exhibition of the offered articles.

28. Exhibits belonging to any Department of Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals, but may be awarded certificates of merit.

29. Admission of Live Stock.—All cattle and sheep brought for the Show will be located in a convenient place before the first selection, and only such of the animals as are selected will be permitted to be picketted in the sheds provided at the Show yard according to breed, age, size, etc.

30. Accommodation for Cattle.—Accommodation will be provided by the Committee free of cost for about 150 head of cattle.

31. Provision for Fodder.—Arrangements will have to be made by the owners themselves for providing the animals with fodder.

32. Admission to the Show grounds.—Only pass or ticket-holders will be allowed to enter the Show grounds while the cattle are judged.

33. Animals which have won prizes.—No animal which has won a prize in previous years within the Mysore State will be eligible for a prize.

34. Practical Test.—Working cattle may, at the owner's option, be subjected to a practical test as to their powers of draught. They must be the bona fide property of the exhibitor.

35. Single bullocks will also be tested both for riding and draught purposes at the owner's option.

36. Care-taker.—Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a care-taker who will remain in charge of the exhibit and must be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.

37. Distribution of Prizes and Medals.—Prizes and medals will be distributed at the close of the Exhibition. Certificates of merit and of "hon. mention" will also be awarded at the discretion of the Judges.

38. Number of Judges.—The Judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless in the opinion of the Judges the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are Judges.

39. Photograph of Articles Exhibited.—No article exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or reproduced in any manner without the special permission of the exhibitor and the Committee. General photographs of the stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

40. Committee's Decision Final.—The Committee have full power to make rules for the conduct of the Exhibition under these Regulations and their decision is final in all cases.

41. Acceptance of Rules.—All persons who become exhibitors shall be held to signify their assent to and acceptance of the foregoing Rules and Regulations and also of such other Rules as the Committee may hereafter issue, not inconsistent with these Regulations.

42. Communication regarding the Exhibition.—All communications regarding the Exhibition should be addressed to the Secretary to the Mysore Dasara Exhibition Committee and directed to Bangalore till 10th September 1907 and to Mysore after the 10th September 1907.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, dark gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

beyond the limits of British India established or continued by the Governor General in Council and having like jurisdiction, or before His Majesty in Council.

has been directly and substantially in issue in another suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, litigating under the same title, in a Court of jurisdiction competent to try such subsequent suit or the suit in which such issue has been subsequently raised, and has been heard and finally decided by such Court.

(a) where it has not been pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction;

(b) where it has not been given on the merits of the case;

(e) where it has been obtained by fraud;

(f) where it sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in British India.

14. The Court shall presume, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, that such judgment was pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on the record; but such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction. [S. 29; cf. O. 16, r. 6.]

6. The plaintiff may, at his option, join as parties to the same suit all or any of the persons severally, or jointly and severally, liable on any one contract, including parties to bills of exchange, hundis and promissory notes.

7. Where the plaintiff is in doubt as to the person from whom he is entitled to obtain redress, he may join two or more defendants in order that the question as to which of the defendants is liable, and to what extent, may be determined as between all parties.

[Ss. 30, 32; cf. O. 16, r. 9.]

8. (1) Where there are numerous persons having the same interest in one suit, one or more of such persons may, with the permission of the Court, sue or be sued, or may defend, in such suit, on behalf of all persons so interested. But the Court shall in such case give, at the plaintiff's expense, notice of the institution of the suit to all such persons either by personal service or, where from the number of persons or any other cause such service is not reasonably practicable, by public advertisement, as the Court in each case may direct.

(2) Any person on whose behalf a suit is instituted or defended under sub-rule (1) may apply to the Court to be made a party to such suit.

9. No suit shall be defeated by reason of the misjoinder and non-joinder of parties, and the Court may in every suit deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it.

10. (1) Where a suit has been instituted in the name of the wrong person as plaintiff or where it is doubtful whether it has been instituted in the name of the right plaintiff, the Court may at any stage of the suit, if satisfied that the suit has been instituted through a bona fide mistake, and that it is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute so to do, order any other person to be substituted or added as plaintiff upon such terms as the Court thinks just.

(2) The Court may at any stage of the proceedings, either upon or without the application of either party, and on such terms as may appear to the Court to be just, order that the name of any party improperly joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out, and that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, or whose presence before the Court may be necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added.

(3) No person shall be added as a plaintiff suing without a next friend or as the next friend of a plaintiff under any disability without his consent.

(4) Where a defendant is added, the plaintiff shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be amended in such manner as may be necessary, and amended copies of the summons and of the plaint shall be served on the new defendant and, if the Court thinks fit, on the original defendant.

11. The Court may give the conduct of the suit to such plaintiff as it deems proper.

12. (1) Where there are more plaintiffs than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any proceeding; and in like manner, where there are more defendants than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any such proceeding.

(2) The authority shall be in writing signed by the party giving it and shall be filed in Court.

13. All objections on the ground of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases before issues are settled unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

ORDER II.

Frame of Suit.

1. Every suit shall as far as practicable be framed so as to afford ground for final decision upon the subjects in dispute and to prevent further litigation concerning them.

2. (1) Every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action; but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court.

(2) Where a plaintiff omits to sue in respect of, or intentionally relinquishes, any portion of his claim, he shall not afterwards sue in respect of the portion so omitted or relinquished.

(3) A person entitled to more than one relief in respect of the same cause of action may sue for all or any of such reliefs; but if he omits, except with the leave of the Court, to sue for all such reliefs, he shall not afterwards sue for any relief so omitted.

ORDER VI.

Pleading generally.

Pleading. 1. "Pleading" shall mean plaint or written statement.

[O. 19, r. 4.]

2. Every pleading shall contain, and contain only, a statement in a concise form of the material facts on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence, as the case may be, but not the evidence by which they are to be proved, and shall, when necessary, be divided into paragraphs, numbered consecutively. Dates, sums and numbers shall be expressed in figures.

[O. 19, r. 5.]

3. The forms in Appendix A when applicable, and where they are not applicable forms of the like character, as nearly as may be, shall be used for all pleadings.

[O. 19, r. 6.]

4. In all cases in which the party pleading relies on any misrepresentation, fraud, breach of trust, wilful default, or undue influence, and in all other cases in which particulars may be necessary beyond such as are exemplified in the forms aforesaid, particulars (with dates and items if necessary) shall be stated in the pleading.

[O. 19, r. 7.]

5. A further and better statement of the nature of the claim or defence, or further and better particulars of any matter stated in any pleading, may in all cases be ordered, upon such terms, as to costs and otherwise, as may be just.

[O. 19, r. 14.]

6. Any condition precedent, the performance or occurrence of which is intended to be contested, shall be distinctly specified in his pleading by the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be; and, subject thereto, an averment of the performance or occurrence of all conditions precedent necessary for the case of the plaintiff or defendant shall be implied in his pleading.

[O. 19, r. 16.]

7. No pleading shall, except by way of amendment, raise any new ground of claim or contain any allegation of fact inconsistent with the previous pleadings of the party pleading the same.

8. Where a contract is alleged in any pleading, a bare denial of the same by the opposite party shall be construed only as a denial in fact of the express contract alleged or of the matters of fact from which the same may be implied, and not as a denial of the legality or sufficiency in law of such contract.

[O. 19, r. 23.]

9. Wherever the contents of any document are material, it shall be sufficient in any pleading to state the effect thereof as briefly as possible, without setting out the whole or any part thereof, unless the precise words of the document or any part thereof are material.

[O. 19, r. 24.]

10. Wherever it is material to allege malice, fraudulent intention, knowledge or other condition of the mind of any person, it shall be sufficient to allege the same as a fact without setting out the circumstances from which the same is to be inferred.

11. Wherever it is material to allege notice to any person of any fact, matter or thing, it shall be sufficient to allege such notice as a fact, unless the form or the precise terms of such notice, or the circumstances from which such notice is to be inferred, is material. [O. 19, r. 2]

12. Whenever any contract or any relation between any persons is to be implied from a series of letters or conversations or otherwise from a number of circumstances, it shall be sufficient to allege such contract or relation as a fact, and to refer generally to such letters, conversations or circumstances without setting them out in detail. And if in such case the person so pleading desires to rely in the alternative upon more contracts or relations than one as to be implied from such circumstances, he may state the same in the alternative. [O. 19, r. 24]

13. Neither party need in any pleading allege any matter of fact which the law presumes in his favour or as to which the burden of proof lies upon the other side unless the same has first been specifically denied (e.g., consideration for a bill of exchange where the plaintiff sues only on the bill, and not for the consideration as a substantive ground of claim). [O. 28, r. 1.]

14. Every pleading shall be signed by the party and his pleader (if any): Provided that where a party pleading is, by reason of absence or for other good cause, unable to sign the pleading, it may be signed by any person duly authorized by him to sign the same or to sue or defend in his behalf. [O. 23, r. 7.]

15. (1) Save as otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, every pleading shall be verified at the foot by the party or by one of the parties pleading or by some other person proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case. [O. 19, r. 21]

(2) The person verifying shall specify, by reference to the numbered paragraphs of the pleading, what he verifies of his own knowledge and what he verifies upon information received and believed to be true.

(3) The verification shall be signed by the person making it and shall truly state the date on which and the place at which it was signed.

16. The Court may at any stage of the proceedings order to be struck out or amended any matter in any pleading which may be unnecessary or scandalous or which may tend to prejudice, embarrass or delay the fair trial of the suit. [O. 19, r. 22]

17. The Court may at any stage of the proceedings allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties. [S. 51.]

18. If a party who has obtained an order for leave to amend does not amend accordingly within the time limited for that purpose by the order or if no time is thereby limited then within fourteen days from the date of the order, such order to amend shall on the expiration of such limited time as aforesaid or of such fourteen days, as the case may be, become void unless the time is extended by the Court. [S. 20, r. 7.]

8. Where the plaintiff seeks relief in respect of several distinct claims or causes of action founded upon separate and distinct grounds, they shall be stated as far as may be separately and distinctly. And the same rule shall apply where the defendant relies upon several distinct grounds of defence or set-off founded upon separate and distinct facts.

9. (1) The plaintiff shall endorse on the plaint, or annex thereto, a list of the documents (if any) which he has produced along with it ; and, if the plaint is admitted, shall present as many copies on plain paper of the plaint as there are defendants, unless the Court by reason of the length of the plaint or the number of the defendants, or for any other sufficient reason, permits him to present a like number of concise statements of the nature of the claim made, or of the relief claimed in the suit, in which case he shall present such statements.

(2) Where the plaintiff sues, or the defendant or any of the defendants is sued, in a representative capacity, such statements shall show in what capacity the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued.

(3) The plaintiff may, by leave of the Court, amend such statements so as to make them correspond with the plaint.

(4) The chief ministerial officer of the Court shall sign such memorandum and copies or statements if, on examination, he finds them to be correct.

10. (1) The plaint shall at any stage of the suit be returned to be presented to the Court in which the suit should have been instituted. [S. 57.]

(2) On returning a plaint the Judge shall endorse thereon the date of its presentation and return, the name of the party presenting it, and a brief statement of the reasons for returning it.

11. The plaint shall be rejected in the following cases :— [Ss. 3, 54.]

(a) where it does not disclose a cause of action ;

(b) where the relief claimed is undervalued, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to correct the valuation within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so ;

(c) where the relief claimed is properly valued, but the plaint is written upon paper insufficiently stamped, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to supply the requisite stamp-paper within a time to be fixed by the court, fails to do so ;

(d) where the suit appears from the statement in the plaint to be barred by any law.

12. Where a plaint is rejected the Judge shall record an order to that effect with the reasons for such order. [S. 55.]

13. The rejection of the plaint on any of the grounds hereinbefore mentioned shall not of its own force preclude the plaintiff from presenting a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action. [S. 56.]

Documents relied on in plaint.

14. (1) Where a plaintiff sues upon a document in his possession or power, he shall produce it in Court when the plaint is presented, and shall at the same time deliver the document or a copy thereof to be filed with the plaint. [S. 59.]

(2) Where he relies on any other documents (whether in his possession or power or not) as evidence in support of his claim, he shall enter such documents in a list to be added or annexed to the plaint.

15. Where any such document is not in the possession or power of the plaintiff, he shall, if possible, state in whose possession or power it is. [S. 60.]

16. Where the suit is founded upon a negotiable instrument, and it is proved that the instrument is lost, and an indemnity is given by the plaintiff, to the satisfaction of the Court, against the claims of any other person upon such instrument, the Court may pass such decree as it would have passed if the plaintiff had produced the instrument in Court when the plaint was presented, and had at the same time delivered a copy of the instrument to be filed with the plaint. VIII of 1891.

17. (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891, where the document on which the plaintiff sues is an entry in a shop-book or other book in his possession or power, the plaintiff shall produce the book at the time of filing the plaint, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies.

(2) The Court, or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall forthwith mark the document for the purpose of identification; and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall, if it is found correct, certify it to be so and return the book to the plaintiff and cause the copy to be filed.

18. (1) A document which ought to be produced in Court by the plaintiff when the plaint is presented, or to be entered in the list to be added or annexed to the plaint, and which is not produced or entered accordingly, shall not, without the leave of the Court, be received in evidence on his behalf at the hearing of the suit.

(2) Nothing in this rule applies to documents produced for cross-examination of the defendant's witnesses, or in answer to any case set up by the defendant or handed to a witness merely to refresh his memory.

ORDER VIII.

Written Statement and Set-off.

[S. 110.]

1. The defendant may, or, if so required, by the Court, shall at or before the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit, present a written statement of his defence.

[S. 111.]

2. The defendant must raise by his pleading all matters which show the suit not to be maintainable, or that the transaction is either void or voidable in point of law, and all such grounds of defence, as if not raised would be likely to take the opposite party by surprise, or would raise issues of fact not arising out of the plaint, as, for instance, fraud, limitation, release, payment, performance, or facts showing illegality.

[S. 112.]

3. It shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his written statement to deny generally the grounds alleged by the plaintiff, but the defendant must deal specifically with each allegation of fact of which he does not admit the truth, except damages.

[S. 113.]

4. Where a defendant denies an allegation of fact in the plaint, he must not do so evasively, but answer the point of substance. Thus, if it is alleged that he received a certain sum of money, it shall not be sufficient to deny that he received that particular amount, but he must deny that he received that sum or any part thereof, or else set out how much he received. And if an allegation is made with divers circumstances, it shall not be sufficient to deny it along with those circumstances.

[S. 114.]

5. Every allegation of fact in the plaint, if not denied specifically or by necessary implication, or stated to be not admitted in the pleading of the defendant, shall be taken to be admitted, except as against a person under disability:

[S. 115.]

Provided that the Court may in its discretion require any fact so admitted to be proved otherwise than by such admission.

6. (1) Where in a suit for the recovery of money the defendant claims to set-off against the plaintiff's demand any ascertained sum of money legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff, not exceeding the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, and both parties fill the same character as they fill in the plaintiff's suit, the defendant may, at the first hearing of the suit, but not afterwards unless permitted by the Court, present a written statement containing the particulars of the debt sought to be set off.

(2) The written statement shall have the same effect as a plaintiff in a cross-suit so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in respect both of the original claim and of the set-off: but this shall not affect the lien, upon the amount decreed, of any pleader in respect of the costs payable to him under the decree.

(3) The rules relating to a written statement by a defendant apply to a written statement in answer to a claim of set-off.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths Rs. 2,000 to B and appoints C his executor and residuary legatee. B dies and D takes out administration to B's effects. C pays Rs. 1,000 as surety for D; then D sues C for the legacy. C cannot set-off the debt of Rs. 1,000 against the legacy, for neither C nor D fills the same character with respect to the legacy as they fill with respect to the payment of the Rs. 1,000.

(b) A dies intestate and in debt to B. C takes out administration to A's effects and B buys part of the effects from C. In a suit for the purchase-money by C against B, the latter cannot set-off the debt against the price, for C fills two different characters, one as the vendor to B, in which he sues B, and the other as representative to A.

(c) A sues B on a bill of exchange. B alleges that A has wrongfully neglected to insure B's goods and is liable to him in recompensation which he claims to set off. The amount not being ascertained can not be set off.

(d) A sues B on a bill of exchange for Rs. 500. B holds a judgment against A for Rs. 1,000. The two claims being both definite pecuniary demands may be set off.

(e) A sues B for compensation on account of trespass. B holds a promissory note for Rs. 1,000 from A and claims to set off that amount against any sum that A may recover in the suit. B may do so, for, as soon as A recovers, both sums are definite pecuniary demands.

(f) A and B sue C for Rs. 1,000. C cannot set off a debt due to him by A alone.

(g) A sues B and C for Rs. 1,000. B cannot set off a debt due to him alone by A.

(h) A owes the partnership firm of B and C Rs. 1,000. B dies, leaving C surviving. A sues C for a debt of Rs. 1,500 due in his separate character. C may set off the debt of Rs. 1,000.

7. No pleading subsequent to the written statement of a defendant other than by way of defence to a set-off shall be presented except by the leave of the Court and upon such terms as the Court thinks fit, but the Court may at any time require a written statement or additional written statement from any of the parties and fix a time for presenting the same.

8. Any ground of defence which has arisen after the institution of the suit or the presentation of a written statement claiming a set-off may be raised by the defendant or plaintiff, as the case may be, in his written statement.

[Now.]

9. Where any party from whom a written statement is so required fails to present the same within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may pronounce judgment against him, or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit.

ORDER IX.

Appearance of Parties and Consequence of Non-appearance.

[S. 96.]

1. On the day fixed in the summons for the defendant to appear and answer, the parties shall be in attendance at the Court-house in person or by their respective pleaders, and the suit shall then be heard unless the hearing is adjourned to a future day fixed by the Court.

[S. 97.]

2. If on the day so fixed it is found that the summons has not been served upon the defendant in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee or postal charges (if any) chargeable or payable for such service, the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed:

Provided that no such order shall be made although the summons has not been served upon the defendant, if on the day fixed for him to appear and answer he attends in person or by agent when he is allowed to appear by agent.

3. Where neither party appears when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed.

[S. 99.]

4. Where a suit is dismissed under rule 2 or rule 3, the plaintiff may (subject to the law of limitation) bring a fresh suit; or if, within the period of thirty days from the date of the order dismissing the suit, he satisfies the Court that there was sufficient excuse for his not paying the court-fee and postal charges (if any) chargeable or payable within the time fixed by the Court before the issue of the summons, or for his non-appearance, as the case may be, the Court shall make an order setting aside the dismissal and appointing a day for proceeding with the suit.

5. (1) Where, after a summons has been issued to the defendant, or to one of several defendants, and returned unserved, the plaintiff fails for a year to apply for fresh summons, the Court by the officer ordinarily certifying to the Court returns made by the serving officers, to apply for the issue of a fresh summons and to satisfy the Court that he has used his best endeavours to discover the residence of the defendant who has not been served, or that such defendant is avoiding service of process, the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed as against such defendant.

(2) In such case the plaintiff may (subject to the law of limitation) bring a fresh suit.

6. (1) Where the plaintiff appears and the defendant does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, then—

(a) if it is proved that the summons was duly served, the Court may proceed ex parte;

(b) if it is not proved that the summons was duly served, the Court shall direct a second summons to be issued and served on the defendant;

(c) if it is proved that the summons was served on the defendant, but not in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer on the day fixed in the summons, the Court shall postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court, and shall direct notice of such day to be given to the defendant.

(2) Where it is owing to the plaintiff's default that the summons was not duly served or was not served in sufficient time, the Court shall order the plaintiff to pay the costs occasioned by the postponement.

7. Where the Court has adjourned the hearing of the suit ex parte, and the defendant, at or before such hearing, appears and assigns good cause for his previous non-appearance, he may, upon such terms as the Court directs as to costs or otherwise, be heard in answer to the suit as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his appearance.

[S. 102.]

8. Where the defendant appears and the plaintiff does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court shall make an order that the suit be dismissed, unless the defendant admits the claim, or part thereof, in which case the Court shall pass a decree against the defendant upon such admission, and, where part only of the claim has been admitted, shall dismiss the suit so far as it relates to the remainder.

9. (1) Where a suit is wholly or partly dismissed under rule 8, the plaintiff shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action. But he may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and if in the opinion of the Court there was reasonable cause for his non-appearance when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall set aside the dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

(2) No order shall be made under this rule unless notice in writing of the application has been served on the opposite party.

10. Where there are more plaintiffs than one, and one or more of them appear, and the others do not appear, the Court may, at the instance of the plaintiff or plaintiffs appearing, permit the suit to proceed in the same way as if all the plaintiffs had appeared, or make such order as it thinks fit.

[S. 106.]

11. Where there are more defendants than one, and one or more of them appear, and the others do not appear, the suit shall proceed, and the Court shall, at the time of pronouncing judgment, make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the defendants who do not appear.

[S. 107.]

12. Where a plaintiff or defendant, who has been ordered to appear in person, does not appear in person, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court for failing so to appear, he shall be subject to all the provisions of the foregoing rules applicable to plaintiffs and defendants, respectively, who do not appear.

Setting aside Decrees ex parte.

13. In any case in which a decree is passed ex parte against a defendant, he may apply to the Court by which the decree was passed for an order to set it aside; and if he satisfies the Court that the summons was not duly served, or that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall make an order setting aside the decree as against him upon such terms as to costs, payment into Court or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

[S. 109.]

14. No decree shall be set aside on any such application as aforesaid unless notice thereof in writing has been served on the opposite party.

ORDER X.

Examination of Parties by the Court.

[S. 117.]

1. At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall ascertain from each party or his pleader whether he admits or denies such allegations of fact as are made in the plaint or written statement (if any) of the opposite party, and as are not expressly or by necessary implication admitted or denied by the party against whom they are made. The Court shall record such admissions and denials.

[S. 118.]

2. At the first hearing of the suit, or at any subsequent hearing, any party appearing in person or present in Court, or any person able to answer any material questions relating to the suit by whom such party or his pleader is accompanied, may be examined orally by the Court: and the Court may, if it thinks fit, put in the course of such examination questions suggested by either party.

[S. 119.]

3. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing by the Judge, and shall form part of the record.

[S. 120.]

4. (1) Where the pleader of any party who appears by a pleader or any such person accompanying a pleader as is referred to in rule 2, refuses or is unable to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer if interrogated in person, the Court may postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day and direct that such party shall appear in person on such day.

(2) If such party fails without lawful excuse to appear in person on the day so appointed, the Court may pronounce judgment against him, or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit.

ORDER XI.

Discovery and Inspection.

[O. 31, r. 1.]

1. In any suit the plaintiff or defendant by leave of the Court may deliver interrogatories in writing for the examination of the opposite parties or any one or more of such parties, and such interrogatories when delivered shall have a note at the foot thereof stating which of such interrogatories each of such persons is required to answer: Provided that no party shall deliver more than one set of interrogatories to the same party without an order for that purpose: Provided also that interrogatories which do not relate to any matters in question in the suit shall be deemed irrelevant, notwithstanding that they might be admissible on the oral cross-examination of a witness.

[O. 31, r. 2.]

2. On an application for leave to deliver interrogatories, the particular interrogatories proposed to be delivered shall be submitted to the Court. In deciding upon such application, the Court shall take into account any offer which may be made by the party sought to be interrogated to deliver particulars, or to make admissions or to produce documents relating to the matter in question, or any of them, and leave shall be given as to such only of the interrogatories submitted as the Court shall consider necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

[O. 31, r. 3.]

3. In adjusting the costs of the suit inquiry shall at the instance of any party be made into the propriety of exhibiting such interrogatories, and if it is the opinion of the taxing officer or of the Court, either with or without an application for inquiry, that such interrogatories have been exhibited unreasonably, vexatiously, or at improper length, the costs occasioned by the said interrogatories and the answers thereto shall be paid in any event by the party in fault.

4. Interrogatories shall be in the Form No. 2 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require. [O. 31, r. 4.]

5. Where any party to a suit is a corporation or a body of persons, whether incorporated or not, empowered by law to sue or be sued, whether in its own name or in the name of any officer or other person, any opposite party may apply for an order allowing him to deliver interrogatories to any member or officer of such corporation or body, and an order may be made accordingly. [O. 31, r. 5.]

6. Any objection to answering any interrogatory on the ground that it is scandalous or irrelevant or not exhibited bona fide for the purpose of the suit, or that the matters inquired into are not sufficiently material at that stage, or on any other ground, may be taken in the affidavit in answer. [O. 31, r. 6.]

7. Any interrogatories may be set aside on the ground that they have been exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously, or struck out on the ground that they are prolix, oppressive, unnecessary or scandalous; and any application for this purpose may be made within seven days after service of the interrogatories. [O. 31, r. 7.]

8. Interrogatories shall be answered by affidavit to be filed within ten days, or within such other time as the Court may allow. [O. 31, r. 8.]

9. No exceptions shall be taken to any affidavit in answer, but the sufficiency or otherwise of any such affidavit objected to as insufficient shall be determined by the Court. [O. 31, r. 10.]

10. Where any person interrogated omits to answer, or answers insufficiently, the party interrogating may apply to the Court for an order requiring him to answer, or to answer further, as the case may be. And an order may be made requiring him to answer or answer further, either by affidavit or by voir dire examination, as the Court may direct. [O. 31, r. 11.]

11. Any party may, without filing any affidavit, apply to the Court for an order directing any other party to any suit to make discovery on oath of the documents which are or have been in his possession or power, relating to any matter in question therein. On the hearing of such application the Court may either refuse or adjourn the same, if satisfied that such discovery is not necessary, or not necessary at that stage of the suit, or make such order, either generally or limited to certain classes of documents, as may, in its discretion, be thought fit: Provided that discovery shall not be ordered when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs. [O. 31, r. 12.]

12. The affidavit to be made by a party against whom such order as is mentioned in the last preceding rule has been made, shall specify which (if any) of the documents therein mentioned he objects to produce, and it shall be in the Form No. 7 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require. [O. 31, r. 13.]

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.

(The First Schedule.)

O. 31, r. 14; S. 130.] 13. It shall be lawful for the Court, at any time during the pendency of any suit, to order the production by any party thereto, upon oath, of such of the documents in his possession or power, relating to any matter in question in such suit, as the Court shall think right; and the Court may deal with such documents, when produced, in such manner as shall appear just.

O. 31, r. 15; S. 131.] 14. Every party to a suit shall be entitled, at any time, by notice in writing, to give notice to any other party, in whose pleadings or affidavits reference is made to any document, to produce such document for the inspection of the party giving such notice, or of his pleader, and to permit him or them to take copies thereof; and any party not complying with such notice shall not afterwards be at liberty to put any such document in evidence on his behalf in such suit unless he shall satisfy the Court that such document relates only to his own title, he being a defendant to the suit, or that he had some other cause or excuse which the Court shall deem sufficient for not complying with such notice, in which case the Court may allow the same to be put in evidence on such terms as to costs and otherwise as the Court shall think fit.

O. 31, r. 16.] 15. Notice to any party to produce any documents referred to in his pleadings or affidavits shall be in the Form No. 5 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

O. 31, r. 17; S. 132.] 16. The party to whom such notice is given shall, within ten days from the receipt of such notice, deliver to the party giving the same a notice stating a time within three days from the delivery thereof at which the documents, or such of them as he does not object to produce, may be inspected at the office of his pleader, or in the case of bankers' books or other books of account or books in constant use for the purposes of any trade or business, at their usual place of custody, and stating which (if any) of the documents he objects to produce, and on what ground. Such notice shall be in the Form No. in Appendix with such variations as circumstances may require.

O. 31, r. 18.] 17. (1) Where the party served with notice under rule 16 omits to give such notice of a time for inspection or objects to give inspection, or offers inspection elsewhere than at the office of his pleader, the Court may, on the application of the party desiring it, make an order for inspection in such place and in such manner as it may think fit: Provided that the order shall not be made when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

(2) Any application to inspect documents, except such as are referred to in the pleadings, particulars or affidavits of the party against whom the application is made or disclosed in his affidavit of documents shall be founded upon an affidavit showing of what documents inspection is sought, that the party applying is entitled to inspect them, and that they are in the possession or power of the other party. The Court shall not make such order for inspection of such documents when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

18. (1) Where inspection of any business books is applied for, the Court may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering inspection of the original books, order a copy of any entries therein to be furnished and verified by the affidavit of some person who has examined the copy with the original entries, and such affidavit shall state whether or not there are in the original book any and what erasures, interlineations or alterations: Provided that, notwithstanding that such copy has been supplied, the Court may order inspection of the book from which the copy was made.

(2) Where on an application for an order for inspection privilege is claimed for any document, it shall be lawful for the Court to inspect the document for the purpose of deciding as to the validity of the claim of privilege.

(3) The Court may, on the application of any party to a suit at any time, and whether an affidavit of documents shall or shall not have already been ordered or made, make an order requiring any other party to state by affidavit whether any one or more specific documents, to be specified in the application, is or are, or has or have at any time been, in his possession or power; and, if not then in his possession, when he parted with the same and what has become thereof. Such application shall be made on an affidavit stating that in the belief of the deponent the party against whom the application is made has, or has at some time had, in his possession or power the document or documents specified in the application, and that they relate to the matters in question in the suit, or to some of them.

(4) Where the party from whom discovery of any kind or inspection is sought objects to the same, or any part thereof, the Court may, if satisfied that the right to the discovery or inspection sought depends on the determination of any issue or question in dispute in the suit, or that for any other reason it is desirable that any issue or question in dispute in the suit should be determined before deciding upon the right to the discovery or inspection, order that such issue or question be determined first, and reserve the question as to the discovery or inspection.

19. Where the party from whom discovery of any kind or inspection is sought objects to the same, or any part thereof, the Court may, if satisfied that the right to the discovery or inspection sought depends on the determination of any issue or question in dispute in the suit, or that for any other reason it is desirable that any issue or question in dispute in the suit should be determined before deciding upon the right to the discovery or inspection, order that such issue or question be determined first, and reserve the question as to the discovery or inspection.

20. Where any party fails to comply with any order to answer interrogatories, or for discovery or inspection of documents, he shall, if a plaintiff, be liable to have his action dismissed for want of prosecution, and, if a defendant, to have his defence, if any, struck out, and to be placed in the same position as if he had not defended, and the party interrogating may apply to the Court for an order to that effect, and an order may be made accordingly.

21. Any party may, at the trial of a suit, use in evidence any one or more of the answers or any part of an answer of the opposite party to interrogatories without putting in the others or the whole of such answer: Provided always that in such case the Court may look at the whole of the answers, and if it shall be of opinion that any others of them are so connected with those put in that the last-mentioned answers ought not to be used without them, it may direct them to be put in.

22. This Order shall apply to infant plaintiffs and Order 10 apply to defendants, and to the next friends and guardians for the suit of persons under disability.

ORDER XII.

Admission.

[O. 32, r. 1.]

1. Any party to a suit may give notice, by his pleading, or otherwise in writing, that he admits the truth of the whole or any part of the case of any other party.

[O. 32, r. 2;
a. 128.]

2. Either party may call upon the other party to admit any document, saving all just exceptions; and in case of refusal or neglect to admit, after such notice, the costs of proving any such document shall be paid by the party so neglecting or refusing, whatever the result of the suit may be, unless the Court otherwise directs; and no costs of proving any document shall be allowed unless such notice is given, except where the omission to give the notice is, in the opinion of the Court, a saving of expense.

[O. 32, r. 3.]

3. A notice to admit documents shall be in the Form No. 6 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

[O. 32, r. 4.]

4. Any party may, by notice in writing, at any time not later than nine days before the day fixed for the hearing, call on any other party to admit, for the purposes of the suit only, any specific fact or facts mentioned in such notice. And in case of refusal or neglect to admit the same within six days after service of such notice, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Court, the costs of proving such fact or facts shall be paid by the party so neglecting or refusing, whatever the result of the suit may be, unless the Court otherwise directs: Provided that any admission made in pursuance of such notice is to be deemed to be made only for the purposes of the particular suit, and not as an admission to be used against the party on any other occasion or in favour of any person other than the party giving the notice: Provided also that the Court may at any time allow any party to amend or withdraw any admission so made on such terms as may be just.

[O. 32, r. 5.]

5. A notice to admit facts shall be in the Form No. 6 in Appendix C, and admissions of facts shall be in the Form No. 7 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

[O. 32, r. 6.]

6. Any party may at any stage of a suit, where admissions of fact have been made, either on the pleadings, or otherwise, apply to the Court for such judgment or order as upon such admissions he may be entitled to, without waiting for the determination of any other question between the parties: and the Court may upon such application make such order, or give such judgment, as the Court may think just.

[O. 32, r. 7.]

7. An affidavit of the pleader or his clerk, of the due signature of any admissions made in pursuance of any notice to admit documents or facts, shall be sufficient evidence of such admissions, if evidence thereof is required.

[O. 32, r. 8.]

8. Notice to produce documents shall be in the Form No. 5 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require. (2) Judgments of other Courts shall contain a concise statement of the case, the points for determination, the decision thereon, and the reasons for such decision.

5. In suits in which issues have been framed, the Court shall state its finding or decision, with the reasons therefor, upon each separate issue, unless the finding upon any one or more of the issues is sufficient for the decision of the suit.

6. (1) The decree must agree with the judgment: it shall contain the number of the suit, the names and descriptions of the parties, and particulars of the claim, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the suit.

(2) The decree shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the suit, and by whom and out of what property and in what proportions such costs are to be paid.

(3) The Court may direct that the costs payable to one party by the other shall be set off against the sum which is admitted or found to be due from the former to the latter.

7. The decree shall bear date the day on which the judgment was pronounced, and, when the Judge has satisfied himself that the decree has been drawn up in accordance with the judgment, he shall sign the decree.

8. Where a Judge has vacated office after pronouncing judgment but without signing the decree, a decree drawn up in accordance with such judgment may be signed by his successor or, if the Court has ceased to exist, by any Judge to whom such Court was subordinate.

9. Where the subject-matter of the suit is immoveable property, the decree shall contain a description of such property sufficient to identify the same, and where such property can be identified by boundaries or by numbers in a record of settlement or survey, the decree shall specify such boundaries or numbers.

10. Where the suit is for moveable property, and the decree is for the delivery of such property, the decree shall also state the amount of money to be paid as an alternative if delivery cannot be had.

11. (1) Where and in so far as a decree (not being a decree for the enforcement of a mortgage or charge) is for the payment of money, the Court may for any sufficient reason at the time of passing the decree order that payment of the amount shall be postponed or shall be made by instalments, with or without interest, notwithstanding anything contained in the contract under which the money is payable.

(2) After the passing of any such decree the Court may, on the application of the judgment-debtor and with the consent of the decree-holder, order that payment of the amount decreed shall be postponed or shall be made by instalments on such terms as to the payment of interest, the attachment of the property of the judgment-debtor, or the taking of security from him, or otherwise, as it thinks fit.

12. (1) Where a suit is for the recovery of possession of immoveable property and for rent or mesne profits, the Court may pass a decree—

- (a) for the possession of the property;
- (b) for the rent or mesne profits which have accrued on the property during a period prior to the institution of the suit or directing an enquiry as to such rent or mesne profits;
- (c) directing an enquiry as to rent or mesne profits from the institution of the suit until—
 - (i) the delivery of possession to the decree-holder,
 - (ii) the relinquishment of possession by the judgment debtor with notice to the decree-holder through the Court, or
 - (iii) the expiration of three years from the date of the decree, whichever event first occurs.

13. (1) Where a suit is for an account of any property and for its due administration under the decree of the Court, the Court shall, before passing the final decree, pass a preliminary decree ordering such accounts and inquiries to be taken and made, and giving such other directions as it thinks fit.

(2) In the administration by the Court of the property of any deceased person, if such property proves to be insufficient for the payment in full of his debts and liabilities, the same rules shall be observed as to the respective rights of secured and unsecured creditors and as to debts and liabilities proveable, and as to the valuation of annuities and future and contingent liabilities respectively, as may be in force for the time being within the local limits of the Court in which the administration-suit is pending, with respect to the estates of persons adjudged or declared insolvent; and all persons who in any such case would be entitled to be paid out of such property, may come in under the preliminary decree, and make such claims against the same as they may respectively be entitled to by virtue of this Code.

14. (1) Where the Court decrees a claim to pre-emption in respect of a particular sale of property and the purchase-money has not been paid into Court, the decree shall—

(a) specify a day on or before which the purchase-money shall be so paid, and

(b) direct that on payment into Court of such purchase-money, together with the costs (if any) decreed against the plaintiff, on or before the day referred to in clause (a), the defendant shall deliver possession of the property to the plaintiff, whose title thereto shall be deemed to have accrued from the date of such payment, but that, if the purchase-money and the costs (if any) are not so paid, the suit shall be dismissed with costs.

(2) Where the Court has adjudicated upon rival claims to pre-emption, the decree shall direct—

(a) if and in so far as the claims decreed are equal in degree, that the claim of each pre-emptor complying with the provisions of sub-rule (1) shall take effect in respect of a proportionate share of the property including any proportionate share in respect of which the claim of any pre-emptor failing to comply with the said provisions would, but for such default, have taken effect; and,

(b) if and in so far as the claims decreed are different in degree, that the claim of the inferior pre-emptor shall not take effect unless and until the superior pre-emptor has failed to comply with the said provisions.

15. Where a suit is for the dissolution of a partnership, or the taking of partnership accounts, the Court, before passing a final decree, may pass a preliminary decree declaring the proportionate shares of the parties, fixing the day on which the partnership shall stand dissolved or be deemed to have been dissolved, and directing such accounts to be taken, and other acts to be done, as it thinks fit.

16. In a suit for an account of pecuniary transactions between a principal and agent, and in any other suit not hereinbefore provided for, where it is necessary, in order to ascertain the amount of money due to or from any party, that an account should be taken, the Court shall, before passing its final decree, pass a preliminary decree directing such accounts to be taken as it thinks fit.

17. Where the Court passes a decree for the partition of property or for the separate possession of a share therein, or separate possession then,—

[N.]

(1) if and in so far as the decree relates to an estate assessed as such to the payment of undivided revenue to the Government and the partition or separate possession is to affect the joint responsibility for the payment of such revenue, the decree shall declare the rights of the several parties interested in the property, but shall direct such partition or separation to be made by the Collector, or by any gazetted subordinate of the Collector deputed by him in this behalf, in accordance with such declaration and with the provisions of section 54;

(2) if and in so far as—

(a) such decree relates to any such estate as is referred to in clause (1), but the partition or separate possession is not to affect the joint responsibility for the payment to the Government of any undivided revenue to which such estate is assessed as such, or

(b) such decree relates to any other immoveable property or to moveable property, the Court may, if the partition or separation cannot be conveniently made without further inquiry, pass a preliminary decree declaring the rights of the several parties interested in the property and giving such further directions as may be required.

18. (1) Where the defendant has been allowed a set-off against the claim of the plaintiff, the decree shall state what amount is due to the plaintiff and what amount is due to the defendant, and shall be for the recovery of any sum which appears to be due to either party.

(2) Any decree passed in a suit in which a set-off is claimed shall be subject to the same provisions in respect of appeal from decree relating to set-off, as apply to an appeal to which it would have been subject if no set-off had been claimed.

(3) The provisions of this rule shall apply whether the set-off is admissible under rule 6 of Order VIII or otherwise.

19. Certified copies of the judgment and decree shall be furnished to the parties on application to the Court, and at their expense.

ORDER XXI.Execution of Decrees and Orders.Payment under Decree.

[S.]

(2) The judgment-debtor also may inform the Court of such payment or adjustment, and apply to the Court to issue a notice to the decree-holder to show cause, on a day to be fixed by the Court, why such payment or adjustment should not be recorded as certified; and if, after due service of such notice, the decree-holder fails to show cause why the payment or adjustment should not be recorded as certified, the Court shall record the same accordingly.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The First Schedule.)(Order XXI.)

7. The Court to which a decree is so sent shall cause such copies and certificate to be filed, without any further proof of the decree or order for execution, or of the copies thereof, or of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed it unless the former Court, for any special reasons to be recorded under the hand of the Judge, requires such proof.

8. When such copies are so filed, the decree or order may, if the Court to which it is sent be the District Court, be executed by such Court or by any subordinate Court which it directs to execute the same.

9. Where the Court to which the decree sent for execution is a High Court, the decree shall be executed by such Court in the same manner as if it had been made by such Court in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

Application for execution.

10. Where the holder of a decree desires to execute it, he shall apply to the Court which passed the decree or to the officer (if any) appointed in this behalf, or if the decree has been sent under the provisions hereinbefore contained to another Court then to such Court or to the proper officer thereof.

11. (1) Where a decree is for the payment of money only, the decree-holder may, at the time of the passing of the decree, apply orally to the Court for immediate execution. [S. 236.]

12. Where an application is made for the attachment of any moveable property belonging to a judgment-debtor but not in his possession, the decree-holder shall annex to the application an inventory of the property to be attached, containing a reasonably accurate description of the same. [S. 236.]

13. Where an application is made for the attachment of any immovable property belonging to a judgment-debtor, it shall contain at the foot— [S. 237.]

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.
(The First Schedule.)—(Order XXI.)

[S. 231.]

15. (1) Where a decree has been passed jointly in favour of more persons than one, any one or more of such persons may, unless the decree imposes any condition to the contrary, apply for the execution of the whole decree for the benefit of them all, or, where any of them has died, for the benefit of the survivors and the legal representatives of the deceased.

(2) Where the Court sees sufficient cause for allowing the decree to be executed on an application made under this section, it shall make such order as it deems necessary for protecting the interests of the persons who have not joined in the application.

16. Where a decree or, if a decree has been passed jointly in favour of two or more persons, the interest of any decree-holder in the decree is transferred by assignment in writing or by operation of law, the transferee may apply for execution of the decree to the Court which passed it; and the decree may be executed in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if the application were made by such decree-holder:

Provided that, where the decree, or such interest as aforesaid, has been transferred by assignment, notice in writing of such application shall be given to the transferor and the judgment-debtor, and the decree shall not be executed until the Court has heard their objections (if any) to its execution:

Provided also that, where a decree for the payment of money against two or more persons has been transferred to one of them, it shall not be executed against the others.

17. (1) On receiving an application for the execution of a decree as provided by rule 11, sub-rule (2), the Court shall ascertain whether such of the requirements of rules 11 to 14 as may be applicable to the case have been complied with; and, if they have not been complied with, the Court may reject the application, or may allow the defect to be remedied then and there or within a time to be fixed by it.

(2) Where an application is amended under the provisions of sub-rule (1), it shall be deemed to have been an application in accordance with law and presented on the date when it was first presented.

(3) Every amendment made under this rule shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

(4) When the application is admitted, the Court shall enter in the proper register a note of the application and the date on which it was made, and shall, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application:

Provided that, in the case of a decree for the payment of money, the value of the property attached shall, as nearly as may be, correspond with the amount for which the decree has been passed.

18. (1) Where applications are made to a Court for the execution of cross-decrees in separate suits for the payment of two sums of money passed between the same parties and capable of execution at the same time by such Court, then—

(a) if the two sums are equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees; and

(b) if the two sums are unequal, execution may be taken out only by the holder of the decree for the larger sum and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum.

(2) This rule shall be deemed to apply where either party is an assignee of one of the decrees and as well in respect of judgment-debts due by the original assignor as in respect of judgment-debts due by the assignee himself.

(3) This rule shall not be deemed to apply unless—

(a) the decree-holder in one of the suits in which the decrees have been made is the judgment-debtor in the other and each party fills the same character in both suits; and

(b) the sums due under the decrees are definite.

(4) The holder of a decree passed against several persons jointly and severally may treat it as a cross-decree in relation to a decree passed against him singly in favour of one or more of such persons.

Illustrations.

(a) A holds a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. B holds a decree against A for the payment of Rs. 1,000 in case A fails to deliver certain goods at a future day. B cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(b) A and B, co-plaintiffs, obtain a decree for Rs. 1,000 against C, and C obtains a decree for Rs. 1,000 against B. C cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(c) A obtains a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. C, who is a trustee for B, obtains a decree on behalf of B against A for Rs. 1,000. B cannot treat C's decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(d) A, B, C, D and E are jointly and severally liable for Rs. 1,000 under a decree obtained by F. A obtains a decree for Rs. 100 against F singly and applies for execution to the Court in which the joint decree is being executed. F may treat his joint decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

19. Where application is made to a Court for the execution of a decree under which two parties are entitled to recover sums of money from each other, then,—

(a) if the two sums are equal, satisfaction for both shall be entered upon the decree; and

(b) if the two sums are unequal, execution may be taken out only by the party entitled to the larger sum and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered upon the decree.

20. The Court may, in its discretion, refuse execution at the same time against the person and property of the judgment-debtor.

21. (1) Where an application for execution is made—

[New.]

(a) more than one year after the date of the decree, or

(b) against the legal representative of a party to the decree, the Court executing the decree shall issue a notice to the person against whom execution is applied for requiring him to show cause, on a date to be fixed, why the decree should not be executed against him:

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution if the application is made within one year from the date of the last order against the party against whom execution is applied for, passed on any previous application for execution, or in consequence of the application being made against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person the Court has ordered execution to issue against him.

(2) Nothing in the foregoing sub-rule shall be deemed to preclude the Court from issuing any process in execution of a decree without issuing the notice thereby prescribed, if, for reasons to be recorded, it considers that the issue of such notice would cause unreasonable delay or would defeat the ends of justice.

22. (1) Where the person to whom notice is issued under the last preceding rule does not appear or does not show cause to the satisfaction of the Court why the decree should not be executed, the Court shall order the decree to be executed.

(2) Where such person offers any objection to the execution of the decree, the Court shall consider such objection and make such order as it thinks fit.

Process for execution.

23. (1) When the preliminary measures (if any) required by the foregoing rules have been taken, the Court shall, unless it sees cause to the contrary, issue its process for the execution of the decree.

[S. 250.]

(2) Every such process shall bear date the day on which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Judge or such officer as the Court may appoint in this behalf, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court and delivered to the proper officer to be executed.

[S. 251, first para.]

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.
(The First Schedule.)—(Order XXI.)

(3) In every such process a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be executed.

Return of process for execution of decree.

[S. 363;
includes latter part of 251.]

24. (1) The officer entrusted with the execution of the process shall endorse thereon the day on, and the manner in, which it was executed, and, if the latest day specified in the process for the return thereof has been exceeded, the reason of the delay, or, if it was not executed, the reason why it was not executed, and shall return the process with such endorsement to the Court.

[S. 343.] (2) Where the endorsement is to the effect that such officer is unable to execute the process, the Court shall examine him touching his alleged inability, and may, if it thinks fit, summon and examine witnesses as to such inability and shall record the result.

Stay of execution.

[S. 230.]

25. (1) The Court to which a decree has been sent for execution shall, upon sufficient cause being shown, stay the execution of such decree for a reasonable time, to enable the judgment-debtor to apply to the Court by which the decree was made, or to any Court having appellate jurisdiction in respect of the decree or the execution thereof, for an order to stay the execution, or for any other order relating to the decree or execution which might have been made by such Court of first instance or appellate Court if execution had been issued thereby, or if application for execution had been made thereto.

[S. 230.]

(2) Where the property or person of the judgment-debtor has been seized under an execution, the Court, which issued the execution may order the restitution or discharge of such property or person pending the result of the application for such order.

[S. 240.]

26. Before passing an order under rule 25 to stay execution or for the restitution of property on the discharge of the judgment-debtor, the Court may require such security from, or impose conditions upon, the judgment-debtor as it thinks fit.

[S. 241.]

27. No discharge under rule 25 of the property or person of a judgment-debtor shall prevent it or him from being retaken in execution of the decree sent for execution.

[S. 242.]

28. Any order of the Court by which the decree was passed, or of such Court of appeal as aforesaid, in relation to the execution of such decree, shall be binding upon the Court to which decree was sent for execution.

[S. 243.]

29. Where a suit is pending in any Court against the holder of a decree of such Court, on the part of the person against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, on such terms as to security or otherwise, as it thinks fit, stay execution of the decree until the pending suit has been decided.

Mode of execution.

30. Every decree for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both.

31. (1) Where the decree is for any specific moveable, or for any share in a specific moveable, it may be executed by the seizure, if practicable, of the moveable or share, and by the delivery thereof to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he appoints to receive delivery on his behalf, or by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

(2) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) has remained in force for six months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold, and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder, in cases where any amount has been fixed by the decree to be paid as an alternative to delivery of moveable property, such amount, and, in other cases, such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of six months from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or, if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

32. (1) Where the party against whom a decree for the specific performance of a contract, or for restitution of conjugal rights, or for an injunction, has been passed, has had an opportunity of obeying the decree and has willfully failed to obey it, the decree may be enforced by his detention in the civil prison, or by the attachment of his property, or by both, or, if the party against whom a decree for specific performance or for an injunction has been passed is a corporation, then with the leave of the Court, by the detention in the civil prison of the directors or other principal officers thereof.

(2) Where any attachment under this rule has remained in force for one year, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, the property may be sold; and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of one year from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or if made has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(4) Where a decree for the specific performance of a contract or for an injunction has not been obeyed, the Court may, in lieu of or in addition to all or any of the processes aforesaid, direct that the act required to be done may be done so far as practicable by the decree-holder or some other person appointed by the Court, at the cost of the judgment-debtor, and upon the act being done the expenses incurred may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct and may be recovered as if they were included in a decree.

[O. 42, 1. 30.]

Illustration.

A, a person of little substance, erects a building which renders uninhabitable a family mansion belonging to B. A, in spite of his detention in prison and the attachment of his property, declines to obey a decree obtained against him by B and directing him to remove the building. The Court is of opinion that no sum realizable by the sale of A's property would adequately compensate B for the depreciation in the value of his mansion. B may apply to the Court to remove the building and may recover the cost of such removal from A in the execution-proceedings.

33. (1) Notwithstanding anything in rule 32, the Court, either at the time of passing a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights or at any time afterwards, may order that the decree shall not be executed either by detention in prison, or by attachment of property.

[O. 47 & 48
Vict., c. 68,
ss. 2 to 4.]

(2) Where the Court has made an order under sub-rule (1), and the decree-holder is the wife, it may order that, in the event of the decree not being obeyed within such period as may be fixed in this behalf, the judgment-debtor shall make to the decree-holder such periodical payments as may be just, and, if it thinks fit, require that the judgment-debtor shall, to its satisfaction, secure to the decree-holder such periodical payments.

(3) The Court may from time to time vary or modify any order made under sub-rule (2) for the periodical payment of money, either by altering the times of payment or by increasing or diminishing the amount, or may temporarily suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again revive the same, either wholly or in part as it may think just.

(4) Any money ordered to be paid under this rule may be recovered as though it were payable under a decree or the payment of money.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The First Schedule.)(Order XXI.)Arrest and detention in the civil prison.

34. (1) Where a decree is for the execution of a document or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument and the judgment-debtor neglects or refuses to obey the decree, the decree-holder may prepare a draft of the document or endorsement in accordance with the terms of the decree and deliver the same to the Court.

(2) The Court shall thereupon cause the draft to be served on the judgment-debtor in the manner hereinbefore provided for the service of summons, together with a notice in writing requiring his objections (if any) to be made within such time as the Court fixes in this behalf.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor objects to the draft, his objections shall be stated in writing within such time, and the Court shall make such order approving or altering the draft, as it thinks fit.

(4) The decree-holder may deliver to the Court a document being a fair copy of the draft with such alterations (if any) as the Court may have directed upon the proper stamp-paper if a stamp is required by the law for the time being in force; and the Judge or such officer as may be appointed in this behalf shall execute the document so delivered.

(5) The execution of a document or the endorsement of a negotiable instrument under this rule may be in the following form, namely:—

“C. D., Judge of the Court of (or as the case may be), for A. B., in a suit by E. F. against A. B.”, and shall have the same effect as the execution of the document or the endorsement of the negotiable instrument by the party ordered to execute or endorse the same.

(6) The Court, or such officer as it may appoint in this behalf, shall cause the document to be registered if its registration is required by the law for the time being in force or the decree-holder desires to have it registered, and may make such order as it thinks fit as to the payment of the expenses of the registration.

35. (1) Where a decree is for the delivery of any immovable property, possession thereof shall be delivered to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, and, if necessary, by removing any person bound by the decree who refuses to vacate the property.

(2) Where a decree is for the joint possession of immovable property, such possession shall be delivered by affixing a copy of the warrant on some conspicuous place on the property and proclaiming by beat of drum, or other customary mode, the substance of the decree.

(3) Where possession of any building or enclosure is to be delivered and the person in possession, being bound by the decree, does not afford free access, the Court, through its officers, may, after giving reasonable warning and facility to any woman not appearing in public according to the customs of the country to withdraw, remove or open any lock or bolt or break open any door or do any other act necessary for putting the decree-holder in possession.

36. Where a decree is for the delivery of any immovable property in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same and not bound by the decree to relinquish such occupancy, the Court shall order delivery to be made by affixing a copy of the warrant on some conspicuous place on the property, and proclaiming to the occupant by beat of drum or other customary mode, at some convenient place, the substance of the decree in regard to the property:

Provided that, if the occupant is found, a notice in writing containing such substance shall be served upon him, and in such case no proclamation need be made.

37. (1) Notwithstanding anything in these rules, where an application is for the execution of a decree for the payment of money by the arrest and detention in the civil prison of a judgment-debtor who is liable to be arrested in pursuance of the application, the Court may, instead of issuing a warrant for his arrest, issue a notice calling upon him to appear before the Court on a day to be specified in the notice and show cause why he should not be committed to the civil prison.

(2) Where appearance is not made in obedience to the notice, the Court shall, if the decree-holder so requires, issue a warrant for the arrest of the judgment-debtor.

[S. 337.]

38. Every warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor shall direct the officer entrusted with its execution to bring him before the Court with all convenient speed, unless the amount which he has been ordered to pay, together with the interest thereon and the costs (if any) to which he is liable, be sooner paid.

[S. 653.]

39. (1) At any time after a warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor has been issued the Court may cancel it on the ground of his serious illness.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor has been arrested, the Court may release him if, in its opinion, he is not in a fit state of health to be detained in the civil prison.

[S. 33.]

40. (1) Where a judgment-debtor who has not been released under the provisions of section 55, sub-section (1), appears before the Court in obedience to a notice issued under rule 37, or is brought before the Court after being arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money, and it appears to the Court that the judgment-debtor is unable from poverty or other sufficient cause to pay the amount of the decree or, if that amount is payable by instalments, the amount of any instalment thereof, the Court may, upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order disallowing the application for his arrest and detention, or directing his release, as the case may be.

(2) Before making an order under sub-rule (1), the Court may take into consideration any allegation of the decree-holder touching any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the decree being for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in any fiduciary capacity to account;

(b) the transfer, concealment or removal by the judgment-debtor of any part of his property after the date of the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, or the commission by him after that date of any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree;

(c) any undue preference given by the judgment-debtor to any of his other creditors;

(d) refusal or neglect on the part of the judgment-debtor to pay the amount of the decree or some part thereof when he has, or since the date of the decree has had, the means of paying it;

(e) the likelihood of the judgment-debtor absconding or leaving the jurisdiction of the Court with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this rule may be re-arrested.

(5) Where the Court does not make an order under sub-rule (1), it shall cause the judgment-debtor to be arrested if he has not already been arrested and, subject to the other provisions of this Code, commit him to the civil prison.

41. Where a decree is for the payment of money the decree-holder may apply to the Court for an order—

- (a) that the judgment-debtor, or
- (b) in the case of a corporation, any officer thereof, or
- (c) any other person, be orally examined as to whether any or what debts are owing to the judgment-debtor and whether the judgment-debtor has any and what other property or means of satisfying the decree; and the Court may make an order for the attendance and examination of such judgment-debtor, or officer or any other person, and for the production of any books or documents.

[S. 255.]

42. Where a decree directs an inquiry as to rent or mesne profits or any other matter, the property of the judgment-debtor may, before the amount due from him has been ascertained, be attached, as in the case of an ordinary decree for the payment of money.

[S. 269.]

43. Where the property to be attached is moveable property, other than agricultural produce, in the possession of judgment-debtor, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the attaching officer shall keep the property in his own custody or in the custody of one of his subordinates, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof:

Provided that, when the property seized is subject to speedy and natural decay, or when the expense of keeping it in custody is likely to exceed its value, the attaching officer may sell it at once.

[New.]

and another copy on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which the judgment-debtor ordinarily resides or, with the leave of the Court, on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which he carries on business or personally works for gain or in which he is known to have last resided or to have personally worked for gain; and the produce shall thereupon be deemed to have passed into the possession of the Court.

(2) Where agricultural produce is attached under sub-rule (1), the Court shall make such arrangements for the custody thereof as it may deem sufficient and, for the purpose of enabling the Court to make such arrangements, every application for the attachment of a growing crop shall specify the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

(3) Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Court in this behalf either in the order of attachment or in any subsequent order, the judgment-debtor may tend, cut, gather and store the produce and do any other act necessary for maturing or preserving it; and if the judgment-debtor fails to do all or any of such acts, the decree-holder may, with the permission of the Court and subject to the like conditions, do all or any of them either by himself or by any person appointed by him in this behalf, and the costs incurred by the decree-holder shall be recoverable from the judgment-debtor as if they were included in, or formed part of, the decree.

(4) Agricultural produce attached as a growing crop shall not be deemed to have ceased to be under attachment or to require re-attachment merely because it has been severed from the soil.

(5) Where an order for the attachment of a growing crop has been made at a considerable time before the crop is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered, the Court may suspend the execution of the order for such time as it thinks fit, and may, in its discretion, make a further order prohibiting the removal of the crop pending the execution of the order of attachment.

(6) A growing crop which from its nature does not admit of being stored shall not be attached under this rule at any time less than twenty days before the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

(3) Every order made under this rule, unless it is returned in accordance with the provisions of sub-rule (2), shall, without further notice or other process, bind the Government or the railway company or local authority, as the case may be, while the judgment-debtor is within the local limits to which this Code for the time being extends and while he is beyond those limits if he is in receipt of any salary or allowances payable out of His Majesty's Indian revenues or the funds of a railway company carrying on business in any part of British India or local authority in British India; and the Government or the railway company or local authority, as the case may be, shall be liable for any sum paid in contravention of this rule.

Upon the dismissal of such application the attachment shall cease.

Investigation of claims and objections.

[S. 278.]

57. (1) Where any claim is preferred to, or any objection is made to the attachment of, any property attached in execution of a decree on the ground that such property is not liable to such attachment, the Court shall proceed to investigate the claim or objection with the like power as regards the examination of the claimant or objector, and in all other respects, as if he was a party to the suit:

(3) Where property is divided into lots for the purpose of being sold separately, it shall not be necessary to make a separate proclamation for each lot, unless proper notice of the sale cannot, in the opinion of the Court, otherwise be given.

[S. 290.]

67. Save in the case of property of the kind described in the proviso to rule 43, no sale hereunder shall, without the consent in writing of the judgment-debtor, take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days in the case of immovable property, and of at least fifteen days in the case of moveable property, calculated from the date on which the copy of the proclamation has been affixed in the court-house of the Judge ordering the sale.

[S. 291.]

68. (1) The Court may, in its discretion adjourn any sale hereunder to a specified day and hour, and the officer conducting any such sale may in his discretion adjourn the sale, recording his reasons for such adjournment:

Provided that, where the sale is made in, or within the precincts of, the court-house, no such adjournment shall be made without the leave of the Court.

(2) Where a sale is adjourned under sub-rule (1) for a longer period than seven days, a fresh proclamation under rule 66 shall be made, unless the judgment-debtor consents to waive it.

(3) Every sale shall be stopped if, before the lot is knocked down, the debt and costs (including the costs of the sale) are tendered to the officer conducting the sale, or proof is given to his satisfaction that the amount of such debt and costs has been paid into the Court which ordered the sale.

69. Nothing in rules 65 to 68 shall be deemed to apply to any case in which the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector.

[S. 293.]

70. Any deficiency of price which may happen on a re-sale by reason of the purchaser's default, and all expenses attending such re-sale, shall be certified to the Court or to the Collector or subordinate of the Collector, as the case may be, by the officer or other person holding the sale, and shall, at the instance of either the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor, be recoverable from the defaulting purchaser under the provisions relating to the execution of a decree for the payment of money.

[S. 294.]

71. (1) No holder of a decree in execution of which property is sold shall, without the express permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the property.

(2) Where a decree-holder purchases with such permission, the purchase-money and the amount due on the decree may, subject to the provisions of section 73, be set off against one another, and the Court executing the decree shall enter up satisfaction of the decree in whole or in part accordingly.

(3) Where a decree-holder purchases, by himself or through another person, without such permission, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the judgment-debtor or any other person whose interests are affected by the sale, by order set aside the sale; and the costs of such application and order, and any deficiency of price which may happen on the re-sale and all expenses attending it, shall be paid by the decree-holder.

72. No officer or other person having any duty to perform in connection with any sale shall, either directly or indirectly, bid for, acquire or attempt to acquire any interest in the property sold.

(2) Where, on the produce being put up for sale,—

(a) a fair price, in the estimation of the person holding the sale, is not offered for it, and

(b) the owner of the produce or a person authorised to act in his behalf applies to have the sale postponed till the next day or, if a market is held at the place of sale, the next market-day, the sale shall be postponed accordingly and shall be then completed, whatever price may be offered for the produce.

(3) Where the Court has ordered the sale of agricultural produce with respect to which a precept has been issued under rule 45, clause (b), the Collector, or any subordinate of the Collector deputed by him, shall have all the powers and perform all the duties of the Court relating to the sale of such produce.

(4) Where agricultural produce is sold by the Collector or any subordinate of the Collector deputed by him, the proceeds, after deduction of all expenses authorized by or under this Code or any other enactment for the time being in force, shall, together with an account of the same, be transmitted to the Court.

(2) Where the crop from its nature does not admit of being stored, it may be sold before it is cut and gathered, and the purchaser shall be entitled to enter on the land, and to do all that is necessary for the purpose of tending and cutting or gathering it.

[S. 298.] 77. No irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale of moveable property shall vitiate the sale; but any person sustaining any injury by reason of such irregularity at the hand of any other person may institute a suit against him for compensation or (if such other person is the purchaser) for the recovery of the specific property and for compensation in default of such recovery.

[S. 299.] 78. (1) Where the property sold is moveable property of which actual seizure has been made, it shall be delivered to the purchaser.

[S. 300.] Delivery of moveable property, debts and shares.

(2) Where the property sold is moveable property in the possession of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the delivery thereof to the purchaser shall be made by giving notice to the person in possession prohibiting him from delivering possession of the property to any person except the purchaser.

[S. 301.] (3) Where the property sold is a debt not secured by a negotiable instrument, or is a share in a corporation, the delivery thereof shall be made by a written order of the Court prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debt or any interest thereon, and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person except the purchaser, or prohibiting the person in whose name the share may be standing from making any transfer of the share to any person except the purchaser, or receiving payment of any dividend or interest thereon, and the manager, secretary or other proper officer of the corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment to any person except the purchaser.

[S. 302.] 79. (1) Where a document or the endorsement of the party in whose name a negotiable instrument or a share in a corporation is standing is required to transfer such negotiable instrument or share, the Judge or such officer as he may appoint in this behalf may execute such document or make such endorsement as may be necessary, and such execution or endorsement shall have the same effect as an execution or endorsement by the party.

(2) Such execution or endorsement may be in the following form, namely:—

A. B. by C. D., Judge of the Court of (or as the case may be), in a suit by E. F. against A. B.

(3) Until the transfer of such negotiable instrument or share, the Court may, by order, appoint some person to receive any interest or dividend due thereon and to sign a receipt for the same; and any receipt so signed shall be as valid and effectual for all purposes as if the same had been signed by the party himself.

[S. 303.] 80. In the case of any moveable property not hereinbefore provided for, the Court may make an order vesting such property in the purchaser or as he may direct; and such property shall vest accordingly.

Sale of immoveable property.

[S. 304.] 81. Sales of immoveable property in execution of decrees may be ordered by any Court other than a Court of Small Causes.

82. (1) Where an order for the sale of immoveable property has been made, if the judgment-debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reason to believe that the amount of the decree may be raised by the mortgage or lease or private sale of such property, or some part thereof, or of any other immoveable property of the judgment-debtor, the Court may, on his application, postpone the sale of the property comprised in the order for sale on such terms and for such period as it thinks proper, to enable him to raise the amount.

(2) In such case the Court shall grant a certificate to the judgment-debtor authorizing him within a period to be mentioned therein, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 64, to make the proposed mortgage, lease or sale:

Provided that all monies payable under such mortgage, lease or sale shall be paid, not to the judgment-debtor, but, save in so far as a decree-holder is entitled to set-off such money under the provisions of rule 71, into Court:

Provided also that no mortgage, lease or sale under this rule shall become absolute until it has been confirmed by the Court.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to apply to a sale of property directed to be sold in execution of a decree for the enforcement of a mortgage of, or charge on, such property.

83. (1) On every sale of immoveable property the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer or other person conducting the sale, and, in default of such deposit, the property shall forthwith be re-sold.

(2) Where the decree-holder is the purchaser and is entitled to set-off the purchase-money under rule 71, the Court may dispense with the requirements of this rule.

84. The full amount of purchase-money payable shall be paid by the purchaser into Court before the Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property:

Provided that, in calculating the amount to be so paid into Court, the purchaser shall have the advantage of any set-off to which he may be entitled under rule 71.

85. In default of payment within the period mentioned in the last preceding rule, the deposit may, if the Court thinks fit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, be forfeited to the Government, and the property shall be re-sold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold.

86. Every re-sale of immoveable property, in default of payment of the purchase-money within the period allowed for such payment, shall be made after the issue of a fresh proclamation in the manner and for the period hereinbefore prescribed for the sale.

87. Where the property sold is a share of undivided immoveable property and two or more persons, of whom one is a co-sharer, respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot, the bid shall be deemed to be the bid of the co-sharer.

88. (1) Where immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree of any kind, including a decree in a suit for sale for the enforcement of a mortgage or charge, any person, either owning such property or holding an interest therein by virtue of a title acquired before such sale, may, at any time within thirty days from the date of the sale, apply to have the sale set aside on his depositing in Court,—

(a) for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to five per cent. of the purchase-money, and

(b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree-holder.

(2) Where a person applies under rule 89 to set aside the sale of his immoveable property, he shall not, unless he withdraws his application, be entitled to make or prosecute an application under this rule.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall relieve the judgment-debtor from any liability he may be under in respect of costs and interest not covered by the proclamation of sale.

[S. 311.] 89. (1) Where any immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree, the decree-holder, or any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets, or whose interests are affected by the sale, may apply to the Court to set aside the sale on the ground of a material irregularity in publishing or conducting it :

Provided that no sale shall be set aside on the ground of irregularity unless upon the facts proved the Court is satisfied that the applicant has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity.

[S. 313.] 90. The purchaser at any sale in execution of a decree may apply to the Court to set aside the sale, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest therein in the property sold.

[Ss. 312, 314.] 91. (1) Where no application is made under rule 88, rule 89 or rule 90, or where such application is made and disallowed, the Court shall make an order confirming the sale, and thereupon the sale shall become absolute.

(2) Where such application is made and allowed, and where, in the case of an application under rule 88, the deposit required by that rule is made within thirty days from the date of sale, the Court shall make an order setting aside the sale :

Provided that no order shall be made unless notice of the application has been given to all persons affected thereby.

(3) No suit to set aside an order made under this rule shall be brought by any person against whom such order is made.

[S. 315.] 92. Where a sale of immoveable property is set aside under rule 91, the purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of his purchase-money, with or without interest as the Court may direct, against any person to whom it has been paid.

[S. 316.] 93. Where a sale of immoveable property has become absolute, the Court shall grant a certificate specifying the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser. Such certificate shall bear date the day on which the sale became absolute.

[S. 318.] 94. Where the immoveable property sold is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor or of some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under a title created by the judgment-debtor subsequently to the attachment of such property and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 93, the Court shall, on the application of the purchaser made within three years from the date of the certificate, order delivery to be made by putting such purchaser or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf in possession of the property, and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same.

95. Where the property sold is in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule

93, the Court shall, on the application of the purchaser made within three years from the date of the certificate, order delivery to be made by affixing a copy of the certificate of sale in some conspicuous place on the property, and proclaiming to the occupant by beat of drum or other customary mode, at some convenient place, that the interest of the judgment-debtor has been transferred to the purchaser.

Resistance to execution.

96. (1) Where in the execution of a decree for the possession of property, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant is resisted or obstructed by any person, the decree-holder may apply to the Court at any time within one month from the date of such resistance or obstruction.

(2) The Court shall fix a day for investigating the matter, and shall summon the party against whom the complaint is made to answer the same.

97. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that the obstruction or resistance was occasioned by the judgment-debtor or by some other person at his instigation, the Court shall inquire into the matter, and make such order as it thinks fit.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction was without any just cause and that the complainant is still resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property by the judgment-debtor or by some other person at his instigation, the Court may, at the instance of the decree-holder, order the judgment-debtor or such other person to be detained in the Civil prison for a term which may extend to thirty days, and further direct that the decree-holder be put into the possession of the property.

98. Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction has been occasioned by any person (other than the judgment-debtor) claiming in good faith to be in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the Court shall proceed to investigate the matter and shall make such order as it thinks fit.

99. (1) Where any person other than the judgment-debtor is dispossessed of any property in execution of a decree and disputes the right of the decree-holder to dispossess him of such property under the decree on the ground that the property was in his possession on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor, and that it was not comprised in the decree, or that, if it was comprised in the decree, he was not a party to the suit in which the decree was passed, he may apply to the Court.

(2) Where it appears to the Court that there is probable cause for making the application, the Court shall proceed to investigate the matter in controversy, and, if it finds that any of the grounds or dispute mentioned in sub-rule (1) exists, it shall make an order that the applicant recover possession of the property, and, if it does not find as aforesaid, it shall dismiss the application.

(3) In hearing applications under this rule, the Court shall confine itself to the grounds of dispute mentioned in sub-rule (1).

(The First Schedule.)

(Orders XXI, XXII.)

- [S. 333.] 100. Nothing in rule 98 or rule 99 shall be deemed to apply to a person to whom the judgment-debtor has transferred the property after the institution of the suit in which the decree is passed.
- [S. 334.] 101. Where the purchaser of any immoveable property sold in execution of a decree is resisted or obstructed by the judgment-debtor or by some other person at the instigation of the judgment-debtor in obtaining possession of the property, the provisions relating to resistance or obstruction to a decree-holder in obtaining possession of the property adjudged to him shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply.
- [S. 335.] 102. Where the purchaser of any such property is resisted or obstructed by any person (other than the judgment-debtor) claiming in good faith a right to the present possession thereof, or where, in delivering possession thereof, any such person is dispossessed, the Court, on the complaint of the purchaser or the person so dispossessed, shall inquire into the matter of the resistance, obstruction or dispossession, as the case may be, and make such order thereon as it thinks fit.
- [S. 335, second para.] 103. The person against whom an order is made under rule 98, rule 99 or rule 102 may institute a suit to establish the right which he claims to the present possession of the property, but, subject to the result of such suit (if any), the order so made shall be conclusive.

ORDER XXII.

Death, Marriage and Insolvency of Parties.

- [S. 361.] 1. The death of a plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate if the party's death, if right to sue survives.
- [S. 362.] 2. Where there are more plaintiffs or defendants than one, and any of them dies, and where the right to sue survives to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone, or against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, the Court shall cause an entry to that effect to be made on the record, and the suit shall proceed at the instance of the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs, or against the surviving defendant or defendants.
- [S. 363.] 3. Where there are more plaintiffs than one, and any of them dies, and where the right to sue does not survive to the surviving plaintiff or plaintiffs alone, but survives to him or them and the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff jointly, the Court, on an application made in that behalf, may cause the legal representative (if any) of the deceased plaintiff to be made a party, and shall thereupon cause an entry to that effect to be made on the record and proceed with the suit.
- [S. 365.] 4. In case of the death of a sole plaintiff or sole surviving plaintiff, the legal representative of the deceased may, where the right to sue survives, apply to the Court to have his name entered on the record in place of the deceased plaintiff, and the Court shall thereupon enter his name and proceed with the suit.
- [S. 366.] 5. Where within the time limited by law no application under the last preceding rule is made to the Court by any person claiming to be the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, the Court may make an order declaring that the suit has abated, and, on the application of the defendant, award to him the costs which he may have incurred in defending the suit, to be recovered from the estate of the deceased plaintiff; or the Court may, on the application of the defendant, and upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, make an order for bringing in the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, and for proceeding with the suit in order to a final determination of the matter in dispute.

6. Where any dispute arises as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff, the Court shall determine who shall be deemed to be such legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit.

7. (1) Where one of two or more defendants dies and the right to sue does not survive against the surviving defendants, or of sole, or defendant or defendants alone, sole surviving defendant, or a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant dies and the right to sue survives, the plaintiff may make an application to the Court specifying the name, description, and place of residence of any person whom he alleges to be the legal representative of the deceased defendant, and whom he desires to be made the defendant in his stead.

(2) The Court shall thereupon enter the name of such representative on the record in the place of such defendant, and shall issue a summons to such representative to appear on a day to be therein mentioned to defend the suit, and the case shall thereupon proceed in the same manner as if such representative had originally been made a defendant and had been a party to the former proceedings in the suit.

Provided that the person so made a defendant may object that he is not the legal representative of the deceased defendant, or may make any defence appropriate to his character as such representative.

(3) Where the plaintiff fails to make such application within the period prescribed therefor, an order shall be made declaring that the suit has abated as against the deceased defendant.

(4) The legal representative of a deceased defendant may apply to have himself made a defendant in place of the deceased defendant, and the provisions of this rule, so far as they are applicable, shall apply to the application and to the proceedings and consequences ensuing thereon.

8. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules, whether the cause of action survives or not, there shall be no abatement by reason of the death of either party between the conclusion of the hearing and the pronouncing of the judgment, but judgment may in such case be pronounced notwithstanding the death, and may be antedated accordingly.

9. (1) The marriage of a female plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate, but the suit may notwithstanding be proceeded with to judgment, and, where the decree is against a female defendant, it may be executed against her alone.

(2) Where the husband is by law liable for the debts of his wife, the decree may, with the permission of the Court, be executed against the husband also; and, in case of judgment for the wife, execution of the decree may, with such permission, be issued upon the application of the husband, where the husband is by law entitled to the subject-matter of the decree.

10. (1) The insolvency of a plaintiff in any suit in which the assignee or receiver of his creditors, shall not cause the suit to abate, unless such assignee or receiver declines to continue the suit or (unless for any special reason the Court otherwise directs) to give security for the costs thereof within such time as the Court may direct.

(2) Where the assignee or receiver neglects or refuses to continue the suit and to give such security within the time so ordered, the defendant may apply for the dismissal of the suit on the ground of the plaintiff's insolvency, and the Court may make an order dismissing the suit and awarding to the defendant the costs which he has incurred in defending the same to be proved as a debt against the plaintiff's estate.

11. (1) Where a suit abates or is dismissed under this Order, no fresh suit shall be brought on the same cause of action.

(2) The plaintiff or the person claiming to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or the assignee or the receiver in the case of an insolvent plaintiff may apply for an order to set aside the abatement or dismissal; and, if it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from continuing the suit, the Court shall set aside the abatement or dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

[S. 372.]

15. The provisions of paragraph 2 of section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, shall apply to applications under this Order.

ORDER XXIII.

Withdrawal and Adjustment of Suits.

[S. 373.]

1. (1) At any time after the institution of a suit the plaintiff may, as against all or any of the defendants, withdraw his suit or abandon part of his claim.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied—

(a) that a suit must fail by reason of some formal defect, or

(b) that there are other sufficient grounds for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit for the subject-matter of a suit or part of a claim, it may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant the plaintiff permission to withdraw from such suit or abandon such part of a claim with liberty to institute a fresh suit in respect of such subject-matter of such suit or such part of a claim.

(3) Where the plaintiff withdraws from a suit, or abandons a part of a claim, without the permission referred to in sub-rule (2), he shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award and shall be precluded from instituting any fresh suit in respect of such subject-matter or such part of the claim.

(4) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to authorize the Court to permit one of several plaintiffs to withdraw without the consent of the others.

2. In any fresh suit instituted on permission granted under the last preceding rule, the plaintiff shall be bound by the law of limitation in the same manner as if the first suit had not been instituted.

[S. 374.]

3. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or where the defendant satisfies the plaintiff in respect of the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the suit, the Court shall order such agreement, compromise or satisfaction to be recorded, and shall pass a decree in accordance therewith so far as it relates to the suit, and such decree shall be conclusive so far as relates to so much of the subject-matter of the suit as is dealt with by the agreement, compromise or satisfaction.

[S. 375.]

4. Nothing in this Order shall apply to any proceedings in execution of a decree.

[S. 375A.]

Payment into Court.

1. The defendant in any suit to recover a debt or damages may, at any stage of the suit, deposit in Court such sum of money as he considers a satisfaction in full of the claim.

[S. 376.]

2. Notice in writing of the deposit shall be given through the Court by the defendant to the plaintiff, and the amount of the deposit shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be paid to the plaintiff on his application.

[S. 377.]

3. No interest shall be allowed to the plaintiff on any sum deposited by the defendant from the date of the receipt of such notice, whether the sum deposited is in full of the claim or falls short thereof.

[S. 378.]

4. (1) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in part only of his claim, he may prosecute his suit for the balance; and, if the Court decides that the deposit by the defendant was a full satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, the plaintiff shall pay the costs of the suit incurred after the deposit and the costs incurred previous thereto, so far as they were caused by excess in the plaintiff's claim.

[S. 379.]

(2) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in full of his claim, he shall present to the Court a statement to that effect, and such statement shall be filed and the Court shall pronounce judgment accordingly; and, in directing by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, the Court shall consider which of the parties is most to blame for the litigation.

Illustrations.

(a) A owes B Rs. 100. B sues A for the amount, having made no demand for payment and having no reason to believe that the delay caused by making a demand would place him at a disadvantage. On the plaint being filed, A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim, but the Court should not allow him any costs, the litigation being presumably groundless on his part.

(b) B sues A under the circumstances mentioned in illustration (a). On the plaint being filed, A disputes the claim. Afterwards A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(c) A owes B Rs. 100, and is willing to pay him that sum without suit. B claims Rs. 150 and sues A for that amount. On the plaint being filed A pays Rs. 100 into Court and disputes only his liability to pay the remaining Rs. 50. B accepts the Rs. 100 in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should order him to pay A's costs.

(2) Where a suit is dismissed under this rule, the plaintiff may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from furnishing the security within the time allowed, the Court shall set aside the dismissal upon such terms as to security costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

(3) The dismissal shall not be set aside unless notice of such application has been served on the defendant.

[S. 388.]

(2) The proceedings and report (if any) of the Commissioner shall be received in evidence in the suit, unless the Court has reason to be dissatisfied with them, in which case the Court shall direct such further inquiry as it shall think fit.

[S. 396, second and third paras.]

14. (1) The Commissioner shall, after such inquiry as may be necessary, divide the property into as many shares as may be directed by the order under which the commission was issued, and shall allot such shares to the parties, and may, if authorized thereto by the said order, award sums to be paid for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares.

(2) The Commissioner shall then prepare and sign a report or (where the commission was issued to more than one person and they cannot agree) separate reports appointing the share of each party and distinguishing each share (if so directed by the said order) by metes and bounds. Such report or reports shall be annexed to the commission and transmitted to the Court; and the Court, after hearing any objections which the parties may make to the report or reports, shall confirm, vary or set aside the same.

(3) Where the Court confirms or varies the report or reports it shall pass a decree in accordance with the same as confirmed or varied; but where the Court sets aside the report or reports it shall either issue a new commission or make such other order as it shall think fit.

General provisions.

15. Before issuing any commission under this Order, the Court may order such sum (if any) as it thinks reasonable for the expenses of the commission to be, within a time to be fixed, paid into Court by the party at whose instance or for whose benefit the commission is issued.

16. Any Commissioner appointed under this Order may, unless otherwise directed by the order of appointment,—

- (a) examine the parties themselves and any witnesses whom they or any of them may produce, and any other person whom the Commissioner thinks proper to call upon to give evidence in the matter referred to him;
- (b) call for and examine documents and other things relevant to the subject of inquiry;
- (c) at any reasonable time enter upon or into any land or building mentioned in the order.

17. (1) The provisions of this Code relating to the summoning, attendance and examination of witnesses, and to the remuneration of, and penalties to be imposed upon, witnesses, shall apply to persons required to give evidence or to produce documents under this Order whether the commission in execution of which they are so required has been issued by a Court situate within or by a Court situate beyond the limits of British India, and for the purposes of this rule the Commissioner shall be deemed to be a Civil Court.

(2) A Commissioner may apply to any Court (not being a High Court) within the local limits of whose jurisdiction a witness resides for the issue of any process which he may find it necessary to issue to or against such witness, and such Court may, in its discretion, issue such process as it considers reasonable and proper.

18. (1) Where a commission is issued under this Order, the Court shall direct that the parties to the suit shall appear before the Commissioner in person or by their agent or pleaders.

(2) Where all or any of the parties do not so appear, the Commissioner may proceed in their absence.

ORDER XXVII.Suits by or against the Government or Public Officers in their official capacity.

1. In any suit by or against the Secretary of State in Council, the plaint or written statement, as the case may be, shall be signed by such person as the Government may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, and shall be verified by any person whom the Government may so appoint and who is acquainted with the facts of the case.

2. Persons being ex officio or otherwise authorized to act for the Government in respect of any judicial proceeding shall be deemed to be the recognized agents by whom appearances, acts and applications under this Code may be made or done on behalf of the Government.

The Court, in fixing the day for the Secretary of State for India in Council to answer to the plaint, shall allow a reasonable time for the necessary communication with the Government through the proper channel, and for the issue of instructions to the Government pleader to appear and answer on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council or the Government, and may extend the time at its discretion.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The First Schedule.)(Orders XXVII—XXX.)

[S. 421.]

6. The Court may also, in any case in which the Government pleader is not accompanied by any person on the part of the Secretary of State for India in Council, who may be able to answer any material questions relating to the suit, direct the attendance of such a person.

[423.]

7. Where the defendant is a public officer and, on receiving the summons, considers it proper to make a reference to the Government before answering to the plaint, he may apply to the Court to grant such extension of the time fixed in the summons as may be necessary to enable him to make such reference and to receive orders thereon through the proper channel.

(2) Upon such application the Court shall extend the time for so long as appears to it to be necessary.

[S. 426.]

8. (1) Where the Government undertakes the defence of a suit against a public officer, the Government pleader, upon being furnished with authority to appear and answer to the plaint, shall apply to the Court, and upon such application the Court shall cause a note of his authority to be entered in the register of civil suits.

[S. 427.]

(2) Where no application under sub-rule (1) is made by the Government pleader on or before the day fixed in the notice for the defendant to appear and answer, the case shall proceed as in a suit between private parties: Provided that the defendant shall not be liable to arrest, nor his property to attachment, otherwise than in pursuance of a decree.

ORDER XXVIII.

(2) The authority shall be in writing and shall be signed by the officer or soldier in the presence of (a) his commanding officer, or the next subordinate officer, if the party is himself the commanding officer, or (b) where the officer or soldier is serving in military staff employment, the head or other superior officer of the office in which he is employed. Such commanding or other officer shall countersign the authority, which shall be filed in Court.

(3) When so filed the countersignature shall be sufficient proof that the authority was duly executed, and that the officer or soldier by whom it was granted could not obtain leave of absence for the purpose of prosecuting or defending the suit in person.

Explanation.—In this Order the expression "commanding officer" means the officer in actual command for the time being of any regiment, corps, detachment or depot to which the officer or soldier belongs.

[S. 466.]

2. Any person authorized by an officer or a soldier to prosecute or defend a suit in his stead may prosecute or defend it in person in the same manner as the officer or soldier could do if present; or he may appoint a pleader to prosecute or defend the suit on behalf of such officer or soldier.

S. 467.]

3. Processes served upon any person authorized by an officer or a soldier under rule 1 or upon any pleader appointed as aforesaid by such person shall be as effectual as if they had been served on the party in person or on his pleader.

[S. 437.]

ORDER XXX.

Suits by or against Firms and Persons carrying on business in names other than their own.

1. (1) Any two or more persons claiming or being liable as partners and carrying on business in British India may sue or be sued in the name of the firm (if any) of which such persons were partners at the time of the accruing of the cause of action, and any party to a suit may in such case apply to the Court for a statement of the names and addresses of the persons who were, at the time of the accruing of the cause of action, partners in such firm, to be furnished and verified in such manner as the Court may direct.

(2) Where persons sue or are sued as partners in the name of their firm under sub-rule (1), it shall, in the case of any pleading or other document required by or under this Code to be signed, verified or certified by the plaintiff or the defendant, suffice if such pleading or other document is signed, verified or certified by any one of such persons.

2. (1) Where a suit is instituted by partners in the name of their firm, the plaintiffs or their pleader shall, on demand in writing by or on behalf of any defendant, forthwith declare in writing the names and places of residence of all the persons constituting the firm on whose behalf the suit is instituted. [Ibid, r. 2.]

(2) Where the plaintiffs or their pleader fail to comply with any demand made under sub-rule (1), all proceedings in the suit may, upon an application for that purpose, be stayed upon such terms as the Court may direct.

(3) Where the names of the partners are declared in the manner referred to in sub-rule (1), the suit shall proceed in the same manner, and the same consequences in all respects shall follow, as if they had been named as plaintiffs in the plaint:

Provided that all the proceedings shall nevertheless continue in the name of the firm.

3. Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, the summons shall be served either— [Ibid, r. 3.]

- (a) upon any one or more of the partners, or
- (b) at the principal place at which the partnership business is carried on within British India upon any person having, at the time of service, the control or management of the partnership business there, as the Court may direct; and such service shall be deemed good service upon the firm so sued, whether all or any of the partners are within or without British India:

Provided that, in the case of a partnership which has been dissolved to the knowledge of the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, the summons shall be served upon every person within British India whom it is sought to make liable.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.

(The First Schedule.)

(Orders XXX XXXI, XXXII)

[New.]

IX of 1872.

4. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 45 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, where two or more persons may sue or be sued in the name of a firm under the foregoing provisions and any of such persons dies, whether before the institution or during the pendency of any suit, it shall not be necessary to join the legal representative of the deceased as a party to the suit.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall limit or otherwise affect any right which the legal representative of the deceased may have—

(a) to apply to be made a party to the suit, or

(b) to enforce any claim against the survivor or survivors.

[Cf. O. 48A, r. 4.]

5. Where a summons is issued to a firm and is served in the manner provided by rule 3, every person upon whom it is served shall be informed by notice in writing given at the time of such service, whether he is served as a partner or as a person having the control or management of the partnership business, or in both characters, and, in default of such notice, the person served shall be deemed to be served as a partner.

[Ibid., r. 5.]

6. Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, they shall appear individually in their own names, but all subsequent proceedings shall, nevertheless, continue in the name of the firm.

[Ibid., r. 6.]

7. Where a summons is served in the manner provided by rule 3 upon a person having the control or management of the partnership business, no appearance by him shall be necessary unless he is a partner of the firm sued.

[Ibid., r. 7.]

8. Any person served with process as a partner under rule 3 may appear under protest, denying that he is a partner, but such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff from otherwise serving process on the firm and obtaining a decree against the firm in default of appearance where no partner has appeared.

[Ibid., r. 8.]

9. (1) Where a decree has been passed against a firm, execution may be granted—

(a) against any property of the partnership;

(b) against any person who has appeared in his own name under rule 6 or rule 7, or who has admitted on the pleadings that he is, or who has been adjudged to be, a partner;

(c) against any person who has been individually served, as a partner, with the summons and has failed to appear;

IX of 1872. Provided that nothing in this sub-rule shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, section 247.

(2) Where the decree-holder claims to be entitled to cause the decree to be executed against any person other than such a person as is referred to in sub-rule (1), clauses (b) and (c), as being a partner in the firm, he may apply to the Court which passed the decree for leave, and, where the liability is not disputed, such Court may grant such leave or, where such liability is disputed, may order that the liability of such person be tried and determined in any manner in which any issue in a suit may be tried and determined.

(3) Where the liability of any person has been tried and determined under sub-rule (2), the order made thereon shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(4) Save as against any property of the partnership, a decree against a firm shall not release, render liable or otherwise affect, any partner therein, unless he has been served with a summons to appear and answer.

[Ibid., r. 10.]

10. This Order shall apply to suits between a firm and one or more of the partners therein and to suits between firms having one or more partners in common; but no execution shall be issued in such suits except by leave of the Court, and, on an application for leave to issue such execution, all such accounts and inquiries may be directed to be taken and made and directions given as may be just.

Any person carrying on business in a name or style other than his own may be sued in such name or style as if it were a firm name; and, so far as the nature of the case will permit, all rules under this Suit against person carrying on business in name other than his own.

Order shall apply.

ORDER XXXI.

Suits by and against Trustees, Executors and Administrators.

1. In all suits concerning property vested in a trustee, executor or administrator, where the contention is between the persons beneficially interested in such property and a third person, the trustee, executor or administrator shall represent the persons so interested, and it shall not ordinarily be necessary to make them parties to the suit. But the Court may, if it thinks fit, order them or any of them to be made parties.

[S. 437.]

2. Where there are several trustees, executors or administrators, they shall all be made parties to a suit against one or more of them:

[S. 438.]

Provided that the executors who have not proved their testator's will, and trustees, executors and administrators outside British India, need not be made parties.

[S. 439.]

3. Unless the Court directs otherwise, the husband of a married trustee, administrator or executrix shall not as such be a party to a suit by or against her.

ORDER XXXII.

Suits by and against Minors and Persons of Unsound Mind.

1. Every suit by a minor shall be instituted in his name by a person who in such suit shall be called the next friend of the minor.

[S. 440.]

2. (1) Where a suit is instituted by or on behalf of a minor without a next friend, the defendant may apply to have the plaint taken off the file, with costs to be paid by the pleader or other person by whom it was presented.

[S. 441.]

(2) Notice of such application shall be given to such person, and the Court, after hearing his objections (if any), may make such order in the matter as it thinks fit.

3. (1) Where the defendant is a minor, the Court, on being satisfied of the fact of his minority, shall appoint a proper person to be guardian for the suit for such minor.

(2) An order for the appointment of a guardian for the suit may be obtained upon application in the name and on behalf of the minor or by the plaintiff.

(3) Such application shall be supported by an affidavit verifying the fact that the proposed guardian has no interest in the matters in controversy in the suit adverse to that of the minor and that he is a fit person to be so appointed.

(4) No order shall be made on any application under this rule except upon notice to the minor and to any guardian of the minor appointed or declared by an authority competent in that behalf, or, where there is no such guardian, upon notice to the father or other natural guardian of the minor, or, where there is no father or other natural guardian, to the person in whose care the minor is, and after hearing any objections which may be urged on behalf of any person served with notice under this sub-rule.

[New.]

4 (1) Any person who is of sound mind and has attained majority may act as next friend of a minor or as his guardian for the suit:

[S. 444.]

Provided that the interest of such person is not adverse to that of the minor and that he is not, in the case of a next friend, a defendant, or, in the case of a guardian for the suit, a plaintiff.

(2) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority, no person other than such guardian shall act as the next friend of the minor or be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the Court considers, for reasons to be recorded, that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be permitted to act or be appointed, as the case may be.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The First Schedule.)(Orders XXXII, XXXIII.)

New.] (3) No person shall without his consent be appointed guardian for the suit.

456. O. 65. 13.] (4) Where there is no other person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers to be such guardian, and may direct that the costs to be incurred by such officer in the performance of his duties as such guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit, or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested, and may give directions for the repayment or allowance of such costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

441.] 5. (1) Every application to the Court on behalf of a minor, other than an application under rule 10, sub-rule (2), shall be made by his next friend or by his guardian for the suit.

444.] (2) Every order made in a suit or on any application, before the Court in or by which a minor is in any way concerned or affected, without such minor being represented by a next friend or guardian for the suit, as the case may be, may be discharged, and, where the pleader of the party at whose instance such order was obtained knew, or might reasonably have known, the fact of such minority, with costs to be paid by such pleader.

461.] 6. (1) A next friend or guardian for the suit shall not, without the leave of the Court, receive any money or other moveable property on behalf of a minor either—

- (a) by way of compromise before decree or order, or
(b) under a decree or order in favour of the minor.

482.] (2) Where the next friend or guardian for the suit has not been appointed or declared by competent authority to be guardian of the property of the minor, or, having been so appointed or declared, is under any disability known to the Court to receive the money or other moveable property, the Court shall, if it grants him leave to receive the property, require such security and give such directions as will, in its opinion, sufficiently protect the property from waste and ensure its proper application.

482.] 7. (1) No next friend or guardian for the suit shall, without the leave of the Court, expressly recorded in the proceedings, enter into any agreement or compromise on behalf of a minor with reference to the suit in which he acts as next friend or guardian.

447.] (2) Any such agreement or compromise entered into without the leave of the Court so recorded shall be voidable against all parties other than the minor.

447.] 8. (1) Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, a next friend shall not retire without first procuring a fit person to be put in his place and giving security for the costs already incurred.

446.] (2) The application for the appointment of a new next friend shall be supported by an affidavit showing the fitness of the person proposed, and also that he has no interest adverse to that of the minor.

446.] 9. (1) Where the interest of the next friend of a minor is adverse to that of the minor or where he is so connected with a defendant whose interest is adverse to that of the minor as to make it unlikely that the minor's interest will be properly protected by him, or where he does not do his duty, or, during the pendency of the suit, ceases to reside within British India, or for any other sufficient cause, application may be made on behalf of the minor or by a defendant for his removal; and the Court, if satisfied of the sufficiency of the cause assigned, may order the next friend to be removed accordingly, and make such other order as to costs as it thinks fit.

448.] (2) Where the next friend is not a guardian appointed or declared by an authority competent in this behalf, and an application is made by a guardian so appointed or declared, who desires to be himself appointed in the place of the next friend, the Court shall remove the next friend unless it considers, for reasons to be recorded by it, that the guardian ought not to be appointed the next friend of the minor, and shall thereupon appoint the applicant to be next friend in his place upon such terms as to the costs already incurred in the suit as it thinks fit.

448.] 10. (1) On the retirement, removal or death of the next friend of a minor, further proceedings shall be stayed until the appointment of a next friend in his place.
Stay of proceedings on removal, etc., of next friend.

[S. 449.] (2) Where the pleader of such minor omits, within a reasonable time, to take steps to get a new next friend appointed, any person interested in the minor or in the matter in issue may apply to the Court for the appointment of one, and the Court may appoint such person as it thinks fit.

[S. 458.] 11. (1) Where the guardian for the suit desires to retire or does not do his duty, or where other sufficient ground is made to appear, the Court may permit such guardian to retire or may remove him, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit.

[S. 459.] (2) Where the guardian for the suit retires, dies or is removed by the Court during the pendency of the suit, the Court shall appoint a new guardian in his place.

[S. 450.] 12. (1) A minor plaintiff or a minor not a party to a suit on whose behalf an application is pending shall, on attaining majority, elect whether he will proceed with the suit or application.

[S. 451.] (2) Where he elects to proceed with the suit or application, he shall apply for an order discharging the next friend and for leave to proceed in his own name.

[S. 452.] (3) The title of the suit or application shall in such case be corrected so as to read thenceforth thus:—
“A, B, late a minor, by C. D., his next friend, but now having attained majority.”

[S. 452.] (4) Where he elects to abandon the suit or application, he shall, if a sole plaintiff or sole applicant, apply for an order to dismiss the suit or application on repayment of the costs incurred by the defendant or opposite party or which may have been paid by his next friend.

[S. 453.] (5) Any application under this rule may be made ex parte; but no order discharging a next friend and permitting a minor plaintiff to proceed in his own name shall be made without notice to the next friend.

[S. 454.] 13. (1) Where a minor co-plaintiff on attaining majority desires to repudiate the suit, he shall apply to have his name struck out as co-plaintiff; and the Court, if it finds that he is not a necessary party, shall dismiss him from the suit on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on the next friend, on any co-plaintiff and on the defendant.

(3) The costs of all parties of such application, and of all or any proceedings theretofore had in the suit, shall be paid by such persons as the Court directs.

(4) Where the applicant is a necessary party to the suit, the Court may direct him to be made a defendant.

[S. 455.] 14. (1) A minor on attaining majority may, if a sole plaintiff, apply that a suit instituted in his name by a next friend be dismissed on the ground that it was unreasonable or improper.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on all the parties concerned; and the Court, upon being satisfied of such unreasonableness or impropriety, may grant the application and order the next friend to pay the costs of all parties in respect of the application and of anything done in the suit, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

[Ss. 460, 463.] 15. The provisions contained in rules 1 to 14, so far as they are applicable, shall extend to persons adjudged to be of unsound mind and to persons who though not so adjudged are found by the Court on inquiry, by reason of unsoundness of mind or mental infirmity, to be incapable of protecting their interests when suing or being sued.

Application of rules to persons of unsound mind.

[S. 464.] 16. Nothing in this Order shall apply to a Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief suing or being sued in the name of his State, or being sued by direction of the Governor General in Council or a Local Government, in the name of an agent or in any other name, or shall be construed to affect or in any way derogate from the provisions of any local law for the time being in force relating to suits by or against minors or by or against lunatics or other persons of unsound mind.

ORDER XXXIII.Suits by Paupers.

[S. 401.] 1. Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted by a pauper.
Suits may be instituted in forma pauperis.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.
(The First Schedule.)
(Order XXXIII.)

Explanation.—A person is a "pauper" when he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fees prescribed by law for the plaint in such suit, or, where no such fee is prescribed, when he is not entitled to property worth one hundred rupees other than his necessary wearing-apparel and the subject-matter of the suit.

[S. 403.]

2. Every application for permission to sue as a pauper shall contain the particulars required in regard to plaintiffs in suits: a schedule of any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the applicant, with the estimated value thereof, shall be annexed thereto; and it shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed for the signing and verification of pleadings.

[S. 404.]

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, the application shall be presented to the Court by the applicant in person, unless he is exempted from appearing in Court, in which case the application may be presented by an authorized agent who can answer all material questions relating to the application, and who may be examined in the same manner as the party represented by him might have been examined had such party attended in person.

[S. 406.]

4. (1) Where the application is in proper form and duly presented, the Court may, if it thinks fit, examine the applicant, or his agent when the applicant is allowed to appear by agent, regarding the merits of the claim and the property of the applicant.

(2) Where the application is presented by an agent, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that the applicant be examined by a commission in the manner in which the examination of an absent witness may be taken.

5. The Court shall reject an application for permission to sue as a pauper—

[S. 405.]

- Rejection of application.
- (a) where it is not framed and presented in the manner prescribed by rules 2 and 3, or
 - (b) where the applicant is not a pauper, or
 - (c) where he has, within two months next before the presentation of the application, disposed of any property fraudulently or in order to be able to apply for permission to sue as a pauper, or
 - (d) where his allegations do not show a cause of action, or
 - (e) where he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the proposed suit under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

[S. 408.]

6. Where the Court sees no reason to reject the application on any of the grounds stated in rule 5, it shall fix a day (of which at least ten days' clear notice shall be given to the opposite party and the Government pleader) for receiving such evidence as the applicant may adduce in proof of his pauperism, and for hearing any evidence which may be adduced in disproof thereof.

[S. 409.]

7. (1) On the day so fixed or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Court shall examine the witnesses (if any) produced by either party, and may examine the applicant or his agent, and shall make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence.

(2) The Court shall also hear any argument which the parties may desire to offer on the question whether, on the face of the application and of the evidence (if any) taken by the Court as herein provided, the applicant is or is not subject to any of the prohibitions specified in rule 5.

(3) The Court shall then either allow or refuse to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper.

8. Where the application is granted, it shall be numbered and registered, and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit shall proceed in all other respects as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to pay any court-fee (other than fees payable for service of process) in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader or other proceeding connected with the suit. [S. 410.]

9. The Court may, on the application of the defendant, or of the Government pleader, of which seven days' clear notice in writing has been given to the plaintiff, order the plaintiff to be dispaupered— [S. 414.]

- (a) if he is guilty of vexatious or improper conduct in the course of the suit;
- (b) if it appears that his means are such that he ought not to continue to sue as a pauper; or
- (c) if he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the suit, under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

10. Where the plaintiff succeeds in the suit, the Court shall calculate the amount of court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper; such amount shall be recoverable by the Government from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, and shall be a first charge on the subject-matter of the suit. [S. 411.]

11. Where the plaintiff fails in the suit or is dispaupered, or where the suit is withdrawn or dismissed,— [S. 412.]

- Procedure when pauper fails.
- (a) because the summons for the defendant to appear and answer has not been served upon him in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee or postal charges (if any) chargeable or payable for such service, or
 - (b) because the plaintiff does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court shall order the plaintiff, or any person added as a co-plaintiff to the suit, to pay the court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper.

12. The Government shall have the right at any time to apply to the Court to make an order for the payment of court-fees under rule 10 or rule 11. [New.]

13. All matters arising between the Government and any party to the suit under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12 shall be deemed to be questions arising between the parties to the suit within the meaning of section 47. [New.]

14. Where an order is made under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12, the Court shall forthwith cause a copy of the decree to be forwarded to the Collector. [New.]

15. [Ib., s. 86.]

2. In a suit for foreclosure, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree ordering—

(a) that an account be taken of what will be due to the plaintiff for principal and interest on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit (if any) awarded to him on the day next hereinafter referred to, or declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree;

(b) that, upon the defendant paying into Court the amount so due on a day within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount so due to be fixed by the Court, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall (if necessary) re-transfer the property to the defendant free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also, if necessary, put the defendant into possession of the property, but

(2) Where such payment is not so made, the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be, may apply to the Court for a final decree for sale of the mortgaged property, and the Court shall then pass a decree that such property, or a sufficient part thereof, be sold, and that the proceeds of the sale be dealt with as is mentioned in rule 4.

6. Where the net proceeds of any such sale are found to be insufficient to pay the amount due to the plaintiff, if the balance is legally recoverable from the defendant otherwise than out of the property sold, the Court may pass a decree for such amount. [Ib., s. 90.]

ORDER XLI.

Appeals from Original Decrees.

[S. 541.]

1. (1) Every appeal shall be preferred in the form of a memorandum signed by the appellant or his pleader and presented to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf. The memorandum shall be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed from and (unless the Appellate Court dispenses therewith) of the judgment on which it is founded.

(2) The memorandum shall set forth, concisely and under distinct heads, the grounds of objection to the decree appealed from without any argument or narrative; and such grounds shall be numbered consecutively.

2. The appellant shall not, except by leave of the Court, urge or be heard in support of any ground of objection not set forth in the memorandum of appeal; but the Appellate Court, in deciding the appeal, shall not be confined to the grounds of objection set forth in the memorandum of appeal or taken by leave of the Court under this rule:

Provided that the Court shall not rest its decision on any other ground unless the party who may be adversely affected thereby has had a sufficient opportunity of contesting the case on that ground.

3. (1) Where the memorandum of appeal is not drawn up in the manner herebefore prescribed, it may be rejected, or be returned to the appellant for the purpose of being amended within a time to be fixed by the Court or be amended then and there.

(2) Where the Court rejects any memorandum, it shall record the reasons for such rejection.

(3) Where a memorandum of appeal is amended, the Judge, or such officer as he appoints in this behalf, shall sign or initial the amendment.

4. Where there are more plaintiffs or more defendants than one in a suit, and the decree appealed from proceeds on any ground common to all the plaintiffs or to all the defendants, any one of the plaintiffs or of the defendants may appeal from the whole decree, and thereupon the Appellate Court may reverse or modify the decree in favour of all the plaintiffs or defendants, as the case may be.

Stay of proceedings in execution.

5. (1) An appeal shall not operate as a stay of proceedings under a decree or order appealed from except so far as the Appellate Court may order, nor shall execution of a decree be stayed by reason only of an appeal having been preferred from the decree; but the Appellate Court may for sufficient cause order stay of execution of such decree.

(2) Where an application is made for stay of execution of an appealable decree before the expiration of the time allowed for appealing therefrom, the Court which passed the decree may on sufficient cause being shown order the execution to be stayed:

Provided that no order shall be made under this rule unless the Court making it is satisfied—

(a) that substantial loss may result to the party applying for stay of execution unless the order is made;

(b) that the application has been made without unreasonable delay; and

(c) that security has been given by the applicant for the due performance of such decree or order as may ultimately be binding upon him

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (2), the Court may make an ex parte order for stay of execution pending the hearing of the application.

6. (1) Where an order is made for the execution of a decree from which an appeal is pending, the Court which passed the decree shall, on sufficient cause being shown by the appellant, require security to be taken for the restitution of any property which may be or has been taken in execution of the decree or for the payment of the value of such property and for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court, or the Appellate Court may for like cause direct the Court which passed the decree to take such security.

(2) Where an order has been made for the sale of immovable property in execution of a decree, and an appeal is pending from such decree, the sale shall, on the application of the judgment-debtor to the Court which made the order, be stayed on such terms as to giving security or otherwise as the Court thinks fit until the appeal is disposed of.

7. No such security as is mentioned in rules 5 and 6 shall be required from the Secretary of State for India in Council or, where the Government has undertaken the defence of the suit, from any public officer sued in respect of an act alleged to be done by him in his official capacity.

8. The powers conferred by rules 5 and 6 shall be exercisable where an appeal may be made in execution of the decree but from an order made in execution of such decree.

(Order XLI.)

Procedure on admission of appeal.

[S. 548.] 9. (1) Where a memorandum of appeal is admitted, the Appellate Court or the proper officer of that Court shall endorse thereon the date of presentation, and shall register the appeal in a book to be kept for the purpose.

(2) Such book shall be called the Register of Appeals.

[S. 549.] 10. (1) The Appellate Court may in its discretion, either before the respondent is called upon to appear and answer or afterwards on the application of the respondent, demand from the appellant security for the costs of the appeal, or of the original suit, or of both:

Provided that the Court shall demand such security in all cases in which the appellant is residing out of British India, and is not possessed of any sufficient immoveable property within British India other than the property (if any) to which the appeal relates.

(2) Where such security is not furnished within such time as the Court orders, the Court shall reject the appeal.

[S. 551.] 11. (1) The Appellate Court, after sending for the record if it thinks fit so to do, and after fixing a day for hearing the appellant or his pleader and hearing him accordingly if he appears on that day, may dismiss the appeal without sending notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is made and without serving notice on the respondent or his pleader.

(2) If on the day fixed or any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned the appellant does not appear when the appeal is called on for hearing, the appeal shall be dismissed for default, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(3) The dismissal of an appeal under this rule shall be notified to the Court from whose decree the appeal is made.

[S. 552.] 12. (1) Unless the Appellate Court dismisses the appeal under rule 11, it shall fix a day for hearing the appeal.

(2) Such day shall be fixed with reference to the current business of the Court, the place of residence of the respondent, and the time necessary for the service of the notice of appeal, so as to allow the respondent sufficient time to appear and answer the appeal on such day.

[S. 553.] 13. (1) Where the appeal is not dismissed under rule 11, the Appellate Court shall give notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred.

(2) Where the appeal is from the decree of a Court, the records of which are not deposited in the Appellate Court, the Court receiving such notice shall send with all practicable despatch all material papers in the suit, or such papers as may be specially called for by the Appellate Court.

(3) Either party may apply in writing to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, specifying any of the papers in such Court of which he requires copies to be made; and copies of such papers shall be made at the expense of, and given to, the applicant.

[S. 553.] 14. (1) Notice of the day fixed under rule 12 shall be a fixed in the Appellate Court-house, and a like notice shall be sent by the Appellate Court to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, and shall be served on the respondent or on his pleader in the Appellate Court in the manner provided for the service on a defendant of a summons to appear and answer; and all the provisions applicable to such summons, and to proceedings with reference to the service thereof, shall apply to the service of such notice.

(2) Instead of sending the notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, the Appellate Court may itself cause the notice to be served on the respondent or his pleader under the provisions above referred to.

15. The notice to the respondent shall declare that, if he does not appear in the Appellate Court on the day so fixed, the appeal will be heard ex parte.

[S. 554.]

Procedure on hearing

16. (1) On the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant shall be heard in support of the appeal.

[S. 555.]

(2) The Court shall then, if it does not dismiss the appeal at once, hear the respondent against the appeal, and in such case the appellant shall be entitled to reply.

17. (1) Where on the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant does not appear when the appeal is called on for hearing, the appeal shall be dismissed for default, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(2) Where the appellant appears and the respondent does not appear, the appeal shall be heard ex parte.

18. Where on the day fixed, or any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, it is found that the notice to the respondent has not been served in consequence of the failure of the appellant to deposit, within the period fixed, the sum required to defray the cost of issuing the notice, the Court may order that the appeal be dismissed:

[S. 557.]

Provided that no such order shall be made although the notice has not been served upon the respondent, if on any such day the respondent appears when the appeal is called on for hearing.

19. Where an appeal is dismissed under rule 11, sub-rule (2), or under rule 17 or rule 18, the appellant may apply to the Appellate Court for the re-admission of the appeal; and, where it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing or from depositing the sum so required, the Court may re-admit the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

[S. 558.]

20. Where it appears to the Court at the hearing that any person who was a party to the suit in the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, but who has not been made a party to the appeal, is interested in the result of the appeal, the Court may adjourn the hearing to a future day to be fixed by the Court and direct that such person be made a respondent.

[S. 559.]

21. Where an appeal is heard ex parte and judgment is pronounced against the respondent, he may apply to the Appellate Court to re-hear the appeal; and, if he satisfies the Court that the notice was not duly served or that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Court may re-hear the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit to impose upon him.

[S. 560.]

22. (1) Any respondent, though he may not have appealed from any part of the decree, may not only support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the Court below, but take any cross-objection to the decree which he could have taken by way of appeal, provided he has filed such objection in the Appellate Court within one month from the date of service on him or his pleader under rule 14 of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal, or within such further time as the Appellate Court may see fit to allow.

(a) Such cross-objection shall be in the form of a memorandum, and the provisions of rule 1, so far as they relate to the form and contents of the memorandum of appeal, shall apply thereto.

(3) Unless the respondent files with the objection a written acknowledgment from the party who may be affected by such objection or his pleader of having received a copy thereof, the Appellate Court shall cause a copy to be served, as soon as may be after the filing of the objection, on such party or his pleader at the expense of the respondent.

(4) Where, in any case in which any respondent has under this rule filed a notice of objection, the original appeal is withdrawn, the objection so filed may nevertheless be heard and determined after such notice to the other parties as the Court thinks fit.

(5) The provisions relating to pauper appeals shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply to an objection under this rule.

[S. 562.] 23. Where the Court from whose decree an appeal is preferred has disposed of the suit upon a preliminary point and the decree is reversed in appeal, the Appellate Court may, if it thinks fit, by order remand the case, and may further direct what issue or issues shall be tried in the case so remanded, and shall send a copy of its judgment and order to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, with directions to re-admit the suit under its original number in the register of civil suits, and proceed to determine the suit; and the evidence (if any) recorded during the original trial shall, subject to all just exceptions, be evidence during the trial after remand.

[S. 564.] 24. The Appellate Court shall not remand a case for a second decision, except as provided in rule 23.

[S. 565.] 25. Where the evidence upon the record is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce judgment, the Appellate Court may, after resetting the issues, if necessary, finally determine the suit, notwithstanding that the judgment of the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has proceeded wholly upon some ground other than that on which the Appellate Court proceeds.

[S. 566.] 26. Where the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has omitted to frame or try any issue, or to determine any question of fact, which appears to the Appellate Court essential to the right decision of the suit upon the merits, the Appellate Court may, if necessary, frame issues, and refer the same for trial to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, and in such case shall direct such Court to take the additional evidence required; and such Court shall proceed to try such issues, and shall return the evidence to the Appellate Court together with its finding thereon and the reasons therefor.

[S. 567.] 27. (1) Such evidence and findings shall form part of the record in the suit; and either party may, within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court, present a memorandum of objections to any finding.

(2) After the expiration of the period so fixed for presenting such memorandum the Appellate Court shall proceed to determine the appeal.

28. (1) The parties to an appeal shall not be entitled to produce additional evidence, whether oral or documentary, in the Appellate Court. But—

(a) the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has refused to admit evidence which ought to have been admitted, or

(b) the Appellate Court requires any document to be produced or any witness to be examined to enable it to pronounce judgment, or for any other substantial cause, the Appellate Court may allow such evidence or document to be produced, or witness to be examined.

(2) Whenever additional evidence is allowed to be produced by an Appellate Court, the Court shall record the reason for its admission.

29. Wherever additional evidence is allowed to be produced, the Appellate Court may either take such evidence, or direct the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, or any other subordinate Court, to take such evidence and to send it when taken to the Appellate Court.

30. Where additional evidence is directed or allowed to be taken, the Appellate Court shall specify the points to which the evidence is to be confined, and record on its proceedings the points so specified.

Judgment in appeal.

31. The Appellate Court, after hearing the parties or their pleaders and referring judgment when and to any part of the proceedings, where pronounced, whether on appeal or in the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, to which reference may be considered necessary, shall pronounce judgment in open Court, either at once or on some future day, of which notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders.

32. The judgment of the Appellate Court shall be in writing and shall state—

(a) the points for determination;

(b) the decision thereon;

(c) the reasons for the decision; and

(d) where the decree appealed from is reversed or varied, the relief to which the appellant is entitled;

and shall at the time that it is pronounced be signed and dated by the Judge or by the Judges concurring therein.

33. The judgment may be for confirming, varying or reversing the decree from which the appeal is preferred, or, if the parties to the appeal agree as to the form which the decree in appeal shall take, or as to the order to be made in appeal, the Appellate Court may pass a decree or make an order accordingly.

34. The Appellate Court shall have power to pass any decree and make any order which ought to have been passed or made in the Court from which the appeal is preferred, and to pass or make such further or other decree or order as the case may require, and this power may be exercised by the Court notwithstanding that the appeal is as to part only of the decree and may be exercised in favour of all or any of the respondents or parties, although such respondents or parties may not have filed any appeal or objections.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The Third Schedule.—Execution of Decrees by Collectors.)

THE THIRD SCHEDULE.

EXECUTION OF DECREES BY COLLECTORS.

[S. 321.]

Powers of Collector.

1. Where the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector under section 68, he may—

- (a) proceed as the Court would proceed when the sale of immoveable property is postponed in order to enable the judgment-debtor to raise the amount of the decree; or
- (b) raise the amount of the decree by letting in perpetuity, or for a term, on payment of a premium, or by mortgaging, the whole or any part of the property ordered to be sold; or
- (c) sell the property ordered to be sold or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Procedure of Collector in special cases.

2. Where the execution of a decree, not being a decree ordering the sale of immoveable property in pursuance of a contract specifically affecting the same, but being a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of which the Court has ordered the sale of immoveable property, has been so transferred, the Collector, if, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, he has reason to believe that all the liabilities of the judgment-debtor can be discharged without a sale of the whole of his available immoveable property, may proceed as hereinafter provided.

[S. 223A.]

3. (1) In any such case as is referred to in paragraph 2, the Collector shall publish a notice, allowing a period of sixty days from the date of its publication for compliance and calling upon—

Notice to be given to decree-holders and to persons having claims on property.

- (a) every person holding a decree for the payment of money against the judgment-debtor capable of execution by sale of his immoveable property and which such decree-holder desires to have so executed, and every holder of a decree for the payment of money in execution of which proceedings for the sale of such property are pending, to produce before the Collector a copy of the decree, and a certificate from the Court which passed or is executing the same, declaring the amount recoverable thereunder;

- (b) every person having any claim on the said property to submit to the Collector a statement of such claim, and to produce the documents (if any) by which it is evidenced.

(2) Such notice shall be published by being affixed on a conspicuous part of the court-house of the Court which made the original order for sale, and in such other places (if any) as the Collector thinks fit; and where the address of any such decree-holder or claimant is known, a copy of the notice shall be sent to him by post or otherwise.

4. (1) Upon the expiration of the said period, the Collector shall appoint a day for hearing any representations which the judgment-debtor and the decree-holders or claimants (if any) may desire to make, and for holding such inquiry as he may deem necessary for informing himself as to the nature and extent of such decrees and claims and of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property, and may, from time to time, adjourn such hearing and inquiry.

(2) Where there is no dispute as to the fact or extent of the liability of the judgment-debtor to any of the decrees or claims of which the Collector is informed, or as to the relative priorities of such decrees or claims, or as to the liability of any such property for the satisfaction of such decrees or claims, the Collector shall draw up a statement, specifying the amount to be recovered for the discharge of such decrees the order in which such decrees and claims are to be satisfied, and the immoveable property available for that purpose.

(3) Where any such dispute arises, the Collector shall refer the same, with a statement thereof and his own opinion thereon, to the Court which made the original order for sale, and shall, pending the reference, stay proceedings relating to the subject thereof. The Court shall dispose of the dispute if the matter thereof is within its jurisdiction, or transmit the case to a competent Court for disposal, and the final decision shall be communicated to the Collector, who shall then draw up a statement as above provided in accordance with such decision.

5. The Collector may, instead of himself issuing the notices and holding the inquiry required by paragraphs 3 and 4, draw up a statement specifying the circumstances of the judgment-debtor and of his immoveable property so far as they are known to the Collector or appear in the records of his office, and forward such statement to the District Court; and such Court shall thereupon issue the notices, hold the inquiry and draw up the statement required by paragraphs 3 and 4 and transmit such statement to the Collector.

S. 322 D.]

6. The decision by the Court of any dispute arising under paragraph 4 or paragraph 5 shall, as between the parties thereto, have the force of and be appealable as a decree.

[S. 323]

7. Where the amount to be recovered and the property available have been determined as provided in paragraph 4 or paragraph 5, the Collector may,—

Scheme for liquidation of decrees for payment of money.

- (1) if it appears that the amount cannot be recovered without the sale of the whole of the property available, proceed to sell such property; or, if it appears that the amount with interest (if any) in accordance with the decree, and, when not decreed, with interest (if any) at such rate as he thinks reasonable, may be recovered without such sale;
- (2) raise such amount and interest (notwithstanding the original order for sale) —
 - (a) by letting in perpetuity or for a term, on payment of a premium, the whole or any part of the said property; or
 - (b) by mortgaging the whole or any part of such property; or
 - (c) by selling part of such property; or
 - (d) by letting on farm, or managing by himself or another, the whole or any part of such property for any term not exceeding twenty years from the date of the order of sale; or
 - (e) partly by one of such modes, and partly by another or others of such modes.
- (3) For the purpose of managing the whole or any part of such property, the Collector may exercise all the powers of its owner.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.(The Third Schedule—Execution of Decrees by Collectors.)

- (4) For the purpose of improving the saleable value of the property available or any part thereof, or rendering it more suitable for letting or managing, or for preserving the property from sale in satisfaction of an incumbrance, the Collector may discharge the claim of any incumbrancer which has become payable or compound the claim of any incumbrancer whether it has become payable or not, and, for the purpose of providing funds to effect such discharge or composition, may mortgage, let or sell any portion of the property which he deems sufficient. If any dispute arises as to the amount due on any incumbrance with which the Collector proposes to deal under this clause, he may institute a suit in the proper Court, either in his own name or the name of the judgment-debtor, to have an account taken, or he may agree to refer such dispute to the decision of two arbitrators, one to be chosen by each party, or of an umpire to be named by such arbitrators.
- (5) In proceeding under clauses (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph the Collector shall be subject to such rules consistent with this Act as may, from time to time, be made in this behalf by the Local Government.
8. Where, on the expiration of the letting or management under paragraph 7 the amount to be recovered has not been realized, the Collector shall notify the fact in writing to the judgment-debtor or his representative in interest, stating at the same time that, if the balance necessary to make up the said amount is not paid to the Collector within six weeks from the date of such notice, he will proceed to sell the whole or a sufficient part of the said property; and, if on the expiration of the said six weeks the said balance is not so paid, the Collector shall sell such property or part accordingly. [S. 324.]
9. (1) The Collector shall, from time to time, render to the Court which made the original order for sale an account of all monies which come to his hands and of all charges incurred by him in the exercise and performance of the powers and duties conferred and imposed on him under the provisions of this Schedule, and shall hold the balance at the disposal of the Court. [S. 324A.]
- (2) Such charges shall include all debts and liabilities from time to time due to the Government in respect of the property or any part thereof, the rent (if any) from time to time due to a superior holder in respect of such property or part, and, if the Collector so directs, the expenses of any witnesses summoned by him.
- (3) The balance shall be applied by the Court—
- (a) in providing for the maintenance of such members of the judgment-debtor's family (if any) as are entitled to be maintained out of the income of the property, to such amount in the case of each member as the Court thinks fit; and
- (b) where the Collector has proceeded under paragraph 1, in satisfaction of the original decree in execution of which the Court ordered the sale of immoveable property, or otherwise as the Court may under section 73 direct; or
- (c) where the Collector has proceeded under paragraph 2,—
- (i) in keeping down the interest on incumbrances on the property;
- (ii) where the judgment-debtor has no other sufficient means of subsistence, in providing for his subsistence to such amount as the Court thinks fit; and
- (iii) in discharging rateably the claims of the original decree-holders and any other decree-holders who have complied with the said notice, and whose claims were included in the amount ordered to be recovered.
- (4) No other holder of a decree for the payment of money shall be entitled to be paid out of such property or balance until the decree-holders who have obtained such order have been satisfied, and the residue (if any) shall be paid to the judgment-debtor or such other person as the Court directs.
10. Where the Collector sells any property under this Schedule, he shall put it up to public auction in one or more lots, as he thinks fit, and may— [S. 325.]
- Sales how to be conducted.
- (a) fix a reasonable reserved price for each lot;
- (b) adjourn the sale for a reasonable time whenever, for reasons to be recorded, he deems the adjournment necessary for the purpose of obtaining a fair price for the property;
- (c) buy in the property offered for sale, and re-sell the same by public auction or private contract, as he thinks fit.
11. (1) So long as the Collector can exercise or perform in respect of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property, or any part thereof, any of the powers or duties conferred or imposed on him by paragraphs 1 to 10, the judgment-debtor or his representative in interest shall be incompetent to mortgage, charge, lease or alienate such property or part except with the written permission of the Collector, nor shall any Civil Court issue any process against such property or part in execution of a decree for the payment of money. [S. 325A.]
- Restrictions as to alienation by judgment-debtor or his representative, and prosecution of remedies by decree-holders.
- (2) During the same period no Civil Court shall issue any process of execution either against the judgment-debtor or his property in respect of any decree for the satisfaction whereof provision has been made by the Collector under paragraph 7.
- (3) The same period shall be excluded in calculating the period of limitation applicable to the execution of any decree affected by the provisions of this paragraph in respect of any remedy of which the decree-holder has been temporarily deprived.
12. Where the property of which the sale has been ordered is situate in more districts than one, the powers and duties conferred and imposed on the Collector by paragraphs 1 to 10 shall be exercised and performed by such one of the Collectors of the said districts as the Local Government may by general rule or special order direct. [S. 325B.]
- Provision where property is in several districts.
13. In exercising the powers conferred on him by paragraphs 1 to 10 the Collector shall have the powers of a Civil Court to compel the attendance of parties and witnesses and the production of documents. [S. 325C.]
- Power of Collector to compel attendance and production.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is sufficiently explained in the Report of the Special Committee printed below.

H. ERLE RICHARDS.

Simla, 3rd September 1907.

Report of the Special Committee appointed to consider the amendment of the Civil Procedure Code.

We have the honour to present this report on the proposals to amend the Code of Civil Procedure which have been submitted for our consideration by the Government of India and, annexed to it, a draft Bill amended by us. A detailed account of the alterations introduced in the Bill will be found in the Notes on Clauses which form the second part of this Report, but we desire by way of preface to make some observations of a general character on the defects in the existing law which appear to us to call for reform and on the more important of those alterations.

1. The Code of Civil Procedure of 1882 has been in force for 25 years and the experience of those years has shown that the general lines on which it proceeds are sound. The matters in which it has proved defective are for the most part matters of detail, and they arise, as it seems to us, mainly from the fact that it is impossible to frame a fixed and rigid Code in such a manner as to sufficiently meet the varying needs of an area so diversified as that to which the Code applies. In our opinion it is essential that there should be some machinery to enable variations to be introduced in procedure to meet the different requirements of different localities as well as to enable defects to be remedied as they are discovered without resort to the tardy process of legislation. We propose to make provision for these purposes by a re-arrangement of the Code. We recommend that matters of mere machinery should be relegated to rules capable of alteration by each High Court, subject to certain checks, and that those provisions only should be retained in the body of the Code in which some degree of permanence and uniformity is desirable. This re-arrangement is in accordance with precedent and possesses advantages so obvious that it is needless to enlarge upon them.

2. The objection—and as it appears to us the only objection of substance—that can be urged against this proposal is that until the scheme of distribution has become familiar to those who have to administer the Act the change may cause some confusion and the familiar numerical references to the present sections will no longer apply. We are sensible that some inconvenience must arise from this cause in the first instance, but this is but a small disadvantage in comparison with the advantages to be obtained by the change, and we cannot think that anyone will seriously contend that such a slight and temporary drawback should stand in the way of a reform which appears to us in other respects to be wholly beneficial.

3. The adoption of this principle has necessarily involved a departure from the arrangement of the present Code, but in other respects we have advisedly adhered as closely as possible to the existing language, the meaning of which is now well understood by Courts and by practitioners. Speaking generally, it may be said that we have only departed from the phraseology of the Code where experience has suggested improvements or competent authority has called for some change. We have refrained from altering the wording merely because it might be capable of improvement: for in any change, even of a verbal character, there is a risk of opening a door to fresh litigation. In the amendments that we have introduced we have endeavoured to state general rules of procedure rather than to provide in detail for every possible contingency; for we hold it to be a sound view that excessive elaboration of details of procedure tends to cramp the actions of the Court and in consequence to encourage technicalities. For this reason we have made no attempt to embody in the Code a digest of the very numerous decisions on the existing sections: we have made amendments to meet case law only on points on which there is a conflict of authority. And in this connection we desire to point out that at the present time there is even less justification for the enactment of elaborate provisions in regard to procedure than at the time when the Code of 1882 was passed. Since then the standard of legal efficiency in the mofussil has been materially raised, and the principles of procedure are now so well understood that the Courts may be trusted to apply them intelligently in cases for which no provision may be made in terms.

But although we have made the present Code the basis of our draft, we have carefully examined the Bill settled by the Select Committee in 1903, and we desire to express our acknowledgments to that Committee for the store of information it contains, and for the materials collected in their Report.

Apart from the re-arrangement to which reference has been made we have not introduced many changes of a radical character into the Code.

4. The general nature of some of the amendments we recommend may be conveniently illustrated by a brief examination of the extent to which the various stages of a suit will be affected by them.

A. To begin with it is hoped that the multiplicity of suits will be further curtailed by the new provisions we have inserted to remove limitations which we regard as needless on the comprehensiveness of a suit, and by the wider powers of amendment vested in the Courts under the Bill. An adequate check is provided by the power of a Court to interfere where embarrassment is likely to result.

B. Increased facilities have been given for the service of process to which further reference is made in the Notes on Clauses. It is hoped that in the gradual introduction of service by post may be found a solution of one of the principal defects in our legal system.

C. In our opinion it is most necessary that litigants in this country should come to trial with all issues clearly defined, and that cases should not be expanded or grounds shifted without reference to the true facts. For this purpose we think that the present system of pleadings in the mofussil, which is notoriously lax, should be improved, and we have incorporated in the rules an Order on pleadings, which it is hoped will lead to sounder and fairer methods of arriving at the real points in dispute. The forms have been revised and we hope that they will be brought into more general use in the mofussil.

We have not been able within the time at our disposal to make these forms, or the other forms in the Appendix to Schedule I, complete: but this is a matter of detail which can be further considered before the Bill is passed into law.

D. It is not possible to secure expedition in the disposal of suits, unless the questions of fact on which there is a real contest are narrowed down as far as possible. As a step towards this, we have incorporated in the rules an Order in which provision is made for the admission not only of documents, but also of facts. It must be left to litigants and their advisers to make adequate use of this order: but it is hoped that the Courts will encourage the use of it, since it certainly affords a means whereby the two principal evils of litigation, delay and expense, can be materially diminished.

E. We attach much importance to a proper use being made by Courts in the mofussil of the procedure prescribed for the first hearing. The Code as it stands makes provision for the examination of parties by the Court, and we have altered the language so as to compel the production of documents at the first hearing. In our opinion this will act as a substantial check on the fabrication of documentary evidence.

F. The provisions relating to the hearing of suits do not call for material alteration, but we have thought it well to provide expressly for the cases where a party dies between conclusion of the hearing and delivery of judgment. It would obviously be wrong that such an accident should in any way interfere with the disposal of the case, and we have therefore inserted a provision to enable judgment to be pronounced notwithstanding the death.

G. A change of importance has been made in regard to decrees. In the first place, we have inserted an express provision recognizing the distinction between preliminary and final decrees. We hope in this way to afford facilities for checking the delay that now results from the objectionable practice of leaving for determination in execution questions which should be decided by the decree. This change should ensure the more expeditious disposal of a class of suits which at present are conspicuous for the delay to which they give rise. Another amendment of importance which we have introduced is in regard to mortgage-suits. These are very numerous and involve complicated questions of law. Hitherto some confusion has been occasioned by the co-existence of the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act and of the Code in regard to execution in mortgage-suits. We think that the provisions regulating this matter should be dealt with in their entirety in the Code, and we have therefore introduced rules in Order XXXIV to give effect to our view. We propose that the sections of the Transfer of Property Act affected by this change should be repealed. We desire to call the attention of those Provinces to which that Act does not apply to the effect of these changes.

In our opinion it is expedient to give greater assistance to the Courts in the framing of decrees. The importance of this branch of procedure cannot be over-rated; it is surrounded by difficulties which are a fruitful source of error and consequently of litigation. We have amplified the provisions of the Code to meet this defect, and have introduced some forms which can be adapted to meet the requirements of individual cases. We think that further forms might be added with advantage before the Bill becomes law.

H. Amongst other matters we have removed limitations which at present exist on the power of appointing Receivers, and have conferred a power to appoint Receivers on Subordinate Courts.

5. Execution.—The subject of execution is, perhaps, one of the most difficult with which we have had to deal. The present system, in the mofussil at any rate, tends to excessive delay and affords facilities for defeating the claims of creditors. At the same time the creditor often has only himself to blame, owing to his own laches in prosecuting his rights. In the Presidency Towns the same objections cannot be fairly raised; the system works well; whilst, in the mofussil, the difficulties arise not so much from the machinery itself, as from the defective manner in which it is worked. One of the most fruitful sources of litigation is the setting aside of execution sales, on the ground of irregularity in the publication of the sale proclamation. It is notorious that in many of these cases the Court's officer, either through negligence or dishonesty, has not duly published the proclamation, but it is impossible to deal with such cases by any provision in a Code. After a most careful consideration of the subject, we have not seen our way to any very drastic changes in the present system. We have found ourselves unable to accept the somewhat far reaching proposal of the Committee of 1902 in relation to the execution of decrees by precept: but we are so far in accord with the view expressed by that Committee as to have been able to insert in the Bill a clause which enables the Court which passed the decree to issue a precept to any other Court to attach property of the judgment-debtor, pending execution in the ordinary course. Beyond this we have felt we could not safely go.

We anticipate that there will be a substantial saving of time, and consequent expense, from the provision requiring that mesne profits shall be ascertained by the Court under the decree itself, and not as now in execution proceedings.

Clause 53 has been introduced to settle a long mooted point upon which there is much diversity of judicial opinion, as to whether or not questions as to the liability of ancestral property in the hands of a son or other descendant to whom it has come otherwise than by descent for the payment of the debt for which the decree was passed, can be determined under clause 47 of the present Bill, corresponding with section 244 of the existing Code. We think they should be.

Other amendments deserving notice relate to (1) the power to break open the outer door of the judgment-debtor's dwelling house; (2) the date from which the purchaser's title accrues; (3) oral application for immediate execution; (4) the discretion of the Court in the execution of decrees for the restitution of conjugal rights; (5) execution against partnership property; (6) extended facilities for attaching salaries; and (7) powers to decree-holders to carry decrees into effect at the expense of the judgment-debtor.

We regard the changes made in relation to execution as calculated to materially assist the judgment-creditor in recovering the fruits of his judgment.

6. Arbitration.—Two questions of importance have arisen in connection with this subject : (1) should any of the sections of the Arbitration Act of 1899 be incorporated into the Code ; (2) should the right of appeal, as now existing, be altered, and if so, in what direction ? We are of opinion that the best course would undoubtedly be to eliminate from the Code all the clauses as to arbitration, and insert them in a new and comprehensive Arbitration Act. There are, perhaps, difficulties as to this at present. We have determined therefore to leave the arbitration clauses much as they are in the present Code : but we have placed them in a Schedule in the hope that at no distant date they may be transferred into a comprehensive Arbitration Act.

In regard to appeals, some change has been made. Upon this question, adopting the view of the Judicial Committee as expressed in Ghulam's case (I. L. R., 29 Cal., 167) we are strongly in favour of finality in cases of arbitration. If rights of appeal be given, the disappointed party will take advantage of every such right. To meet the difficulty expressed in the case reported in I. L. R., 25 Cal., 141 (which followed many other cases in the Calcutta High Court), we have inserted the words " or being otherwise invalid " in sub-section (c) of section 521 of the present Code. If, therefore, either party considers the award is invalid on any ground, he can apply to have it set aside. We have thought it right to give one appeal from the opinion expressed by the Court on a special case under section 517, and to allow one appeal as from order under sections 521, 523 and 526. And having regard to the rather wide language of the Judicial Committee in Ghulam's case, we have further thought it advisable to make it clear that an order granting an application either under section 523 or 526 is not to be deemed a decree within the meaning of the Code ; otherwise there would be a wider right of appeal from orders under these sections than from a decree under section 522. The other alterations deal with the text, rather than with any question of policy or principle.

7. Suits relating to public matters.—We have inserted a clause to enable actions for public nuisances to be brought, with the consent of the Advocate General, irrespective of special damage. It has been represented to us that such a power is needed and we concur in that view.

8. Public charities.—The suggestion has been made on high authority that some express reference should be made in the Code to the power of the Court to apply the Cy-près doctrine in the settling of schemes. But this power would appear to exist already within its proper limits (Mayor of Lyons' case, L. R., 3 I. A., 32) and we do not think it necessary to make express reference to it.

It has been represented to us by more than one gentleman whose opinion is entitled to weight, that the power to enquire into the affairs of public charities should be made more extensive. The clause, as it stands, gives sufficient powers to the Courts to direct accounts and to frame schemes when once a suit has been instituted, but it is said that members of the public interested in any public charity ought to have the means of calling for and inspecting accounts without undertaking the burden of a suit, at least in the first instance. We are told that revenues derived from charitable trusts are in some cases very large in amount : that no accounts of their expenditure are ordinarily rendered, and that there is good ground for believing that a considerable portion is misspent or squandered on useless objects.

The Hon'ble Dr. Rashbehary Ghose supports these views and has submitted a clause to give effect to them. It is in the following terms:—

" 93-A. (1) The Court may also, upon an application by any two or more persons having the like interest and having obtained the like consent, direct any trustee of such charity to cause to be prepared and filed in the Court, within such time as may be specified in the order, a detailed account of the receipts and disbursements in connection with the trust property for a period not exceeding three years next preceding the date of the application."

(2) Such accounts, when filed in Court, shall be open to inspection by the public.

(3) A trustee who fails to comply with any such direction shall be removed if a suit for that purpose be instituted, unless he can show good cause for such failure."

We have given to the subject our best consideration and desire to record our sympathy with the motives of the proposers. But we have not inserted the clause in the Bill because we think that the question is one of policy on which the public opinion of the communities interested should first be obtained. It affects primarily, as we understand, the Hindu and, to a less extent, the Muhammadan community. And we should not feel justified in recommending an amendment of the law on such a subject as this, unless the leaders of those communities were to express their support of the proposal in unequivocal terms. If it is eventually decided to adopt the amendment, then we think that the clause proposed by Dr. Ghose may be accepted.

9. Suits by or against firms.—Attention is directed to the new provision in regard to suits by or against firms (Order XXX), which will, we hope, prove acceptable to the commercial community.

10. New procedure.—We have given power to provide by Rules for Counter-claims, Third Party Procedure, Summary Procedure in suits for debt or liquidated demands, as, for instance, rent, or any other definite sum payable under a contract and Originating summons. We are of opinion that these forms of proceeding may usefully be adopted in some, areas but that this is a matter which should be left for each High Court to decide.

11. Appeals.—As regards appeals from original decrees we have departed but slightly from the existing Code. We have thought it advisable to give legislative sanction to the view that no appeal shall lie from a consent decree, or as to costs, except by leave of the Court: but the most important change is that incorporated in clause 97, which renders it obligatory upon a party, who considers himself aggrieved by a preliminary decree, to appeal from that decree, at the risk of being precluded from disputing its correctness on an appeal from the final decree. We feel strongly that this is a most useful provision, as tending to that which is so desirable, vis., finality in litigation.

As regards appeals from appellate decrees the only substantial departure from the existing Code is the insertion of clause 103. Experience has shown the desirability of this clause, the effect of which will be to avoid remands, with their consequent delay and expense.

As regards appeals from orders a comparison of clause 104 of the Bill with section 588 of the existing Code would support a prima facie inference that the right of appeal from Orders had been materially curtailed. But this inference is dispelled on looking at sub-clause (h) of clause 104 which allows an appeal from any Order made under Rules from which an appeal is expressly allowed by Rules. We have gone carefully into the question of the cases in which an appeal should be allowed from these Orders and our conclusion is expressed in the Rules themselves.

12. Rules.—The distribution of the provisions of the Code between the body of the Bill and the Rules is a matter on which opinions may well differ. The general principle on which we have proceeded has been to keep in the body of the Bill those provisions which appear to us to be fundamental and those provisions which confer powers operating outside the Province in which the Court is situated. In some cases we have adopted the plan of inserting leading provisions in the Bill, stating in general terms the powers of the Court; and of leaving the details to Rules; in matters of less importance the provisions have been relegated altogether to Rules. The result of this re-arrangement is to reduce the Act, as distinct from Schedules, to 155 clauses. The existing order of sequence has, speaking generally, been maintained, but the reduced bulk of the Bill has rendered it no longer necessary to reproduce the division into Chapters.

It is proposed to vest the power of making Rules in High Courts, subject to the control of Local Governments (or, in the case of the Calcutta High Court, of the Government of India), but we think it most desirable that in exercising this power the Courts should have the advice of representatives of the various branches of the legal profession, and we have accordingly provided that, in the case of Chartered High Courts and of Chief Courts, Rules shall only be made after those Courts have taken the opinion of a Rule Committee on which there will be representatives of the Bar, of Vakeels or Pleaders and, in Presidency-towns, of Attorneys. In the case of other High Courts power has been given to establish such Rule Committees as the Governor General in Council may determine. It is believed that Standing Committees of this kind will be of great value. We have thought it better to require the same sanction as is required by the Indian High Courts Act of 1861, in order that the rule-making power should correspond with the power conferred under that Act; but we are of opinion that, in the interest of uniformity, it is expedient that all amendments of Rules should be communicated to the Government of India and to other High Courts before sanction is given to them. This, we understand, can be effected by executive order.

If our proposal is adopted, it will probably be useful to publish annually in every Province some manual corresponding to the English "Annual Practice" containing :—

- (1) the Act;
- (2) all rules of procedure made under it or under other Acts in the Province;
- (3) notes of decisions on the Act and Rules.

13. We are sensible that there may be defects and flaws in the Bill which we append to this Report. The subject is complicated and technical and the time at our disposal has been limited. We do not doubt therefore that much improvement may be made in the Bill before it is finally passed into law. But in our opinion it is framed on the right lines. We believe for the reasons we have stated that in any reform of Civil Procedure it is essential to introduce some elasticity, to give wider powers of control to the High Courts, and to invest them with a larger discretion in regard to the conduct of cases which come before them. Mr. Dikshit, Subordinate Judge from Bombay, has been present throughout our deliberations, and we take this opportunity of acknowledging the help we have derived from his experience of the working of the Code in the mofussil. We desire also to record our acknowledgments of the services of Mr. Law, of the Legislative Department, who has attended to the clerical and press work to our entire satisfaction.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

A.—CLAUSES OF BILL.

PRELIMINARY.

Clause 2.—The definitions have been re-arranged in alphabetical order.

Decree.—The importance of the definition of the word “decree” rests on the fact that by reference to it the right of appeal is determined. The Committee have in the main adhered to the existing definition; but they have modified it in two respects, and this has involved a slight recasting of the language. The principal modification aims at permitting an appeal from an adjudication which purports to settle the rights of the parties, though it does not completely dispose of the suit. Such an adjudication the Committee describe as a preliminary decree.

The explanation is intended to make it clear that a decree may be partly final and partly preliminary. Thus a decree for the recovery of possession of immovable property and for mesne profits would be of this mixed character.

The word “within” has been substituted for “mentioned or referred to in” with a view to bringing within the definition of decree orders against sureties (see clause 142) and orders as to court-fees in pauper suits (see Order XXXIII, rule 13) and thus providing for appeals therefrom.

The only other modification is for the purpose of excluding a right of appeal from an order of dismissal for default.

Legal representative.—We have inserted a definition of “legal representative”—an expression which has been variously interpreted by the High Courts as would appear from the reported cases which are not easily reconcilable with one another. See 8 C. W. N., 843, in which almost all the earlier cases are reviewed.

The Committee trust that the definition which has been added by them will set at rest what owing to the absence of any such definition from the present Code is a somewhat debatable point.

Mesne profits.—The Committee have altered the definition of “mesne profits” so as to exclude from the calculation any increased rents and profits due to improvements made by the person in wrongful possession for which he cannot at present claim compensation from the rightful owner either by way of mitigation of damages or otherwise.

Clause 4.—The clause as drafted will, it is believed, effect all the savings covered by section 4 of the Code. The concluding paragraph of that section is believed to be obsolete and has accordingly not been reproduced. On this point the opinions of Local Governments are invited.

Clause 6.—In view of the extended scope of clause 4 the reproduction of sections 6 and 7 (except as to the final paragraph of section 6) does not appear to be necessary.

The words “or proceedings in suits” have been introduced in this clause to negative the view that a Court to which a decree is sent for execution has jurisdiction to execute the decree though the amount exceeds the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, a point on which there is a conflict of opinion (I. L. R., 17 Mad., 309; I. L. R., 16 Cal., 465, 457).

Clause 7.—The provisions as to Provincial Small Cause Courts have been re-arranged in what is hoped is a more convenient form.

PART I.

Suits in General.

The provisions contained in section 10 of the Code were first enacted by Act XI of 1836 and were reproduced in the Code of 1859 and in subsequent Codes. In the opinion of the Committee their retention is no longer necessary and they have been omitted.

Clause 11.—Res judicata.—It is not possible to make a complete exposition of a subject so complex as that of res judicata within the limits of a section of an Act and the Committee think it better to re-enact section 13 as it stands in the Code with such modifications only as experience has shown to be necessary.

The Committee recognize that a proceeding does not come within the language of that section; but they think it better not to deal with this point in express terms for the reason that the applicability of the doctrine of res judicata to certain proceedings is not open to doubt, and they foresee that any express reference to proceedings in a crystallised definition might only lead to difficulties (L. R., 11 I. A., 37, and I. L. R., 29 Cal., 707).

The word “another” has been substituted for “former” as being more in conformity with Indian decisions.

Explanation 1 is new and is intended to affirm the view that the competence of the jurisdiction of a Court does not depend on the right of appeal from its decision.

Explanation VI.—The inclusion of public rights is to give due effect to suits relating to public nuisances (clause 91).

Clause 12.—This clause is new and is necessitated by the transfer of certain of the provisions of the existing Code to Rules.

Clause 13.—The provisions as to foreign judgment have been re-arranged and as it is hoped stated more clearly.

Section 14.—The last paragraph has been omitted. It appears to the Committee that it is not possible to maintain this distinction in the case of all Asiatic Courts. The Courts of Japan for instance are entitled to be treated on the same footing as European Courts. They know of no satisfactory distinction which could be drawn so to give effect to the intention of the existing provisions; and they recommend that the paragraph should be omitted and that Courts should rely on the powers given by clause 13.

Place of Suing.—The provisions under this heading have been collected and re-arranged.

Clause 16 (a).—The insertion of the words "with or without rent or profits" is intended to remove any difficulty there may be where the defendant does not reside within the local limits of the Court within whose jurisdiction the property is situate.

Clause 18.—The Committee have added words to this clause in order still further to restrict the taking of technical objections as to jurisdiction.

Clause 20.—The Committee have omitted Explanation III of section 17, which has become unnecessary owing to the addition made to sub-clause (c) of the words "wholly or in part" in reference to the cause of action.

Clause 24.—The words "at any stage" have been added to remove the difficulty created by the view that a suit cannot be transferred after the hearing has once commenced, as to which there is a conflict of decision.

Clauses 26-35.—The provisions in Chapters III to XVIII of the present Code have been in the main relegated to Rules, but such general provisions as are believed to be essential have been preserved in clauses 26 to 35.

Clause 32.—The Committee have omitted the last paragraph of section 136 of the Code as they think unnecessary to impose penal consequences for a default of the class indicated.

PART II.

Execution.

Clauses 36-74.—The bulk of the provisions as to execution will be found in the Rules, but the main provisions as to the Courts by which decrees may be executed, the questions to be determined by Courts executing decrees, the limit of time for execution, transferees and legal representatives, procedure in execution, arrest and attachment, the delegation to Collectors of power to execute certain decrees, the distribution of assets and resistance to execution have been retained in the body of the Bill.

Clause 46.—Precept.—Though a system of execution based on precepts is in the opinion of the Committee open to grave objection, they think the idea may be utilized for the purpose of enabling a decree-holder to obtain an interim attachment where there is ground to apprehend that he may otherwise be deprived of the fruits of his decree. They have for this purpose introduced clause 46 into the Bill. They think it expedient to fix a time limit for the continuance of this interim attachment, but at the same time they have empowered the Court to extend the period to meet the exigencies of particular cases.

After careful consideration they have come to the conclusion that notwithstanding attachment under a precept, re-attachment on the ordinary application for execution will still be necessary. Though at first sight it may appear a better course to provide that re-attachment shall not be necessary when the issue of a precept is followed by the ordinary application for execution, after careful consideration they have come to the conclusion that it will be safer to require re-attachment, having regard to the agency by which execution is carried into effect.

Clause 47.—The Committee have omitted sub-clauses (a) and (b) of section 244 of the existing Code because they are strongly of opinion that questions regarding the amount of any mesne profits or interest should be determined by the decree and not in execution. If this view is accepted it will be possible to exercise an effective control over the action taken by Subordinate Courts in dealing with such matters.

The Committee have redrafted sub-clause (3) and made it compulsory on the Court to determine questions arising as to representatives of parties. In their opinion it is inexpedient that separate suits should be instituted for the decision of such questions. The delay and expense involved are often very great and result in the needless protraction of litigation.

The explanation is intended to put an end to a conflict of judicial decisions.

Section 257A.—The Committee think that section 257A may be omitted with advantage. It was first enacted by Act XII of 1879 with a view to protect the interests of judgment-debtors against the exercise of undue pressure by decree-holders. The section has given rise to conflicting decisions, and as interpreted by the majority of the High Courts is found in practice to be of little service to judgment-debtors. Moreover, section 16 of the Indian Contract Act as amended appears to the Committee to afford adequate protection where it is required.

Clause 51.—This clause states generally the powers of the Court in regard to execution leaving the details to be determined by rules. It will be observed that the power to direct immediate execution is no longer restricted to one class of suits but that it is now general in terms. Any limitation that may be found necessary will be imposed by rules.

Clause 53 has been added by the Committee in order to set at rest a question on which the High Courts are divided in opinion. It is true that where a son or grandson takes any ancestral property by survivorship he is bound to pay out of such property all debts of his ancestor not incurred for immoral or illegal purposes; but whether the creditor can follow the property in the hand of the son or grandson in execution is a debatable point under the Code. The question is merely one of procedure, and the Committee have come to the conclusion that any controversy between the parties with regard to the liability of the son or grandson to pay the debts of his ancestor should be determined in execution, it being open to them to raise any objection or defence in such proceedings which they might have raised in a separate suit instituted by the creditor, the clause in question not imposing upon them a greater liability than that imposed by the Hindu law.

Clause 55 (1), second proviso.—The object of this proviso is to prevent vexatious forms of resistance to execution which constantly obstruct decree-holders in the execution of their decrees.

Clause 55 (2).—This sub-clause is intended to cover the cases of certain persons or classes of persons whose summary arrest might, as in the case of railway servants, be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public.

Clause 61.—The Committee have reproduced this clause from the former Bill (clause 269B) in accordance with what they understand to be the wishes of the Government. But the conditions should in their opinion be so modified as to relieve the Courts from fixing the portion to be released from attachment.

To impose this duty on the Courts would materially increase their work in a matter in regard to which they are not in a position to form the best opinion and would probably result in an undesirable lack of uniformity.

Clause 62.—The Committee have inserted a new provision to authorize the breaking open of the outer door of a judgment-debtor's house. They do not think that it would be safe to extend the operation of this provision to the house of a stranger.

Section 288.—This section of the present Code first appears in the Code of 1877. It was not suggested by any decided case and the only explanation offered by the Select Committee, by whom it was introduced, is as follows:—

“We think that the proclamation of execution sales should state the incumbrances (if any) to which the interest about to be sold is liable, and we have provided that no judge, etc., shall be answerable for error in the proclamation, unless it has been committed dishonestly.”

The Committee are of opinion that, having regard to the provisions of Act XVIII of 1850, the section may safely be omitted.

Clause 64.—An explanation has been added to make it clear that claims within the protection of this clause include claims for rateable distribution of assets.

Clause 69.—The provisions as to Collectors have been placed in a separate schedule. They deal with a special matter and are not of general application.

Clause 73.—The Committee have slightly altered the wording of this clause in order to bring it into line with the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, section 96.

PART III.

Incidental proceedings.

The general powers of Courts in regard to commissions have been summarised in clause 75 and the detailed provision will be found in the First Schedule.

PART IV.

Suits in particular cases.

The bulk of the corresponding part of the present Code will be found in the Rules. The provisions as to suits by aliens, etc., have been retained in the Bill and a few only of the provisions relating to suits by or against the Government. There is a general clause defining the nature of interpleader suits.

Clause 81.—The Committee think that the same measure of protection should be afforded to the defendant where Government undertakes the defence as where the Government makes no application for the purpose, and it appears to the Committee that the proper protection should be that the defendant should be exempt from mesne arrest and his property from mesne attachment. They therefore propose to strike out the proviso from clause 269 and to alter sub-clause (a) of clause 270 so as to give effect to this.

Clause 86 (a).—The Committee have inserted words in this sub-clause to make it clear that the decision of the Government is final and not open to question by the Court. A doubt had been raised on the point.

PART V.

Special Proceedings.

Arbitration and suits relating to public matters have been discussed in the former part of this Report.

Clause 92 (Public Charities).—As a doubt has been expressed in at least one reported decision whether section 539 is or is not mandatory, the Committee have thought it desirable, in order to settle this question, to introduce sub-clause (a).

PART VI.

Supplemental Proceedings.

Here again a leading provision has been retained in the Bill, and the details of procedure have been relegated to Rules.

PART VII.

Appeals.

Clause 97.—The Committee have inserted an express provision to compel litigants to appeal from preliminary decrees, and have estopped them, on their failure to do so, from raising objections to such decrees in appeals from final decrees. On this point they accept the unanimous opinion of the Calcutta High Court. They think it unreasonable that parties should allow proceedings to be carried on to their final stage and large costs to be incurred if they intend to rely upon objections which could be taken at an earlier stage.

Clause 99.—The Committee have extended this clause in order to give the Courts a larger discretion in dealing with irregularities in proceedings, and they have inserted express words to meet the point decided in I. L. R., 26 Bom., 259, and I. L. R., 27 Mad., 80, and in a recent decision of the Calcutta High Court, Clause 100.—The Committee have struck out the word "specified" in the expression "specified law or usage", as being in their opinion redundant.

Clause 105.—Though the remarks of the Privy Council in Moheshur Sing v. The Bengal Government (7 Moo. I. A., 283) are wide enough to embrace an appeal from an order of remand, the Committee think those orders were probably not in their Lordships' contemplation when they condemned the view that a failure to appeal from an interlocutory order should deprive the person aggrieved of his right to object to such order when subsequently appealing from the decree. And the Committee think there are good reasons on the score of delay and expense for treating an appeal from an order of remand as a special case and precluding an appellant from taking, on an appeal from decree, any objection that might have been urged by way of appeal from an order of remand.

The Committee have deleted the word "such" to remove a difficulty it creates (10 Moo. I. A., 340, 413; 12 Moo. I. A., 157).

PART VIII.

Reference, Review and Revision.

These provisions are not substantially altered. They are summarised in this Part and the details are in Rules.

PART IX.

Chartered High Courts.

Is not materially altered.

PART X.

Rules.

See observations in the former Part of this Report.

PART XI.

Miscellaneous.

The Committee have omitted section 646 as they see no reason specially to differentiate the case of a Registrar, and it is believed that in practice no use is made of the section.

Clause 137.—The Committee have inserted the words "or other person" after the word "officer" in sub-clause (b) in order to give the High Court power to relieve the officers of the Courts of the work of administering affidavits in cases in which it may be necessary to do so. It has been represented to them by the Calcutta High Court that this relief is much required.

Clause 140.—The terms of section 583 of the Code do not justify the practice founded on it, and the Committee have therefore recast the section so as to bring it into closer conformity with that practice.

Clauses 145 and 148 to 150 are new. They are intended to enlarge the discretion of Courts.

B.—RULES.

The Committee think that the division of the Rules into Orders will be found convenient for purposes of citation and reference.

Under clause 35 the Court has full power to apportion costs. The Committee understand that in practice the provision of section 26 is not operative in the mufassil, and that part of the section which related to costs has not therefore been reproduced.

O. I, r. 3 (s. 28).—The Committee realize that the words "in respect of the same matter" in rule 3 have given rise to great difficulty, and they think it advisable to follow the wording of the English rule and to omit them.

O. I, rr. 5 and 7.—The Committee thought that it was desirable to add O. XVI, rr. 5 and 7, of the English Rules.

O. III, r. 2 (s. 37).—The provisions of existing Code which are represented by this clause are in somewhat different terms and are limited to persons holding general powers-of-attorney within certain local limits. The Committee think it unnecessary to preserve these limitations and have made the sub-clause general. It follows that the present clause 37 (b) becomes unnecessary. It is included in sub-clause (a).

The last paragraph of section 37 has been omitted as no longer necessary.

O. III, r. 4 (s. 39).—The Committee are uncertain whether it is necessary to make a reference to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Sindh. The point is one for the Government of Bombay.

They also suggest in the alternative that the privilege now enjoyed by all Advocates enrolled in Chartered High Courts shall be extended to those Advocates enrolled in non-Chartered High Courts who are members of the English or Irish bar or of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland.

O. IV.—Institution of suits.—The greater part of the existing provision on this subject will be found in the Order on Pleadings.

O. VI.—The Committee have added a few rules relating to pleadings based upon the system of pleading introduced by the Judicature Acts in England which is generally admitted to be the best form of pleading in civil suits. In this country outside the Presidency-town the pleadings are seldom artistically drawn. They are neither concise nor precise but contain vague and general statements from which it is difficult to ascertain definitely the real question in controversy between the parties. The sole object of pleadings is thus frequently defeated, the issue is enlarged, the trial is delayed and much unnecessary expense is incurred by the parties who are also liable to be taken by surprise. They have further provided that the forms in the Schedule shall when applicable be used for all pleadings, and when they are not applicable, forms of the like character shall be used. The rules prescribed by us will not prevent the pleader from exercising his discretion; for the amount of detail must necessarily vary with the nature of each suit. It is, however, made clear that there must be particularity sufficient to apprise the Court and the other party of the exact nature of the questions to be tried.

The Committee have also given a party who considers that his opponent's pleading does not give him the information to which he is entitled, the right to apply for further particulars so as to enable him to know what case he has to meet at the trial.

They have, however, endeavoured to modify the rigour of the rules by providing in accordance with section 55 of the Indian Evidence Act that the Court may, notwithstanding the absence of any specific denial, require any fact to be proved by the party who relies upon it.

O. IX.—Section 104 originally formed part of section 60 of Act VIII of 1859, and in combination with the rest of that section it was appropriate. As a separate section, however, it is misleading, and it certainly is not now required in view of the provisions for service on a defendant residing out of British India and for proceeding with a suit ex-parte when a defendant does not appear. Its retention would involve a diversity of procedure which the Committee think undesirable (see I. L. R., 23 All., 99).

O. IX, r. 13.—The Committee have inserted words to make it clear that a decree can only be set aside in favour of a defendant against whom the decree has been passed ex-parte. There is some conflict of judicial authority upon this point, and the Committee think that the matter should be set at rest in this sense.

O. XI.—Interrogatories.—The provisions in the Code as to discovery are based on the rules of English procedure in force at the time when it was passed. Since then the English procedure has been amended and is now contained in Order 31. This Order has in effect been adopted in the rules regulating the procedure on the original side of the High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay and has, it is believed, been found to work satisfactorily in practice.

On the other hand, in Mufassil Courts little use has yet been made of the machinery of discovery, and the Committee therefore think the rules of the Calcutta and Bombay High Courts on their original sides may be safely adopted without risk of disturbing a procedure with which the Mufassil Courts have become familiarized.

This will secure uniformity of practice and also the advantage of the commentary on the rules prescribed by the English decisions.

O. XII.—Admissions.—The Committee think the practice of admissions may with advantage be extended to facts as well as to documents.

The procedure is not compulsory, but its adoption would result in cheapening and expediting litigation, and it is hoped that its use will be encouraged by the Courts.

O. XIV, r. 6 (s. 150).—There does not seem to be any real conflict as to whether an appeal lies, though at first sight it might appear otherwise. It has therefore been considered unnecessary to provide expressly for an appeal.

O. XX, r. 11 (s. 210).—The Committee have added words to sub-rule (1) of this rule in order to override the ruling of the Bombay High Court in the case of Raghu Govind Paranjpe v. Dipchand (I. L. R., 4 Bom., 96), as the practice inculcated by that ruling seems to prevail only in the Presidency of Bombay and not in the rest of India.

O. XX, r. 14 (s. 214).—These amendments are based on the rulings contained in the decisions of the High Court of Allahabad at I. L. R., 6 All., 370, 455, and I. L. R., 11 All., 164.

Having regard to the opinion expressed in I. L. R., 24 Mad., at page 463, we have thought it right to make it clear that title vests without an instrument of transfer. To require a transfer now might throw a cloud over numberless title which rest on the assumption sanctioned by long practice that no instrument of transfer was necessary.

O. XX, r. 18 (s. 216).—The Committee have introduced an amendment to give effect to the view that appeals from decrees relating to set-off should lie to the Courts to which appeals in respect of the original claim would lie.

O. XXI, r. 2.—The Committee have omitted certain words from the last paragraph of section 258 of the Code in order to make it clear that the Court cannot recognize a payment or adjustment which has not been certified for any purpose whatsoever. It follows that an uncertified payment or adjustment cannot operate to prolong the period of limitation for applying for execution under the Limitation Act.

O. XXI, r. 3.—The Committee have inserted this rule to provide for cases, which they are told are not uncommon, of an estate being situated within the jurisdiction of two or more Courts. There are decisions on this point, but they are not harmonious, and the Committee think it well to determine the law definitely.

O. XXI, r. 11 (s. 256).—The Committee have omitted the limitation imposed under the existing Code on oral applications for immediate execution. They see no reason why this limitation should be preserved.

O. XXI, r. 11 (e).—The Committee have not given effect to the suggestion that this should be limited to payments and adjustments which the creditor executing the decree is bound by law to recognize, as this would remove a valuable incentive to state truly what payments have been made (see I. L. R., 10 Bom., 288).

O. XXI, r. 20.—The Committee have omitted the words “or his or their representatives.” This will be covered by the general clause.

O. XXI, r. 23 (4), explanation and illustration (d), (s. 246).—This addendum has been introduced in accordance with the views of the Calcutta and Allahabad High Courts as expressed in the cases of Hury Doyal Guho v. Din Doyal Guho (I. L. R., 9 Cal., 479) and Ram Sukh Dass v. Tota Ram (I. L. R., 14 All., 339).

O. XXI, r. 26 (s. 248).—The Committee have omitted the reference to a decree passed on appeal, for that is ordinarily the decree to be executed. [Kristo Kinkur Roy v. Rajah Burrodacaunt Roy (14 Moo. I. A., 465) and Muhammad Sulaiman Khan v. Muhammad Yar Khan (I. L. R., 11 All., 267).]

O. XXI, r. 32 (s. 260).—The Committee have omitted in this rule all reference to a decree for the recovery of a wife, for there can be no such decree under the law, as a wife cannot be treated as a chattel to be delivered over to the husband. Where any third person prevents the wife from returning to her husband, the latter may obtain an injunction against him which may be enforced in case of disobedience either by the imprisonment of the defendant, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

O. XXI, r. 34.—Section 261 has been recast so as to bring it into conformity with the chronological order of events, and a provision has been added to meet the requirements of the Indian Registration Act.

O. XXI, rr. 44 and 45.—These provisions were inserted in Bill No. II with the approval of the Government of India, and the Committee have therefore reproduced them in the present edition of the Bill.

O. XXI, r. 56.—The purpose of this rule is to put an end to doubts which from time to time have arisen as to the continuance of an attachment by reason of the practice of "striking off proceedings" or "removing proceedings from the file" for which there is no justification in the Code.

O. XXI, r. 57 (s. 278).—Though the execution of mortgage decree is expressly incorporated in the Code, the Committee still think that claims and objections arising out of the execution of such decrees should not be the subject of summary procedure under this and the following rules, but should be determined in the ordinary course.

This does not imply that the procedure under the later rules as to resistance to possession or dispossession does not apply.

O. XXI, r. 76.—In rules 76 and 83 express reference has been made to a resale so as to make it clear that the default mentioned in those rules will attract the consequence indicated in rule 70. In this connection reference may be made to I. L. R., 7 Cal., 337.

O. XXI, r. 85.—The Committee have altered this rule in order to prevent its being obligatory on the Court to forfeit the deposit in every case. The rule as it stands at present has caused hardship in certain circumstances, vide the case of Sambasiva Ayyar v. Vydinada Sami (I. L. R., 25 Mad., 535).

O. XXI, r. 88 (s. 310A).—Words have been added so as to make it clear that a purchaser acquiring a title before the sale in execution can claim the benefit of the rule. In other respects the Committee consider it advisable to adhere to the wording of the section.

The proposal that the sale should be set aside on payment of the purchase money instead of the amount specified in the proclamation is, in their opinion, fraught with danger: it would be obviously useless unless subsequent protection were given to the property, and such protection might lead to collusion, which would be most prejudicial to the decree-holder.

O. XXI, r. 89.—The Committee have struck out the provision as to irregularity in attaching the property, as such irregularity obviously cannot affect the price.

They have introduced the words "rateable distribution of assets" to clear up a doubt which has been the subject of discussion in several cases.

They have altered the language of the proviso in order to meet the doubts which have been raised as to the evidence upon which the Court can act. [Tasadduk Rasul Khan v. Ahmad Husain (I. L. R., 21 Cal., 66).]

O. XXI, r. 91.—The Committee think it proper to retain the provisions of the Code, which make it necessary for the Court to confirm the sale in each case.

O. XXI, r. 92 (s. 315).—The Committee have added words at the commencement of the clause in substitution of the last paragraph of the section which thus becomes unnecessary.

O. XXI, r. 95 (s. 316).—The Committee have preserved the limitation of three years from the date of the certificate as suggested by the Select Committee in Bill No. II. This clears up a doubt as to the time from which limitation begins to run, which has been discussed on more than one occasion.

O. XXII, r. 1.—The Select Committee struck out two of the four illustrations to section 361 and the Committee think the remaining illustrations may also be deleted as they are too obvious to serve any useful purpose.

O. XXII, r. 3.—The Committee have introduced words in order to conform to the language of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, as amended.

O. XXII, r. 5 (s. 366).—Though or is the word used in the Code of 1882 and the Code of 1877, in the Bill of 1877 the word and is used, and it appears to the Committee clear that and is required by the context. If and is not used, then the contrast with the preceding section is lost.

The explanation can be omitted having regard to the definition of "legal representative" inserted by the Committee.

O. XXIII, r. 3.—The Committee have considered it expedient to alter the language of section 375 so as to recognize the power of a Court to inquire into and to record a disputed compromise.

O. XXV, r. 1 (3) (s. 380).—The Committee have deleted the last words of this sub-rule, because the nature of the suit excludes the possibility of the property in suit being immoveable.

O. XXIX, r. 2.—The Committee have enlarged the language of the Code so as to allow of service by post on corporations having a registered office, and by this means the rule is brought into line with the provisions of the Indian Companies Act. Companies authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an officer or of a trustee must be very few, if, indeed, any exist, and they do not appear to the Committee to call for special treatment.

O. XXX, r. 1.—The Committee have adopted with the necessary alterations the English procedure in relation to suits against firms. This new procedure has been in force for some time in the Presidency-towns of Calcutta and Bombay and has worked satisfactorily.

It is hoped that its general application will be found useful by the mercantile community, for the rules remove technical obstacles which under the present procedure may seriously impede this class of litigation, as where a partner has died.

O. XXXII, r. 3 (4).—This is based on section 443. The Committee think it necessary to ensure that notice should reach one interested in the minor's welfare, and this rule aims at securing this result. The form of application and of notice in conformity with this sub-rule will be inserted in the schedule of forms.

O. XXXII, r. 9.—The Committee think it expedient that where a guardian insists on his right to be appointed next friend in the place of another there should be power to require him to become liable or give security for costs in the suit previously incurred.

O. XXXII, r. 15.—The Committee have extended this rule so as to cover the case of a person incapacitated from protecting his interests by reason of his mental weakness or of his being a deaf mute.

O. XXXIII, r. 1 (s. 401).—The Committee have not preserved section 402. In the light of the case-law it is misleading, so far as it suggests that a suit will lie for loss of caste or abusive language, and they can see no sufficient reason for withholding from a pauper a right to sue as such in respect of defamation or assault.

O. XXXIV, r. 1.—The proviso to section 85 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, has given rise to certain doubts which the Committee have sought to remove by substituting for it the words now added with a view to making it clear that a person not a party is not bound by a decree [Ram Nath Rai v. Lachman Ram (L. R., 2 I. A., 193).]

The explanation has been inserted in order to remove doubts which have arisen from the conflict of authorities on the point.

O. XXXIV, r. 2 (b).—The Committee have inserted the words "if necessary" before "retransfer" as according to mufassil practice a retransfer is not ordinarily required and they think this practice should not be altered.

O. XXXIV, r. 3.—The Committee have omitted the provision as to the defendant paying money to the plaintiff. They think it better that in every case he should pay it into Court.

O. XXXIV, r. 9.—This rule is new. It is a recognition of existing practice and remedies an obvious omission in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

O. XXXIV, r. 11.—The Committee have inserted this rule in compliance with the suggestion of the Privy Council in Gupi Narain Khanna v. Bansidhar (L. R., 32 I. A., 123). This clause was in the Transfer of Property Bill, but was omitted by the Select Committee on that Bill on the ground that it ought to find a place in the Civil Procedure Code.

O. XXXV, r. 3.—The Committee think that the institution of the interpleader suit affords a sufficient reason for the stay of other litigation in reference to the same subject-matter and they have modified section 476 so as to give effect to this view.

O. XXXVII, r. 1.—As Chapter XXXIX of the Code is transferred into rules, the Committee have not reproduced paragraph (r) of section 538 as its appropriate place will be in rules under the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882.

O. XXXVII, r. 2.—The explanation to section 532 was inserted to negative the effect of the decision in I. L. R., 1 Cal., 130, but its meaning, as it stands is obscure. The Committee have therefore deleted the explanation, and added words in the body of the rule which will remove the doubts at which the explanation was aimed.

O. XXXVIII, r. 6 (s. 483).—The Committee have omitted the words "property within the jurisdiction of the Court," as they have caused a conflict of decision; and they think, as a matter of policy, there should not be the restriction these words suggest.

O. XXXVIII, r. 13.—This rule represents the views of the Government of India as expressed in the former Bill.

O. XXXIX, r. 6.—Words have been added to section 498 so as to empower the Court to order a sale of securities where the state of the market requires such a course.

O. XL.—Having regard to their standard of efficiency, the Committee see no reason to withhold from Subordinate Judges the power to appoint Receivers. They therefore propose that section 505 of the Code should no longer be retained, for its effect in practice is often to defeat the purpose for which an application is made.

O. XLI.—Section 554 of the Code has been omitted as unnecessary.

O. XLI, r. 5 (s. 545).—The Committee have added words to section 545 in order to make it clear that proceedings under a decree as well as execution can be stayed by an Appellate Court; the recognition of preliminary decrees makes it the more necessary to have an express power to this effect instead of resting on an inherent power [Balkishen Sahu v. Khugnu (I. L. R., 31 Cal., 722)]. The Committee have introduced express words authorizing an ex-parte stay, as the need for such an order constantly arises in practice.

O. XLI, r. 6 (s. 546).—The Committee have modified this rule in order to make it clear that security may be required though the property has previously been taken in execution [see Hukum Chand Boid v. Kamalanand Singh (I. L. R., 33 Cal., 927)].

O. XLI, r. 7.—The Committee have added this clause to meet particularly the case where the litigant does not quarrel with the decree but appeals from an order passed in execution of that decree (I. L. R., 28 Cal., 734).

O. XLI, r. 23.—After due consideration the Committee have thought it safer not to give legislative sanction to the views enunciated in Habib Bakhsh v. Baldeo Prasad (I. L. R., 23 All., 167). The power of reversal and remand is liable to be abused, while the procedure under section 566 is free from this liability and at the same time furnishes an effectual remedy.

The words at the end of the rule have been added to clear up a doubt which is stated by the Select Committee to exist as to whether evidence recorded at the original trial can be used on the trial after demand.

O. XLI, r. 34.—The Committee consider it most important that an Appellate Court should have the fullest power to do complete justice between the parties.

The illustration indicates a type of case for which provision is intended to be made.

O. XLII, r. 1 (d).—The extension of time for the payment of mortgage-money is obviously of much greater moment to the mortgagor than to the mortgagee. Therefore the Committee have provided for an appeal from an order refusing, but not from an order granting, an extension of time.

O. XLIII, r. 1 (s. 592).—Words have been added to avoid the conclusion at which the Madras High Court has recently arrived (I. L. R., 26 Mad., 369).

O. XLV, r. 1.—The words "or the construction of a document, which construction may affect the merits," have been omitted, as they appear to be sufficiently covered by the power to refer any question of law.

NOTES ON SCHEDULES.

SCHEDULE IV.

The Committee have amended section 22 of the Limitation Act to supply an omission which has been noticed by the High Courts; namely, the absence of any provision with regard to a devolution of interest pendente lite where it takes place otherwise than by reason of death. The section as amended will include not only cases in which a devolution of interest takes place pendente lite owing to death but also to other cases in which such devolution occurs.

The Code [s. 312] contemplates the confirmation of a sale of immoveable property immediately on the expiration of the thirty days allowed by article 166 of the Limitation Schedule. But the period allowed for an application to set aside a sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest therein is sixty days [article 172]. The result is that in some Provinces the confirmation of a sale is delayed for sixty days; whilst, in other Provinces, sales which have been already confirmed are liable to be set aside. The Committee think that in the matter of limitation an application under section 313 should be brought into line with an application under section 311 and they therefore propose to repeal article 172 and to amend article 166 so as to include applications under section 313.

Rain is still wanted in Birbhum, Murshidabad, Khulna, Saran, Bhagalpur, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas. In Purnea transplantation of paddy has been retarded, and crops in Murshidabad are suffering from insufficient rain. Sugarcane is doing well. Damage to crops has been caused by floods in Patna, Cuttack, Balasore and Puri. Low-lying lands in thanas Basudebpur, Ohandbali and Dhamnagar in the Balasore district are still under water. In Cuttack takavi advances and gratuitous relief are being distributed in the flooded tracts. Prospects on the whole are yet fair. Cattle-disease exists in seven districts. Fodder is reported to be insufficient in the flooded tracts of Midnapore and Balasore. The water-supply is sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in eight and fallen in five districts.

SUMMARY OF RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1907.

During the month of August, the rainfall distribution was characterized by great irregularity. The precipitation was very heavy in the following districts of Orissa and Chota Nagpur:—

Cuttack received an average rainfall of 32.44 (normal 12.77), Sambalpur 27.36 (normal 15.18), Balasore 24.54 (normal 11.85), Angul 21.21 (normal 10.45), Puri 17.95 (normal 12.05), Palamau 24.47 (normal 13.42), and Ranchi 25.01 (normal 13.31).

The departure from the normal in Cuttack is +19.67, at Sambalpur +12.18, at Balasore +12.69, at Angul +10.76, at Puri +5.90, at Palamau +11.05, and at Ranchi +11.70 inches. Expressed in percentage figures, the above districts received 254, 180, 207, 203, 149, 182 and 188 per cent. respectively. Except the districts of Midnapore and Howrah, where there was a very slight excess, the whole of South-West Bengal received less than the average fall. There was also a deficiency in all the districts of Bihar, except Gaya, Shahabad, and Monghyr, where the rainfall was in excess of the normal.

From the condensed percentage table it will be seen that South-West Bengal received 72 per cent., Bihar 72 per cent., Orissa 249 per cent., and Chota Nagpur 126 per cent.

The total rainfall from January to August was 94 per cent. of the normal in South-West Bengal, 84 per cent. in Bihar, 140 per cent. in Orissa, and 103 per cent. in Chota Nagpur.

The following table compares the rainfall in the four Divisions during the month of August with the normal fall, the actual being given as a percentage of the normal. The table also shows the actual falls for each of the previous months of the year, expressed in the same way, and the last column of the table shows the total rainfall of the past eight months of the year :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

If this maximum is exceeded by a Candidate's selection, he will be required to indicate one of his subjects, the marks for which should, in his case, be reduced so as to bring his maximum marks within the prescribed limit. The marks so reduced will be subject to a correspondingly reduced deduction under Clause 6.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks (a); and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (b) in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visà voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the branches in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction above mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be Selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the Selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a Selected Candidate.

} At the option of the Candidate.

In Hindustani the Candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character; and in the case of the last two Provinces mentioned above, a Candidate whose Vernacular Language is either of the languages shown against his province, must offer the other for examination.

† These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the Open Competition.

In this Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visà voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination."

If any Candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such Examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special Examination.

(a) Considerable deductions will be made for bad handwriting.

(b) No deductions will be made under Clause 6 from the marks assigned to Candidates in Mathematics or English Composition.

(c) Instructions, showing the extent of the Examination, will be issued to Selected Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared.

10. The Selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Riding.

The examinations in Riding will be held as follows :

- (1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year.
- (2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination. Candidates who may then fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback will be awarded from 100 to 200 marks, according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination. Candidates who fail to obtain 100 marks, but are reported by the Civil Service Commissioners to have reached a minimum standard of proficiency in riding, and are certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, will, on their arrival in India, be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government.

A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in Riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates.

11. The Selected Candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London," at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. No person will be admitted to the Examination from whom the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners has not received on or before the 1st July (or, if that date should fall upon a Sunday or public holiday, then on or before the 1st day thereafter on which their office is open) in the year in which the Examination is to be held, an application, in the handwriting of the Candidate, on the prescribed form.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorised by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

- (i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes ; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.
- (ii) An allowance amounting to £150 will be given to any Candidate who passes his probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, Aberdeen and London (University College or King's College) ; Victoria University, Manchester.

This allowance will be paid to the Selected Candidate in four instalments on the following dates respectively :—December 24th, after his selection, March 25th, June 24th, and the date of his signing his covenant on being finally appointed to the Service.

With the final instalment an allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each newly-appointed civilian to the amount of £37 10s. 0d. for passage to Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, and £43 for passage to Rangoon, the Officer then making his own arrangements for his passage.

The payment of each of the first three instalments will be conditional on the receipt, by the Secretary of State, through the Civil Service Commissioners, of a certificate that the Candidate has fulfilled up to date the requirements of the Authorities, and shown satisfactory conduct at the Authorized University or College ; the fourth and final instalment will be paid as soon as the Selected Candidate has signed his covenant, and for its payment no certificate from College Authorities will be required.

The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

- (iii) Each Candidate will be required before receiving the first instalment of his allowance to execute an agreement binding himself to refund all monies he may have received from the Secretary of State for India in the event of—

- (1) his failure to pass the Final Examination within the time prescribed by the Regulations, and to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of his fitness for admission to the Civil Service of India, or
- (2) his subsequent failure to execute the usual covenant, and to proceed to India, as and when he shall be directed by the Secretary of State for India.

- (iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £ 1.
- (v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Candidates obtaining Certificates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations.
- (vi) Candidates obtaining Certificates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificates of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.
- (vii) Candidates who fail to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners at the Final Examination held in any year will be definitely rejected, and will not be allowed to present themselves for re-examination, unless it shall appear to the Secretary of State in Council, after reference to the Civil Service Commissioners, that such failure is due to circumstances wholly exceptional and beyond the control of the Candidate.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA ;

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE ; AND EASTERN CADETSHIPS.

SYLLABUS SHOWING THE EXTENT OF THE EXAMINATION IN CERTAIN SUBJECTS FOR 1908.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria :

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies).

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated—

1. A.D. 1360 to A.D. 1600.
(1908) [Chaucer to Spenser.]
2. A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1700.
(1909) [Shakespeare to Dryden.]
3. A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800.
(1910) [Pope to Cowper]
4. A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832.

(1911) [Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700 ; all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800 ; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.
